TULELAKE—Four Tulelake High School students have been named as winners in the 1958 Bank of America achievement award program. Selected are Steve Rudesill, in the field of mathematics and science, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Rudesill; Elizabeth Giles, liberal arts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Giles; Sandra Perry, vocational arts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Perry; and Michael Adams, fine arts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eddie T. Adams.

E. L. Coynes, high school principal, in announcing the winners, said the program calls for further are-wide evaluation which could result in individual prizes up to $1,000 this spring.

Superior records throughout their high school careers determined the selections with major emphasis on scholarship, extracurricular endeavor and prospects for future contributions to mankind. An engraved trophy went to Steve, certificates of merit to the other three winners. First place winners in each of the four major fields, fine arts, liberal arts, vocational arts and science-mathematics will qualify automatically for one of two Northern California finals. Each is assured of at least $100 in cash and may receive as much as $1,000. Winners of second and third places at the zone events in each of the four fields will receive $50 and $25 respectively. Plaque winners will go through additional screening to determine who will advance to zone competition on April 24. Finals will be in San Francisco in May.

A GOOD REASON

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Members of the congregation at Calvary Lutheran Church were agitated when they observed organist A. C. Schwark hounding around on his bench while playing solemn hymns. Later Schwark explained a squirrel had been hiding in the organ and started running up his pants leg when the music started.

Malin P-P Holds Meet

MALIN—Malin Parents and Patrons met Tuesday evening, February 18, in the grade school gym with President Mrs. Frances Kalina presiding. Scouting was the theme of the evening's program with Charles Hale in charge.

The Cub Scouts opened and closed the meeting, presenting the flag and leading the flag salute. Hale gave a brief history of scouting and mentioned that the three phases of scouting, Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts and Explorer Scouts, are functioning in Malin, but that adult help is needed in all phases of the scouting program. Explorer Scouts Edwin Stasny and Stan Petrask showed colored slides taken at the Boy Scout Jamboree in Valley Forge last summer, including slides taken by Edwin at the World Jamboree he attended in England.

Renewal to the National Geographic magazine subscription has been made with the magazine to be available in the library. Mrs. Kalina announced that applications for the Parents and Patrons scholarship can be made any time now. The scholarship is offered to second year college students taking teacher education.

Those on the nominating committee for next year's officers are Marie Bunnell, Florence Wilson and Frances Kalina. Because of spring vacation there will be no March meeting and the Junior and senior high school speech contestants will give the program at the April meeting. Following the meeting refreshments were served by the third grade mothers.

Pelton Dam Plan Blasted By Holmes

By HOYT GIMLIN United Press Staff Correspondent

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (UP)—Cries of states' rights arose today at the Western Governors' Conference here over control of water conservation and development. The governors from nine Western states and Hawaii opened their second day of a 3-day meeting at the Broadmoor Hotel on a discussion of Western natural resources.

A recent U.S. Supreme Court decision allowing construction of a dam in Oregon—over Oregon's objections—was brought into the discussion. "We view this with a great deal of alarm in Oregon, and I think the other Western states join me in this," said Gov. Robert D. Holmes of Oregon, who heads the natural resources discussion and the Governors' Resolutions Committee. He said the court decision permits the federal government to overturn long-established state sovereignty over water laws at a time when many Western states are trying to tighten regulation of water storage and use. The decision, the Pelton case, ruled the Federal Power Commission could license construction by a private concern on a non-navigable, intrastate stream despite protests of the Oregon State Fish and Game Commission, which in the past had held authority. Later, the Navy Department said in view of the Pelton decision it did not need Nevada's permission to drill six wells. Nevada protested, and the case is pending in federal court.

Last year, several groups pressed for congressional legislation to require federal agencies to first obtain water rights from the states. These included the Conference of Western Attorneys General, the National Association of Attorneys General and the Western Regional Conference of the Council of State Governments. The governors had on today's agenda a further discussion of the mining industry which they declared Monday needed tariff protection against foreign competition. Nine Western governors attending this annual conference messaged U.S. Tariff Commission Chairman Edgar Brossard that "the economic condition of the lead-zinc industry is extremely serious."

Japan Issues Plea To Reds

TOKYO (AP)—Japan today urged Soviet Russia to heed criticism of conditions in Eastern Europe and called for "unification of Germany according to the freely expressed will of the German people."

A Japanese note also termed Russian criticism of NATO and other non-Communist collective security systems unwarranted. The note, delivered in Moscow and made public by the Foreign Ministry, said Japan does not regard such systems have aggressive purposes.

The note replied to Premier Bulganin's Dec. 10 letter to U.N. members on "increasing threat of a nuclear war."

The Japanese government said it agrees with the Soviet Union view that the young nations in the Near and Middle East should grow and develop along their own lines, "free from alien control." "At the same time," the note continued, "it is hoped that the Soviet Union will listen more to the many criticisms raised regarding the conditions that currently prevail in the countries of East Europe."

The Japanese government expressed support for the holding of an East-West summit conference but, like the Western Allies, called for "deep forethought and careful diplomatic preparation."
