

WB Explains Eastern Cold

WASHINGTON (AP)—A shift in the jet stream—not really unusual—is the Weather Bureau's explanation of what's causing extreme cold over the Eastern two-thirds of the country, while the Far West enjoys a relative warm spell.

There's no real hope for warm weather for much of the Eastern area for the next 30 days.

The jet stream over the United States is also known as "the prevailing westerlies"—the normally west-to-east wind currents of the upper air at about 10,000 to 40,000 feet. But it seems these winds have become northerlies, blowing north to south over the central part of the country.

About this time of year, cold arctic air builds up over Canada. Normally, this icy air would be pushed out to the Atlantic by the westerlies without too much trouble.

But now, there's a neat ridge on which the cold air can slide right down through the Plains states to Florida and the Gulf, bringing the freezing temperatures.

On the fringes of this cold air mass, low pressures or stormy areas develop such as the one that dumped huge amounts of snow along the Atlantic Coast last Friday through Monday.

While the arctic air has been sliding down the north-south air ridge, west of the Rockies warm air is being forced up from the south and southwest to fill in a trough there.

Usually this jet stream shift occurs a few times every winter. But it has been worse this year and of longer duration.

Former Silent Screen Star To Appear On TV Program

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Blanche Sweet, once a movie goddess of the highest order and now a clerk in a department store, will make her first appearance before a Hollywood camera in nearly three decades tonight.

The celebrated blonde heroine of the silent screen will return as a bit player in a nationally televised drama, "Secret Love of Johnny Spain," on the CBS Climax show. She says this first step away

Meeting Set By Cattlemen

The Klamath Cattlemen's Association will hold its annual meeting Saturday at 1:30 p. m. in the Willard Hotel. The meeting will be open to everyone interested in beef production. The Cow Belles will hold a tea on the same day at the home of Mrs. Irwin Campbell on the Lakeview Highway from 2 until 4 p. m. Late the two groups will join for a social hour and banquet at 6 p. m. in the Willard.

Highlighting the cattlemen's meeting will be an address by George Russell, president of the Oregon Cattlemen's Association. Ed Coles, secretary of the state organization, will discuss the recent reduction of freight rates on west-bound dressed meat. This highly controversial Interstate Commerce Commission decision is being actively opposed by western cattlemen and Coles will report on the progress being made to obtain a reversal of the grant.

M. E. Knickerbocker, head of the Oregon State Department of Agriculture Department's Animal Industries Division, will offer an analysis of the new Livestock District Law which was revised by the last State Legislature. He is expected to report on the brucellosis control program as well. Other problems to be discussed, according to president of the Klamath Cattlemen's Association B. H. Marshall, will be taken up as they are presented from the floor.

Reservations for the banquet should be made as soon as possible with Ray Peterson in the County Agent's Office in the Federal Building.

Integration Block Sought

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—A group of business and civic leaders yesterday asked the Little Rock school board to seek a stay in a federal court's order for integration of Central High School.

If such a stay is granted, it apparently would mean withdrawal of eight Negro pupils now attending the big school which has been the center of an integration dispute since last September.

The 24-man committee of citizens did not indicate whether it wanted the stay to be temporary or permanent.

Specifically, the group asked the school board to petition U. S. District Court "for a stay of compliance with the adopted schedule of integration."

In a letter to the board, the committee said that "in the light of our experiences of the past several months," the school board's plan of gradual integration at Little Rock should have further court review.

This obviously referred to a series of clashes between white and Negro students at Central High. Several white students have been suspended. Minnie Jean Brown, one of the nine Negroes who started attending Central High Sept. 25 under federal troop protection, has been expelled for the rest of this semester.

Gov. Orval Faubus, informed of the group's letter, said its contents sounded "pretty much in conformity with what I have urged in the past. I think it is a very good statement."

School Superintendent Virgil Blossom said he saw nothing wrong with the group's suggestion for going back into federal court. Wayne Upton, president of the school board, declined comment.

President's Program Hit

NEW YORK (AP)—President Eisenhower's anti-recession program is a sham that "really amounts to little more than a handout to business and to bankers in particular," Sen. Morse (D-Ore) said Wednesday night.

Morse told the National Democratic Club here that "it would be hard to imagine a program that would do more good for a few bankers and less good for the nation's economy."

The senator said this nation "does need public works to offset unemployment and an ominous economic decline."

