

MAN BITES DOG for child will be the theme at the Big Y Market on Saturday, at 4710 South Sixth, with all proceeds going to the March of Dimes campaign. Shown with the "biggest pup in town" are Jack Hinsley, March of Dimes chairman; Ron Phair, member of the United Fund Board and owner, with Dick Howard, of the Big Y Market; Bill Riley, Southern Oregon representative for Maillard and Schmeidell and White Satin sugar, and Doyle Anthony, Klamath Falls manager for Swift and Company. The group of gourmets are standing behind the cotton candy making machine which Ron Phair purchased recently to assist in making more money for drives and campaigns in Klamath Falls. Jet Pups will be on sale (along with coffee and cotton candy) from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Saturday to aid the March of Dimes.

JAMBOREE

All of the proceeds from the Jet Pup sale at the Big Y Market, 4710 South Sixth, on Saturday will go to the March of Dimes campaign.

This will mark the first time Ron Phair has put his cotton candy making machine into operation for a campaign. He purchased it recently so that it may be loaned out to churches, fraternal and youth organizations for carnivals and other types of organizational money making projects.

Dick Howard and Ron Phair also have made available on a loan basis the Big Y's little pony ride and coffee making equipment, as well.

Nearly a dozen Southern Oregon representatives of food companies are getting into the weekend act to promote the sale.

The Swift & Co. premium winners are courtesy of Dick Howard, who operates the Big Y meat department, and Doyle Anthony, local manager for Swift & Company.

The batter for the Jet Pups is made from Albers Cornmeal, distributed in this area by H. D. McMaster who also has Friskies.

Mustard and relish are courtesy of Nalley's, Inc., for whom Ike Lalum is sales representative.

Hod Miller, H. J. Heinz Co. representative, will add the pickles to go with the Jet Pups.

No sandwich is complete without coffee, of course, and MJB Coffee will be served by Jim Whelan, the MJB representative for this area.

Carnation Chocolate Milk will be served the youngsters by Gordon Brattain, the Carnation salesman.

To insure the Jet Pups being properly cooked, Best Foods salad oil will be used—courtesy of Chuck Shepherd, Best Foods salesman.

White Satin Sugar will be used to make the cotton candy and, of course, Bill Riley will be trying to sell more and more cotton candy for the March of Dimes. You'll recognize him, even without his clown suit.

The whole gang invites you out to have an enjoyable snack in a good cause.

As Ron Phair says, "On Saturday, man bites dog for child."

INSTANT COCOA

Look for the bright red package with the familiar Nestle's cup on the label. It is the same wonderful hot chocolate treat you can order at your favorite soda fountain. The instant cocoa contains rich whole milk and can be made quickly by adding hot water or hot skim milk for extra nutrition. Serve Nestle's Ever-Ready Cocoa for a morning wake-upper these cold mornings or for lunch or dinner or an evening snack. Top with plump marshmallows for an extra treat.

KRAUT DINNERS

National Kraut and Frankfurter Week is February 6-15 this year. Never heard of it, before?

Well, it might not be a bad week at that. Here are some of the suggestions from the home economics kitchens of Theodore H. Sills & Company, promoters of the idea.

POTATOES KRAUT-STUFFED

Rub four medium-sized potatoes with a small amount of shortening and bake in 400 degree oven for 50-60 minutes or until done. Cut in half and scoop out the potato. Mash with butter or margarine, milk and salt and pepper. Add a 1-pound can of sauerkraut which you have drained. Blend. Refill potato shells with mixture. Top each with a frankfurter half. Broil 3 or 4 inches from source of heat for 10 to 15 minutes or until thoroughly heated.

RAIL SPLITTER'S KRAUT DINNER

Melt 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, add 1 medium sized onion, sliced, 1 medium sized apple, cored and sliced and saute until tender. Add 1 teaspoon celery seed, 1 teaspoon dry mustard and a 1-pound 11-ounce can of sauerkraut, drained. Mix lightly and turn into lightly greased oven-proof serving platter. Combine 1/4 cup butter or margarine, 1 teaspoon dry mustard and mix well. Add 1 pound frankfurters, cut in half length-wise and cook over low heat 5 minutes or until frankfurters are lightly browned on both sides. Top kraut mixture with frankfurters

HERB BUTTERS

Add a flavor treat to toast sticks served with soups and salads with herb butters. Thyme, oregano and basil are among the favorite flavors. Leftover rolls cut into sticks and toasted make fine accompaniments for soup. When adding dry spices to butter, crush in the palm of your hand—and season with restraint.

and mustard mixture. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees) 45 minutes.

KRAUT ERIN

(Serves four)
Combine 1-pound can undrained sauerkraut, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons coarsely chopped onions, 1/2 cup water and heat to boiling. Add a 10-ounce package of frozen green beans and 4 frankfurters. Cook, covered, 10 minutes or until beans are tender, stirring occasionally.

SAUERKRAUT CONFETTI

(Serves four)
Combine 1-pound can tomatoes, 1-pound can undrained sauerkraut, 1/2 teaspoon caraway seeds, 2 strips bacon, cooked and crumbled. Mix well. Add 2 sliced frankfurters. Simmer 8-10 minutes.

ORIENTAL SAUERKRAUT

(Serves four)
Combine 1-pound can undrained sauerkraut, 4 frankfurters, sliced, 1/2 cup green pepper strips, 1/4 cup chopped onion, 1/2 cup water. Cover; cook over medium heat 10-15 minutes.
