KEEP THE WORLD GREEN!

(A Modest Reforestation Proposal from Oregon's Largest & Only Brewery as a Fitting Prelude to Oregon's Glorious 1959 Centennial Celebration)

To get to the point: here is your chance to make some non-Oregonian's life green and meaningful; to create a little corner of Oregon somewhere Out There. Just fill in the coupon at the bottom. You'll get the credit and we'll do what work there is. Those of you who are beginning to sense a cunning plan to get Oregon talked about, even before the Centennial, please read on.

Next year our state will be a century old. The way we look at it, 99 years has been plenty of time for those poor unfortunates who don't live in Oregon to move here. The fact is, however, that in the United States alone there are 168,000,000 non-Oregon residents! We can't believe that these otherwise fine people are willfully ruining their lives. The truth must be that, much as they yearn to, they can't come. Right now, anyway; maybe later.

Well, if they can't come to Oregon then the only answer is to send Oregon to them! And that is what we, with your help, propose to do. We have put together an Oregon Do-It-Yourself Kit consisting of an Oregon Fir tree, and directions for planting, plus of course, some subtle but direct comments on how nice Oregon is. No advertising, of course; you already know who we are!

These trees will make Oregon outposts all over the country, or world for that matter.

Would you like to be part of this project? We'll furnish the trees if you furnish the people. All you have to do is tell us who to send the tree to and we'll do it—in your name. It won't cost you a thing except the postage to mail the coupon below to us. Or you can drop it by and save the 3¢. We'd be glad to see you and show you around the place. There's no obligation either way.

If you can't think of anybody right off the bat to send a tree to, here are a few suggestions:

1. Those nice people you met last summer. They'd like a living invitation to vacation in Oregon, wouldn't they?
2. The man with a jillion dollars who is searching for a new factory site. We believe he could be very happy in Oregon.
3. The folks back home, if you used to live somewhere else. Why should you be the only lucky one in the family?
4. Business acquaintances; lodge brothers; that man you write to all the time but have never met.

... you get the idea. In addition, if you're going on a vacation or other trip it'd be nice if you'd take along a tree, and either give it to some fir lover, or plant it yourself in an appropriate place. Carry Oregon with you!

One more thing: we'd enjoy knowing where the trees finally end up. If you plant one on the top of Mt. Everest we'd like to hear about it. Write if you get time.

SNOW-COLLARED CHEMISE

The charm of the chemise is in the softly draped and straightened lines that lend new freedom to fashion... here done in Dacron and rayon pinchecks, a Dornick fabric by Triplex. Half-belted for flattering fit in front, with the crispness of snow-white cotton at the collar and cuffs, and the gentleness of a big, big bow! In spring-minded navy or gray, sizes from 8 to 16.