"But it does not need bankers' boondoggles," he said. "The economy needs useful public works. It needs construction financed in such a way that the expenditure goes for construction and not for interest."

Morse was critical of the administration's plan to rent buildings rather than purchase them under a proposed two-billion dollar post office construction program. "The interest rate right now for construction loans is just under five per cent," Morse said. "At the end of 30 years, half the government's money—the taxpayers' money—will have gone for interest to bankers and there will be no property or buildings to show for it if this administration plan is put into effect."

COLD HITS ZOO

NEW YORK (UP)—Seven deer and more than a dozen ducks, pigeons and other birds have died during seven days of cold, snow and high winds at the Bronx Zoo, officials disclosed Wednesday.

"The storm and cold has done more harm to animals in the zoo than any other winter in 25 years," William Bridges, curator of publications at the Zoological Gardens, reported.

Happy Birthday, George! We cannot tell a lie, either.

It's a REVOLUTION IN THE SPIRIT OF 1776

Honestly George, we're celebrating one day early this year — your birthday is on Saturday, and truthfully we're too busy on Saturdays to have just fun!

— Remnants of battle on sale Saturday as well —

Our history buyer had her head in a fox hole and forgot to give some happy Santa to these hose. All bedecked with gay tinsel seams. Wear them then decorate your tree next December in the spirit of Christmas. 36c each.

Since 1776, our population grows by leaps and bounds, and we stocked enough nursing bras to supply the nation. The elastic alone would make good sling shots. Please come, take two at a time and leave just 76c.

This ballerina wedding gown looks like it attended Shakespeare's original Romeo and Juliet. Take it to the cleaners, and live happily ever after... honestly, it's worth $49.95. Take it away in the spirit of 1776.

These sleeveless Spring Maternity tops look like they have been through nine months at Valley Forge. Don't wait for July — we want to bid them good-bye. Real cool at this price 1.76.

These Valentine hankies have been through the heart of battle. No one but our buyer liked these, but they might make a nice napkin for a Boston Tea Party. Raid us for these. 17c.

Cotton housegowns... these were real stubborn at 9.98. They must like hanging around at LA POINTE'S. Take them away 3.76.

You too could swim the Delaware in February in one of these red-hot bargain swim suits. Wear them over long, red underwear, but don't miss this chance to get in the swim of the battle of the Bulge. Spirit them away at 4.76.

You think the winter at Valley Forge was cold? Then think of these suffering dresses—they always got a cold shoulder. Maybe you will warm up to them at this price. A whale of a buy! Only 3.00.

When we bought them, these designer dresses were out of this world... should be 49.95. Now we wish they were orbiting. Marked for a quick take-off, only 17.76.

Some kick up your heels because the shoe gang is cleaning their soles. They're giving these 12.95 to 17.95 shoes a 5.76 price.

No one bought these 14 coats at $49.00 and $59.00. Truthfully, they still look good to us. We just don't know why you didn't buy them. A word to the wise: It's really a Revolution at 17.76.

Our display department borrowed enough white gloves that are now moussy grey to clothe the entire army. Priced in the Revolutionary Spirit of 76c a Pair.

The designers would chop us down if they knew we still had these artistic suits. Each one was over $100.00 — paint the town cherry red at 39.76.

Our department borrowed enough white gloves that are now moussy grey to clothe the entire army. Priced in the Revolutionary Spirit of 76c a Pair.

These have but one life to give to their country — and will add a lot of life to your wardrobe. Jewelry pieces formerly to $5.00 — take them away (plus tax) just... 2 for 76c.

George Washington slept here in these cozy nylon baby doll pajamas and come take them off our hands. 2.76.

We're really flush with too much ski wear and it's driving us crazy. Parkas, pants, take them... we're losing our shirts. Deal us just 7.76.

Four score and seven years ago, our buyer brought forth upon this continent... these blouses, and they are still here—very special for antique collectors for one honest 1.00.

We cannot tell a lie... 100% wool pre-teen coats... values to 29.98, now 9.76. Girl's broken sizes 7-14 and 3-6x, values to 24.98, now 7.76. Dresses and skirts, values to 8.98, now 2.76 and 3.76.

USE LaPointe's REVOLVING CHARGE PLAN

Join the revolution celebration! Look for special tickets and balloons throughout the store!

We have taken the hatchet to LA POINTE'S already low prices... come join us in this history making George Washington's Birthday Celebration... Just say Charge! Use LA POINTE'S Revolving Charge Plan!
