Oregon Tech's Owls close out their 1957-58 basketball season at home Friday and Saturday and with the final play of the year OTI will be bidding farewell to two boys who have done a great deal for the betterment of the school and its athletic program.

Finishing up their four years of eligibility this weekend will be John McCutcheon and Jerry Fasten who enrolled at Oregon Tech in the fall of 1954. Since that time John and Jerry have lettered every year as members of the Owls basketball squad.

McCutcheon is the "unsung" standout for the Owls this year as in the past. He is the driver behind the success being enjoyed by coach Wally Palmberg's club. John directs the Owls tough zone defense and figures as a top playmaker when the Mile High Camels club is on offense.

Both McCutcheon and Fasten were named to the all-conference team last year. In his sophomore season (1955-56), Jerry was selected to the All-Western Regional Junior College All-Star team after the Owls had entered in the regional JC tournament in Ogden, Utah. Both boys should be included somewhere in the all-conference balloting again this season.

McCutcheon played his prep basketball at Willamette High of Eugene and Fasten played at Burns.

Besides McCutcheon and Fasten, Palmberg will also be losing John Rhine, Truman Williams and Rod Alessio, three junior college transfers who are completing their second year at Oregon Tech.

Just how quick a two-team race can go to the dogs can be seen by looking back to the Portland State-Southern Oregon basketball series last weekend.

Southern Oregon had the opportunity to move to within a few percentage points of the league-leading OTI Owls by winning both games at Portland last Friday and Saturday and make tonight's game between OTI and SOC the showdown of all showdowns. But the Raiders stumbled twice before the Vikings and all but eliminated themselves from the conference championship race.

SOC can whip OTI tonight and still be left on the outside looking in since the Owls need just one more win to clinch the clear-cut title. The best SOC can hope for is a co-championship and Oregon College would have to spill the Owls twice for this to happen should the Raiders get over Oregon Tech tonight at Ashland.

Up to the Portland State series, Southern Oregon was fighting the Oregon Tech club on very even terms for the OCC throne. SOC and Portland State will represent the Oregon Collegiate Conference in the regional NAIA (small college) tournament next month. Since Oregon Tech is not a NAIA member the Owls are not eligible to compete even though they are the rightful representatives from the OCC.

Tech has dropped all junior college affiliations and is now in the process of becoming a full-fledged four-year school eligible for post-season basketball and baseball tournaments and football games.

The large independent colleges up and down the Pacific Coast may be in for a boom in basketball talent in the next few years. With the Pacific Coast Conference fathers tightening up the scholastic requirements in the PCC schools, some of the cream of the talent bucket will be heading toward the independents where the entrance requirements are not quite so high.

Portland University has boosted its stock in basketball with the addition of former Oregon prep star, Bjorne Jensen and a few other skyscrapers this year. Could be that the Pilots are trying to displace Seattle U. as the Pacific Northwest's independent power. With Elgin Baylor only having one more year at Seattle, the Chieftains' time may be running out.

San Francisco is still the coast's number one basketball power independent or otherwise. Thanks to fellows like Bill Russell and Casey Jones, coach Phil Woolpert has quite a calling card to present on behalf of USF.

Campy Awaits Official Word

GLEN COVE, N.Y. (UP)—The baseball world will receive the first "official" word on Roy Campanella's future today — and the news doesn't promise to be good.

Dr. Robert W. Sengstacken, the neurosurgeon who operated on the Los Angeles Dodgers' catcher after he suffered a broken neck in an auto accident Jan. 28, said he will issue "a complete report" that probably will indicate whether Campanella ever will walk again.

Dr. Sengstacken gave no hint of the details in the report but he previously had said Campanella's chances of walking again were "slim" and he has not contradicted that statement since.

"The bulletin that will be issued today will be a complete appraisal of Roy's condition and progress since he entered the hospital three weeks ago," the surgeon said.

Campanella has had no visitors other than members of his immediate family from the time he entered Community Hospital here shortly after he suffered his injury.

