

SNOBOY schoolhouses are featured this week in most of the Klamath Falls markets and will be given away by the stores at the close of the promotion. Valentines Day has been designated as national Apple for the Teacher Day. With wonderful Snoboy Washington apples in such good supply and at a reasonable price, homemakers will do well at this time to include more apples on the menu and in school lunches and for snacktime.

APPLE FOR TEACHER

There has never been a year when apple promotions have been so interesting and such a bargain for the homemaker as they are this year.

Pacific Fruit and Produce Company has brought record shipments of their fine Snoboy apples into Klamath Falls and is sparking the promotions in most of the markets with big displays featuring a cardboard schoolhouse filled with beautiful red apples to highlight Apple for the Teacher Day. The red schoolhouses (ideal playthings for the youngsters) will be given away by the stores at the close of the promotion. The schoolhouses are 28 inches wide by 35 inches long and 32 inches high.

The fourth grade at Fremont School received an extra treat last week when Judy Boyington, daughter of Jack Boyington, salesman for Pacific Fruit in Klamath Falls, presented a big red apple to her teacher, Mrs. C. J. Long. Her father brought along a whole box so the entire class could share in the treat. Even the principal, Lowell Kaup, came in to take part in the fun.

Apples represent about 10 percent of the overall produce volume and for the Valentine Day period, at least, they are getting their share of promotion by the stores. Although Apple for the Teacher Day is February 14, apples are a good buy during this entire season. With Lent starting next Wednesday, there will be more emphasis on simpler meals and usually on simple desserts.

Serve apples.
A perfect TV snack is easily whipped up by arranging fingers of cheese along with unpeeled slices of crisp, juicy apples. Apples, with or without cheese, are a good choice for salad or dessert. They have the added advantage of not needing any dressing or any dunk. They are pretty to look at and good for you and your family.

Piggly Wiggly has a new twist to the Apple for the Teacher promotion. Harold Crooker reports, the store is staging a popularity contest among school students. All students are invited to come in and cast their ballots for their favorite teachers. The teacher who receives the most votes gets a box of Snoboy apples when the votes are tallied on Saturday evening, February 15. The students need not sign their names. Just the teacher's name and the name of the school are required on the ballot. Announcement of the winning teacher will be made next week.

Armenian Favorites

One of the favorite dishes served in Armenian restaurants is a rice pilaff, fragrant with cinnamon, crunchy with slivered almonds and slightly sweetened by the addition of fruit. The rice is delicious as a luncheon dish, served with a salad or, as the Armenians use it, accompanied by cheese heorek, a crispy, delicate cheese-filled turnover.

The old Armenian recipe is a very complicated one, involving all manner of stewing and simmering and mincing and chopping. The recipe has been adapted for today's busy housewife, using a quick brown rice which cooks in 15 minutes as the main ingredient. Aside from its quick cooking qualities, the rice also has a delectable, nut-like flavor which additionally enhances the pilaff.

The cheese beorek is a delightful addition to Lenten meals, or, at other seasons of the year, they may be made with a meat filling. In keeping with the modern feeling for foods with "built-in maid service," the recipe given today uses a pie crust mix. The Armenians call for an extremely flaky puff paste, quite elaborate to prepare.

QUICK BROWN RICE PILAFF
3 cups water
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 12-oz. package quick brown rice
1 8-oz. can crushed pineapple

CHIEF BEOREK
1 package pie crust mix or favorite puff pastry
8 oz. cottage cheese
8 oz. grated muenster cheese
1/2 cup grated Parmesan cheese
1/2 teaspoon salt
Prepare pie crust mix as directed on package. Roll pastry 1/4 inch thick. Cut into 4-inch pieces. Combine remaining ingredients. Mix well. Place approximately 2 tablespoons of filling in corner of each square. Moisten pastry edges with milk; fold corner to opposite corner so edges come together. Firmly seal edges with floured fork. Slit top; or prick with fork. Bake at 375 degrees for 25 minutes. Makes 12-16.

SUNSHINE DRINK

All those pretty vitamins you need for glowing health are readily accessible all year round.

During the late winter months, Del Monte suggests you supplement the vitamins from raw salad vegetables and fruits with Pineapple-Grapefruit Drink which is now on the market in new convenient sizes.

The 46-ounce can was introduced last year. There is now a No. 2 can of Del Monte's Pineapple-Grapefruit Drink which holds two glasses of the delicious fruit drink. A brand new size can, containing six ounces, is being introduced after finding enthusiastic acceptance in other areas. The six-ounce can was made originally for vending machines, which are particularly popular in California. When customers started demanding that size from their grocers, the company put it on the market.

The six ounce can contains just about the same amount as the bottle of soft drink that many lunch-toters buy to go along with their noon sandwich. The fruit drink complements meat or cheese (or any kind) of sandwich and provides a welcome change.

COCKTAIL SPREAD

Combine equal portions of deviled ham and cream cheese moistened to spreading consistency with California Sauterne wine. Serve on paper thin slices of rye bread or crisp crackers.
