French Claim Rebel Victory
 ALGIERS (AP) - The French today announced they killed 100 rebels and captured large quantities of arms and ammunition in two clashes in eastern Algeria. The clashes occurred late Sunday night and yesterday. The French said one of the rebel bands was intercepted near Khenchela just after it crossed the border from Tunisia into Algeria.

CLIFTON FORGE, Va. (AP) - Marion D. Shaw was successful when he hitchhiked a ride—but it turned out to be a one-way ride back to jail. Shaw slipped out of the jail while it was being cleaned. The next day he was hitchhiking a ride when Game Warden Forest Hanks drove by. Hanks recognized Shaw, picked him up and drove him back to jail.

Ceremonies At Memorial To Mark Lincoln's Birthday

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL
 WASHINGTON (AP) - Chatting and laughing, they come by ones and twos and busloads to the imposing marble memorial to Lincoln. They leave, most of them, solemn and subdued.

Tomorrow, on the 149th anniversary of the birth of a martyred man, special ceremonies will take place at the glistening white memorial beside the Potomac. A presidential wreath will be placed there in honor of the Civil War President.

But day after day, ordinary people by the thousands come to pay their own tributes to Abraham Lincoln. As at no other shrine in the nation's capital, they seem to capture and carry away something of the spirit and character, something of the strength and serenity of the man here honored.

Many of them come for the first time, from over the country and all over the world. Many come again and again.

A middle-aged Washingtonian said: "I don't know how many times I've been here. It gives me a feeling of comfort and peacefulness and confidence. Particularly at night, when those soft lights make him seem so real and close to you."

They turn to the south wall and scan the immortal Gettysburg Address. They read on the north wall Lincoln's second inaugural address, with closing words so applicable to the present: "... Let us strive on... to do all which may achieve and cherish a just and lasting peace among ourselves and with all nations."

The gray-haired Minnesota farm wife remarked softly: "He based his philosophy so much on studies of the Bible." Her husband was jotting down his impressions in a notebook: "The most impressive thing I've seen in Washington."

"I believe he was the greatest man this country ever produced," he said, "because he was humble."

Trooping in a moment later, in orderly pairs, black and white, came a class of first-graders from one of Washington's racially mixed schools.

The young lady from Atlanta, with the thick Georgia drawl, was on her first visit to Washington. Putting her camera aside for a bit, she said: "A lot of us down South think he was a good man. I'm not for slavery, and I think there's a lot of good in what he did. It's for the best."

"I hear they are bringing up civil rights in Congress again," a smiling little Japanese-American first-grader from California knew that Lincoln was the 16th president. He had been begging his mother to bring him to the memorial, ever since they came here two weeks ago.

Softly she read him the inscription above the statue: "In this temple as in the hearts of the people for whom he saved the Union, the memory of Abraham Lincoln is enshrined forever."

Danish Chief Hits Red Plan

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (AP) - Danish Prime Minister H. C. Hansen has challenged Premier Bulganin to include Soviet territory specifically in his proposal for a European zone free of nuclear weapons.

Hansen's reply to Bulganin's letters of Dec. 12 and Jan. 10 was delivered in Moscow yesterday and made public today. The Russian Premier had suggested that the ban on nuclear weapons in Central Europe proposed by Polish Foreign Minister Adam Rapacki be extended to "all northern Europe."

Bulganin specifically mentioned Scandinavia and Finland. Hansen said the proposal merited attention but added, "The Danish government assumes your reference to 'the whole of northern Europe' as a zone free from nuclear weapons to imply that this concept of 'northern Europe' includes those Soviet territories which geographically form a natural part of that area."

GRANDMOTHER BUILDS
 GRANVILLE, Ohio (AP) - If any of her five grandchildren need a home, Mrs. Rachel Ramsay should be able to help. The spry 66-year-old has built two houses herself and a third with help since 1950. She's now remodeling her garage into an addition to her house.