Wolpack Clubbed By Rivals

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Maybe those North Carolina Tar Heels, defending NCAA champs in major college basketball, aren't dead after all.

After playing only 500 ball in eight games—and tumbling to 16th in the week's Associated Press rankings—the Tar Heels perked up and smacked old rival North Carolina State, ranked No. 9, 81-69 last night in the Wolfpack lair.

It could be the turning point for the Tar Heels, who can still grab a return berth in the NCAA playoffs by winning next month's Atlantic Coast Conference tournament.

North Carolina, now 16-5 overall and 9-3 in the ACC, took second place behind Duke, seventh-ranked Duke in the conference while N.C. State (15-5) slipped to fourth at 9-4. Maryland, rated 14th moved into third with an 8-3 ACC record by smacking Virginia 69-56.

Tennessee, (No. 20) came on in the second half for an 84-65 victory over Georgia Tech that gained a second-place tie in the Southeastern Conference with Duke and Alabama.

Texas Tech gained a first-place tie with Duke Arkansas in the Southwest by whipping Texas 93-66, and Southern Methodist joined Rice in the 12th place by defeating the Owls 70-59. Last-place Baylor knocked off once-hopeful Texas Christian 76-64.

North Carolina, which had split two earlier games with the Wolfpack, won this one from the field. Outshot 25-22 from the field, the Tar Heels canned 37 of 46 free throws, with Pete Brennan hitting 18 of 20 and taking scoring honors with 32 points.

Maryland (15-4) missed its first seven shots from the field and trailed 10-0, but had a 36-24 half-time bulge and wound up with a 400 shooting mark. Tom Young was high scorer with 19 points.

Record Falls In Celtic Win

By UNITED PRESS

Glue-fingered Bill Russell of the Boston Celtics is the new rebound champion of the National Basketball Association.

The six-foot, 10-inch Celtic center shattered the single season record for most rebounds while helping Boston to a 113-111 victory over the New York Knicks on Tuesday night.

Russell grabbed 25 rebounds against the Knicks to increase his total to 1,280 in 58 games this season. Maurice Stokes of Cincinnati set the old record with Rochester when he totaled 1,256 in 70 games last season.

A 48-point performance by George Yardley helped the Detroit Pistons snap a three-game home losing streak with a 120-98 triumph over the Syracuse Nationals.

Although he sat out practically the entire last quarter, Bob Pettit netted 33 points in leading the St. Louis Hawks to a 118-98 win over the Minneapolis Lakers.

Mate Found For Hungarian

NEW YORK (UP)—It's mighty lonesome out there on the track running against a bunch of guys who talk another language, and the spectators are howling and the cigarette smoke is hanging low.

That's when you pine for a countryman who might have a few encouraging words.

That's when Istvan Rozsavolgyi of Hungary looks around and finds all his mile rivals talking away in English. Ah, but for a Hungarian, he murmurs.

Presto, what does the AAU do but go out and find another Hungarian miler, who will keep Rozsavolgyi company as he whirls around the Madison Square Garden track against Ron Delany and Co. Saturday.

Almost hidden at Kent State University in Kent, Ohio, is Andy Bajcsa, 21, a medical student, who ran a 4:06.9 mile before leaving Hungary. Quicker than you can say "Rozsavolgyi," Dan Ferris of the AAU signed him today.

So now, Rozsavolgyi, who holds the world's records at 1,000, 1,500 and 2,000 meters will have company.

Actually, the two are acquainted, both having run for the same club in Budapest under the coaching of Mihaly Igloi. Last year as a freshman, Bajcsa ran the mile in 4:14 and the two-mile in 9:01.2. The latter, especially, is a spectacular performance for a freshman anywhere.

"He's a smart boy and keeps a B average, despite the fact that he is new to the English language," said his Kent State coach, Jay Fischer, by phone. "He can't wait to meet Rozsavolgyi again."

