Farm Bureau Has Program

MONTAGUE—Farm Bureau policies for 1953 on national issues were the essence of the talk given by Richard Owens, Berkeley, secretary-treasurer of the California Farm Bureau Federation, when he appeared as guest speaker at the annual Siskiyou County Farm Bureau potluck dinner at Montague on March 1. Morris Prather was master of ceremonies for the affair at which there were approximately 500 persons in attendance.

Glen Barnes presented the past president's pin to Roy Townley, who had just completed serving two years as president of the Siskiyou County Farm Bureau.

Scott Valley Farm Center was in charge of the entertainment which consisted of three skits and several songs.

Mrs. Jean Mills, Edgewood Farm Center, was general chairman of the dinner arrangements. Others who contributed their help were Helen Titus, secretary of Siskiyou County Farm Bureau, Scott Valley Farm Center, Shasta Valley Farm Center, Edgewood Farm Center, Jim Dow, Betty Dow, Mountain Valley and Grenada Co-operative dairies and the Montague Creamery.

The evening was concluded with dancing to the music of the Star Dusters, composed of the Etna High School band under the direction of Clifford Anderson, Etna.