Two Gun Nan, Famed Trick Shot, Recalls Her Past

HOLLYWOOD (AP) - Two Gun Nan, famed trick shot who followed Annie Oakley as the star of Buffalo Bill's Wild West show, has come to town to help film a headline-making episode of her life.

Now 80, Nan Aspinwall Gable will be the subject of a "Death Valley Days" television film based on her exploit of riding a horse all alone from San Francisco to New York in 1910.

It was Col. William Cody, Buffalo Bill himself, who thought up the idea of the cross-country ride. "But then he back-tracked," Nan recalls. "He got scared, and so did my husband. They tried to talk me out of it, but I did it anyhow."

Nan and her husband Frank Gable starred with Buffalo Bill's show all over the world in the early part of the century. When Cody merged his show with Pawnee Bill's Oriental troupe, she doubled as the exotic Princess Omena.

"I was the highest paid star in the troupe at $35 a week each for the Wild West and the Oriental parts of the show," she reminisced.

Her cross-country trip, alone and unprotected, took 180 days riding time. Both Cody and her husband urged her to use a tough mustang for the trip but she insisted on a thoroughbred mare.

"I wanted her because she could step across the ties on railroad trestles. And I didn't want any mustang trampling all over me while I was sleeping on the desert."

Nan, born in New York, grew up on a Montana Indian reservation, where she learned to shoot and rope. Gable was already the star of the Buffalo Bill show when she married him in 1905. He was a trick rider and roper. She retired when he died in 1929 and she now lives in San Bernardino, Calif.

"My part of the act was to stand out in the audience and shoot a cigarette out of my mouth - only we used chalk instead of cigarettes," says Nan.

Her recollection of Buffalo Bill: "He was either cussing out some poor Indian or else making love to some young girl. He was a real ladies' man."

Group Hears AF Officer

Maj. Richard T. Mallon, base executive officer at Kingsley Field, was the guest speaker at a luncheon meeting of the Life Insurance Underwriters Association of Klamath Falls on Friday.

Speaking before more than 20 associate members on the "Impact Kingsley Field will have on Klamath Falls," he stated that after Kingsley Field becomes fully operational, "the estimated monthly military payroll of the airmen at Kingsley Field will be $500,000 a month, or six million dollars per year.

This amount does not include the money that the Air Force will spend for goods and services in the construction and maintenance of the base. When you divide the 30,000 population of Klamath Falls into six million dollars you arrive at a potential added income of almost $204 a year for each inhabitant," he stated.

At the conclusion of his speech, Major Mallon briefly outlined the highlights of the Cordiner Committee Report. This is a report prepared by Ralph J. Cordiner, president of General Electric Corporation, which was recently submitted to Congress calling for the revision of the pay structure of the Armed Forces to eliminate the loss of thousands of highly trained technicians who leave the services each year for higher paying civilian jobs.

Cordiner believes that passage of these recommendations will eliminate this loss, and also provide increased air power at less cost to the American people.

Cadillac

Not His First... But His Finest!

It was more than twenty years ago that he drove his first Cadillac car home—and since then he has re-nacted that event more than a dozen times.

Now here he is—arriving once again with the newest version of the "car of cars". And as often as he has experienced this happy homecoming, he has never found it more satisfying than it is today.

For here, as he has already discovered, is the finest expression yet of all the things a Cadillac can be!

Here, beyond any question, is Cadillac's traditional leadership in styling and in luxury at its emphatic best.

Here, too, is Cadillac's great heritage of fine performance brought to a new high level of perfection.

And here is Cadillac's exclusive Fleetwood coachcrafting... and Cadillac's world-famous value... and Cadillac's great soundness of investment... all advanced in their fullest possible measure.

Certainly then, you owe it to yourself to see and drive this new Standard of the World.

Your dealer will be delighted to arrange for an inspection of your favorite Cadillac—whether it might be the Sixty-Two Coupe or the Eldorado Brougham.