The woman who had been driving walked up to the former New Yorker, shook her finger and said: "I shouldn't even talk to you fellows. Since you and the Dodgers left town, my family is splitting up. My son is going to Los Angeles to live and my husband wants to go to San Francisco."

TIME OUT

... and in view of said student body's unsportsmanlike conduct do hereby tender my resignation as football coach!"

Grant Snares Tourney Spot

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Grant of Portland Tuesday night rolled into a berth in the Oregon Prep A-1 basketball tournament by defeating Cleveland, 64-49.

Grant, the No. 2 team in the Associated Press poll, thus became the sixth team to clinch a berth in the prep tourney.

Only one other team in the poll's top 10 saw action Tuesday night. Eighth-ranked Roosevelt clipped Wilson, 51-40.

The victory kept Roosevelt in the running for the remaining two A-1 tourney positions that will be given Portland League teams.

The other squads still in contention are Jefferson, a 55-41 victory over Lincoln, and Franklin, which downed Benson, 83-67.

Other teams which have clinched tourney positions are Klamath Falls, North Salem, Pendleton, Bend and Astoria.

McMullin Talk Of Golf Tour

HOUSTON (P)—Young John McMullin was the talk of the winter golf tour today in advance of tomorrow's opening of the $30,000 Houston Classic Tournament.

McMullin, 22, won qualifying round medalist honors a second straight week yesterday, turning in a 69 in the cold and wind on the 7,200-yard, par-72 Memorial Park course. A week earlier a 67 had given him medalist honors at San Antonio's Texas Open.

A score of 75 was needed to gain the first round for the 72-hole tournament. Only 49 from a field of 124 qualified. They join 85 exempt players to bring tomorrow's starting field to 134.

The 134 include all but five of last year's top 60 money winners. Billy Casper, second leading money winner of the current tour, telephoned his withdrawal because of a virus infection. Others who will not be here are Sammy Snead, Cary Middlecott, Bob Inman and Jerry Barber.

McMullin, playing out of Fair Oaks, Calif., did not finish in the money at San Antonio. He picked up $350 for third place in the Phoenix Open.

Don January of Dallas took top money a month exempt players participating in a pair of $2,500 pro-amateur meets.

January had a 4-under 68 over the 6,710-yard, par 72 Pine Forest Country Club course and won $250. He picked up another $75 for a third-place, four-ball 64 while teaming with three Houston businessmen.

A three-way tie at 69 gave $208.33 each to Leo Biagetti of Ohio, Paul O'Leary, Wichita, Kan., and Jerry Magee, Toronto, Canada, as leaders over the 6,176-yard, par-70 Golfcrest Country Club layout.

Fans Blast Lane's Trade

CLEVELAND (P)—General Manager Frank Lane of the Cleveland Indians was undaunted today by the reaction of irate fans to his trade of popular catcher Jim Hegan to the Detroit Tigers.

Hegan, a member of the Tribe since 1941, was sent to the Tigers in a four-player, no-money trade which Lane said was designed to bring more youth into the wigm.

Detroit gave the Indians J. W. Porter, 25, a promising catcher, and Harold Woodeshick, a 25-year-old southpaw, in exchange for Hegan and southpaw Hank Aguirre.

A few fans called the ball club office and vowed not to attend a baseball game here this season.

Lane's comment was that he would be more popular in Cleveland if the Indians win ball games than he would by running "an old folk club."

"Any time I have the opportunity to trade a 39-year-old catcher for a 25-year-old catcher with great potential, I have to make the deal despite what people say," he said.

Hegan, who will be 38 in August, was upset by the deal.

"I hate to leave after all these years," he said. "It has been such a long time. My home is here and everything."

"If it's any consolation, I'm glad I'm going to Detroit. It's a nice place to play and it's a promising club. But I'm still going to miss the Indians."

