KASRU Conducts Crab Feed Event

Over 100 aviation enthusiasts, members of the Klamath Air Search and Rescue Unit, were present for KASRU's first annual crab feed, Wednesday, February 19, at the pilot's lounge at Kingsley Field.

Fritz Markwardt, Chiloquin, president, expressed appreciation to those who made the dinner possible, among them Ed and Clea Scholer, Orville and Doreen London, Rex Morehouse, Lester Liston, Cecil Fitzgerald, John Ritterrath, Bob Nelson, Albert Stiles and Bud Cloake.

Many persons not actively associated with any flying group but who are interested in aviation were present.

The next meeting, March 5 at 8 p.m. in the pilot's lounge, is an important one with election of officers on the agenda. Everyone interested is welcome.
