

HER HOBBY has led to hours of research in the field of "dolls." Mrs. Glenn Johnck, pictured above with part of her large and outstanding collection of dolls, many of them made entirely by her. Ranging in size from tall almost life-size to one inch . . . they are as varied in type, and Mrs. Johnck as a painstaking hobbyist strives for absolute authenticity in their dress. The fascinating display included miniature settings with furniture made to scale.

SOME HOBBIES grow from avocations into vocations or professional careers. Mrs. Walter Brown, shown at the left, with one of her paintings, is established as a professional artist . . . and a hobby . . . drawing for pleasure . . . started it all.

Next to the picture at the right is Mrs. W. H. Graham, and far right, Mrs. Robert Cuendet, who stopped to admire Mrs. Brown's entry. Mrs. Graham's hat is really quite simple . . . the apparently startling embellishment was unintentionally added by the photographer.

Variety is the spice of life and it pays to change pace, at work or play. Follow mental work with some physical exercise or vice versa. If you are becoming more bored with life each day, chances are you need to break the routine you've set for yourself. Do something different for once and you will find it refreshing.

A COLLECTION OF CHAPEAUX displayed by Mrs. George Roberts represents her hobby, millinery. The brightly-hued bonnets share the picture with sculpture, ceramic, silk screening and other hobby entries at the Library Club show.

MRS. GEORGE McMICHAEL, whose hobby is china painting, is shown above with some colorful hand painted samples of her avocation.

Spring Dance Slated by Sojourners For March 8 At Willard

Sojourners and their guests will be transported from the local March weather to a tropical climate of "A Night in the South Pacific" when they attend the annual spring dinner dance on Saturday, March 8, in the Pine Grove Room of the Willard Hotel.

Kanes, wahines (natives), beachcombers and malahines (tourists) will assemble at the crossroads of the Pacific at 8 p.m. for the cocktail hour. Hors d'oeuvres and other refreshments will be served at the grass shack with famous Hawaiian hospitality dominating the atmosphere.

Dancing "under the stars" will be to the exotic strains of LaMar Jensen's Pupule Kanes. (Combo: free translation of the Polynesian) combers may also be glimpsed in the melting pot.

There are some surprises being planned by way of added entertainment among which is an "unreasonable" facsimile of the famous Hilo Hattie.

Mrs. George Ashbaugh, president, has appointed Mrs. Vernon Neet general chairman of the dinner dance with the following committee members: Mrs. George Callison and Mrs. Thell Rea, decorations and invitations; Mrs. Eugene Jackson, program; Mrs. Edward Brotherhood, publicity; and Mrs. H. R. Stokes, reservations. For further information call Mrs. Stokes at TU 2-2612.