Ammerman Preps Henley For Tourney

By WAYNE SCOTT
Herald-News Sports Writer

Ted Ammerman, the big jovial coach at Henley High who directs the school's football, basketball, track and wrestling teams in addition to teaching world geography and physical education, sometimes wishes "we were just a little closer to another A-2 school."

During his first coaching job, at Surprise Valley High School in Northern California, Ted played on the Alturas AAU basketball team using with a bachelor of arts degree rolled up an impressive record in football, basketball, track and baseball.

In the Rocky Mountain Conference Ammerman was an all-conference end two years in a row and collected Little All-America honors his senior year.

Ammerman and his basketball team are currently prepping for the annual Rogue League tourney to be held February 27, 28 and March 1, at Southern Oregon College.

According to the 6 feet 2, 240 pound Hornet mentor, "it would have been nice to have played some of our league competition during the season, but we are not letting it bother us. I have scouted some of them, and if our boys continue the way they are going we will pick up the marbles just the same."

Big Ted and his "tall Texan" wife, Bethel, whom he met in college, are the proud parents of a 2-month old son Dirk, who by Ted's own admission is "no trouble." Or as his wife says "I wish Ted could be home more often."

Born in Palisade, Colorado, April 20, 1933, Ted finished high school in Rifle, a nearby town, then attended college of Western State, in Gunnison, Colorado. Before graduate in physical education, he made the all-America third team in so doing.

Ted, in his first year as coach at Henley, has a pair of hobbies, skiing and flying, that can pay-off for him. He is presently busy in his spare time as a ski instructor in Northern California. His summer plans, after he gets his master's degree, may include going to Alaska, where he will fly for the Department of the Interior.

Mrs. Ammerman, an avid sport's fan herself, is taking skiing and flying lessons from her husband. They have their own airplane and she is doing fine, according to Ted, although "she won't take off or land it yet, but it won't be long."

Big Bill Santo was high-man for the Wildcats with 14 tallies, while playmaker Jerry Patzke was high for the Bobcats with 12.

Oregon College Upsets PSC Viks

MONMOUTH, Ore. (P)—Oregon College of Education grabbed an early lead Tuesday night and then hung on for an upset, 57-43 Oregon Collegiate Conference basketball victory over Portland State.

It was the first victory in the last 20 games for OCE, which now sports a 1-12 conference record. OCE took an early 8-4 lead and held a 27-18 intermission advantage. Gary Milton and Bill Goodman got 13 points apiece for the winners while John Winters got 12 for Portland State.

Moyer, Fuller May Mix In Ring

PORTLAND, Ore. (P)—A bout between former middleweight boxing champion Gene Fuller and Portland middleweight Phil Moyer will be staged here April 3 if both fighters win their next bouts, promoter Tommy Moyer said Tuesday.

Moyer, uncle of the young Portland fighter, said Fuller's manager Mary Jensen, had tentative agreement to the fight.

The bout would be held, Moyer said, if Fuller makes the March 3 fight with Milo Savage at Salt Lake City and if his nephew wins over Pedro Gonzales here Thursday.

OREGON TECH'S TWO leading rebounders, Truman Williams, right, and Charlie Bogle, left, point out positions under the backboards which they hope to control tonight when the Owls meet Southern Oregon College at Ashland. Both boys are currently tied with 166 rebounds in conference play — high for the league — and want each other to stay on his own side of the basket as they playfully discuss tonight's game.

KU Wildcats Trip Bly 51-49

In a thrilling, down-to-the-wire finish Tuesday night at Pelican court the Klamath Union Wildcats slipped by the Bly Bobcats 51-49 after tying the count at 49 all in the last half minute of play.

Bobcat coach Charles Samples used his reserves frequently as his club managed to stay within range of the KU eagles through most of the game after overcoming an early 12 point bulge. The halftime count was 28-18.

Owls, Raiders Clash Tonight

Oregon Tech's Owls and Southern Oregon's Red Raiders clash tonight at Ashland in a game that has been billed as the Oregon Collegiate Conference's "blood bath" of the season.

