

Ager Enters Election Race

TULELAKE — Earl Ager, a native and lifelong resident of Siskiyou County, announces that he will be a candidate to the post of Siskiyou County supervisor. District No. 1. He is presently filling out the unexpired term of the late Howard Dayton, Tulelake, ending January 1, 1961.

EARL AGER

Ager's name will be on the May 16 election ballot. The district he now represents includes McCloud, Hornbrook, Copco, Beswick, Bogus, Butte Valley and Tulelake and is the largest supervisory district in California.

He has been a resident of Tulelake for 30 years and was the town's first businessman. His family has been identified for three generations with Siskiyou County progress. The onetime town of Ager was named for his grandfather.

Ager has been a president of the Tulelake Chamber of Commerce, was the first president of the Tulelake Rotary Club and for many years was a businessman and farmer. He is not now actively engaged in any business, and plans if elected to devote his entire time to the work of the district.

GRADUATES
WEED—Robert E. Eller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Eller, Gazelle, was one of 250 graduates receiving diplomas in commencement exercises held at San Jose State College the latter part of January. Serving as president of Kappa Tau fraternity his senior year, Eller was also a member of Golden Shovel, advertising club of the college daily. He lettered as a member of the varsity soccer squad and was also on the varsity ski team. Eller majored in business administration.

DEN MOTHER DUTIES are supervisory as demonstrated by Mrs. Wallace Estenson, 3004 Boardman Street, who is den mother for Den 1, Pack 8. These projects started by the boys in the den will be completed at home, usually with the aid of the parents. A mother of three boys and a girl, Mrs. Estenson became interested in Cub Scouting a year ago when two of her boys entered the organization and another den mother was needed in the neighborhood. A United Fund organization, the Boy Scouts of America and observance of Boy Scout Week and the 48th birthday of the organization February 13.

Busy Mother Takes Time To Lead Cub Scout Pack

Editor's note: This is the second of two articles highlighting the 48th anniversary of the Boy Scouts during Boy Scout Week which ends today.

"I love it. I can't say it's all roses, but there is something so gratifying about being a den mother," said Mrs. Wallace Estenson, 3004 Boardman Street, who is the den mother of den one pack eight. "It all started about a year ago when the Cub Scouts told me that they needed a new den mother in this neighborhood. I didn't think I could do it, with having four children, but since my two boys were cubs at the time, I tried it and I like it."

In her short time as den mother, Mrs. Estenson is proudest of the den house, built by the boys in the Estenson backyard.

"My husband told the boys that they couldn't build a shack that we could tear down and they didn't. I guess the most gratifying thing is the way several companies donated lumber and materials. I went out to one firm and asked them for some scraps and they took some No. 1 stock off the racks and gave it to me."

She went on to explain that the den mother's home is the site of weekly meetings at which the boys are encouraged to make things and learn to get along together.

Mrs. Estenson said that as den mother she germinates an idea and then the boys finish the project at home. Another thing that is done at home is grading the boys' work books by the parents.

"The parents are all good about this," she said. "I don't believe that there is any 'fudging' going on." She added that cubbing, more than any of the other scout organizations brings the family together.

She reiterated, saying that when these projects are taken home for completion, the parents usually help or when the boys have passed their tests, their books must be signed by parents.

"As far as work goes," she continued, "we're never at a loss what our project is going to be. Cubbing works on a monthly basis," she explained. She added that project work is always in keeping with that theme. "This month's theme is a blue and gold banquet to commemorate the anniversary of the Boy Scouts."

She concluded by adding that she hopes to continue for many more years in Cub Scouting, an activity that has given her many hours of pleasure.

Official Reports

NEW YORK — Comptroller Lawrence E. Gerosa said today that tax returns indicate cigarette smoking is increasing in New York City.

The penny-a-pack cigarette tax will produce revenues to the city of $10,200,000 in the current fiscal year ending June 30—an increase of about $300,000 over the past fiscal year — according to his estimate.

The figures were included in a lengthy report by Gerosa on city finances.

4-H Leaders Attend Session

The 4-H Leader's Training Group met recently at the fairgrounds.

Francis Skinner gave an individual demonstration of a rope halter and Skinner and Lillian Hoffman gave team demonstrations of success in measuring. Skinner also discussed rules and types of demonstrations available for the spring fair. Each club at the fair is entitled to one individual and one team.

Any community wishing a demonstration workshop, contact the 4-H Club before March 29. Demonstration Day at the fairgrounds.
