

Actor Refuses To Conform To Hollywood Way Of Life

By BOB THOMAS
 HOLLYWOOD — A maverick among movie stars is Aldo Ray. The guy simply refuses to conform to the Hollywood way of life. He doesn't go to the fashionable parties, nor to the noted night spots. His favorite hangouts are a couple of off-the-beaten-path taverns.

Matter of fact, he hasn't any. As for the luxurious home—he's currently living in a friend's apartment.

Obviously, Hollywood hasn't changed the free-living, outspoken constable from Crockett (Calif.) in the seven years he has been here. That is a matter of irritation to some people here, notably his boss.

Aldo is employed by Harry Cohn, head of Columbia Pictures and the last tycoon of the movie business. He is the sole remaining studio boss who rules his realm with an absolute and ironclad hand. Naturally, the presence of a rebel like Aldo spelled trouble.

It started after Aldo's first starring film, "The Marring Kind," with Judy Holliday. Aldo had gone all over the country to exploit the film and had overtaxed his expense account by sending home presents to his family and Jeff Donnell, whom he was courting.

"I'll admit I overdid it," said Aldo. "When I got back and went to get my salary check one week, there wasn't any. I was told they were taking the money out of my check for the presents. If they were going to be that way, that was all right with me."

He was earning $200 a week at the time.

He is still working for a three-figure salary, though Columbia racks up $100,000 for loaning him out. His latest service is with RKO for "The Naked and the Dead." It has been over two years since he worked for his own studio.

Nowadays he visits only the mail rooms to pick up personal letters.

"But it will all be over in August," the actor said. "That's the end of my seven-year contract. And what a happy day that will be!"

SLIP OF THE NEEDLE
 DENVER, Colo. — Employees at the Denver Federal Center lined up to receive a flu shot. A line stenographer stepped in a pile of men, held her arm up and promptly fainted. When the girl was revived, the nurse laughed and asked: "Do you have a blue slip?" The stenographer's face reddened. "Oh, my goodness," she said, "what happened to the one I had on?"