Game time is 8 p.m. Radio Station KFLY with Floyd Wynne handling the play-by-play will broadcast the game starting at 7:35. The Owls and Raiders have built a bitter rivalry over the past few years and with the OTI quiet holding a 2-1 edge in this year's play, coach Ted Schopf's Raiders will be out to even the count up. This is the final OCC action of the year for SOC.

Coach Wally Palmberg's OTI Owls can clinch an outright conference championship by beating the Raiders. The Owls need just one win in their three remaining games to sew up their second straight OCC crown.

Palmberg reported his team in good health with the exception of 6-3 center Charlie Bogle who was hit earlier this week with an attack of flu. Bogle is expected to start, but may see only limited action. Truman Williams, John McCutcheon, John Rhine and Jerry Fasten will be the other probable starters for OTI.

The Owls return home Friday and Saturday to close out their 1957-58 basketball season in a pair of conference games with the last-place Oregon College of Education Wolves.

Comiskey Says Hose To Unseat NY Yanks

CHICAGO (UP)—Vice President, Chuck Comiskey of the Chicago White Sox predicted the 1958 American League pennant for his team today because "Detroit and Baltimore and Chicago are going to win more games, so the New York Yankees won't win as many."

Comiskey, on the eve of the departure of his ball club for training camp, said the White Sox would be "8 to 10 games better than last year."

Thus, he expected the team to win between 98 and 100 games, compared to the 90 collected by the 1957 team, and he anticipated that would be more victories than the Yankees could garner. New York last season won 98 games.

CLOSER RACE

"This is going to be a closer race," Comiskey said. "It won't take as many wins as before to win the pennant. I think we'll win more games than we did and the Yankees won't win as many, so I think we can win it."

Comiskey believed the White Sox, who made two major off-season trades, had improved its pitching staff, which he rated 60 per cent of winning baseball, while "hurting" no more than one position, center field.

"I don't know that we hurt center field," he said, speaking of the deal sending Larry Doby to Baltimore, "with Jim Landis and Bubba Phillips available to play there. At least we didn't hurt it defensively."

Boosters Slate Dinner, Movie

Tonight at 7 o'clock in the high school cafeteria, the Pelican Booster Club will host Baseline sport fans with a spaghetti dinner to be followed by color film of the Rose Bowl game between Oregon and Ohio State.

The Klamath Union Pelican basketball team will be guests of the club. The affair is sponsored by the club as one of the highlights of its season's activities.

Admission is $1.25 per person and tickets may be purchased at Hall's Sport Shop, Herman's Mens Store or at the door.

Pel Jayvees, Frosh Victors

The Klamath Union High School Junior Varsity broke a halftime tie Tuesday night at Oregon Tech and went on to post a 54-47 victory over the Chiloquin Panthers of the County B League.

In the preliminary game, the KU frosh notched a 33-30 win over the Chiloquin Bees. The frosh held a 20-12 halftime lead. Rich Dewey led the winners with nine points. Chiloquin's Lyle Hall was high for the game with 10.

The Pelican Jayvees led through most of the first half only to have the Panthers take a 19-27 lead in the last 30 seconds of the half. But Bob Lewis tied the count for the Jayvees with a basket just before the intermission horn sounded leaving the score tied at 29-all.

Coach Dean White's Jayvees grabbed an early third-quarter lead and maintained control of the game the rest of the way.

Chiloquin's Steve Pope was high for the game with 22 points and Mike Ravizza added 14 to the losers cause. High for the Jayvees were Bob Drape and Dean Dunson with 12 and 10 respectively.

Summary:

CHILQUIN (47) — Parazo 2, Hoggarth 3, Pope 22, Ochoa 8, Ravizza 14, Hesseck.

KU JAYVEES (54) — Hall 3, Dunson 10, Drape 13, Bishop 6, Dave Delap 6, Don Delap 9, Binney 2, Lewis 7, Griggs, Santo.
