

Top Actress To Quit Films

HOLLYWOOD (UP) — Elizabeth Taylor, a top contender for this year's Oscar as best actress, said today that 1953 will probably be her last year as a movie queen.

"My husband (Mike Todd) doesn't want me to be an actress," she told a reporter. "And I don't want it either."

She currently is making "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof" at MGM, the studio where she made her first picture in 1942 — "Lassie, Come Home."

Only 26, she has spent 16 of those years working in front of cameras.

Her contract winds up with "Cat." She's also committed to work for her husband in "Don Quixote," the picture that may be her farewell performance.

But what of an exceptional script—the lure that has brought many an actress out of announced retirement?

"There's no script good enough to get me back once I quit—and that time is no more than two—at the most, three—pictures away."

"I am just too busy otherwise."

She has three children, two by her previous husband, Michael Wilding, and one by Todd. That's what she means by "too busy otherwise."

Liz, despite publicity to the contrary, is less actress than most movie stars. To intimates, she seemed more thrilled about being a Connecticut housewife than anything else.

She admits her favorite role is Mrs. Mike Todd but adds:

"It's really more of an occupational disease than a role."

THESE WOMEN PRISONERS were among the 24 Klamath County Jail inmates who donated blood Wednesday when the bloodmobile was in Klamath Falls. In appreciation for the cooperative spirit shown by the prisoners, Sheriff Murray Britton specified that fried chicken with all the attachments would be the Thursday menu. Movie Actresses Differ On New Chemise Fashions

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (UP) — Chemise or not chemise—that is the question. The controversy rages among women everywhere, and that includes Hollywood.

A cross-section of opinion from the style-setting glamor girls indicates that not all of them are taking the chemise to their bosoms.

Italian sexpot Sophia Loren wears 'em and likes 'em.

"I think they're very elegant," says she, adding this bit of philosophy: "A girl doesn't have to show her figure to be sexy. She is much more tantalizing if she doesn't show it."

Militant in the anti-chemise camp is Rhonda Fleming. She argues: Why should women go through all the suffering they do in dieting and exercising to build a lovely and attractive figure, then cover it up with a sack?

"I think it's an insult to the intelligence of the men for whom women dress attractively. I wouldn't be caught dead in one of the things. The battle cry should be: 'to blazes with the sack, let's get the figure back!'"

Jean Simmons is less violent, but sympathetic to Rhonda's campaign.

Her view: "If anyone can get away with the sack voguette, it is the tall, slim girl with very little lines. Personally, I don't care for the style."

The pro-chemise crowd has a formidable ally in Kim Novak. She argues: "It looks as though the style is here to stay. We might as well go along with it."

Shirley Temple has this to say: "They're not for me. But I must admit that I am getting used to seeing them, and on some women they can look good."

My cross-section included some males, all of whom were violently opposed to the chemise.

ILGWU Strike Halt Expected

NEW YORK (UP) — Striking garment workers and dress manufacturers have reached agreement on money issues and appear headed for a full settlement today or tomorrow.

The ticklish problem of contract enforcement — the other major issue in the six-day-old strike — is still to be resolved.

An employer spokesman said last night both sides agreed on an 11 1/2 per cent package increase.

The spokesman said it includes an 11 per cent boost in base pay and a payroll deduction for severance pay of one half of 1 per cent.

Agreement also was reached on overtime for piece workers — 81 per cent of the workers are employed on this basis — after 35 hours.

Union officials declined to confirm or deny the reported terms.

The dispute, first major strike by the International Ladies Garment Workers Union in 25 years, has affected nine Eastern states and idled 105,000 ILGWU members.

The wage agreement came after two days of intensive mediation by two peacemakers appointed by Mayor Robert F. Wagner — former U.S. Sen. Herbert H. Lehman and Harry Uviller, impartial chairman of the dress industry.

The mediators joined with David Dubinsky, president of the union, and employer leaders in expressing confidence that work will be resumed Wednesday.

The industry has complained that nonunion penetration and the union's failure to demand uniform conditions have forced manufacturers to cut corners as a means of staying in business.

Prestrike wages in New York City averaged $2.10 an hour, 50 to 75 cents an hour less elsewhere.

Tunisians Eye Compromise

TUNIS (UP) — President Habib Bourguiba is reported to have agreed to the first step of a compromise plan that would allow French forces to remain in control of the big naval base at Bizerte.

The Tunisian President demanded that all French forces get out of his country after the French bombing of Sakiet Sidi Youssef last month.

But under the plan reportedly worked out by U.S. conciliator Robert Murphy, the French would pull their forces back to Bizerte and leave neutrals guarding French airports to insure that they would not be used by Algerian rebels.

Coupled with the French withdrawal to Bizerte also would be the token evacuation of a few thousand of France's 22,000 troops in Tunisia.

Informed sources said Bourguiba already has agreed to neutral supervision of the air bases.

Church Holds Talk On Love

CHICAGO (UP) — How will you know when you meet the right one?

That's one of the questions that figure in discussions of love, dating and marriage that drew hundreds of teen-agers to 14 Roman Catholic churches in the Chicago area last night.

The talks, a series of six running through Lent and getting down to such facts of life as sex, dishes and garbage, are conducted by the Canna Conference of Chicago.

The Rev. Walter Imborski, assistant director of the organization, said you will know that you have met the right one, boys and girls, if you can say "yes" to the following queries:

"1. Can I find happiness making the other person happy?"

"2. Will he — or she — see my faults and weaknesses and still love me?"

"3. Can I reveal my fears, ambitions and dreams and still be desired?"

"4. Can I see myself washing 50,000 dishes for him, or carrying out the garbage for her 365 days a year for 30 years?"

"5. Will I love her when she's 30 pounds heavier, or love him when he's bald?"

"6. Am I a better person since we met — more thoughtful, less selfish?"

"7. Am I proud of the partner I have chosen? Do I enjoy introducing her — or him — to my friends?"

Father Imborski said the answers should come from the heart, not the head.

Canna conferences — the name is derived from the biblical marriage feast — are aimed generally at making good marriages and protecting them.

Lad Saves Train From Collision

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (UP) — A 14-year-old boy is credited with saving the crowded Balkan Express from piling up on a landslide.

Miroslav Kurnic, son of a rail worker, saw a huge rock from the slide on the track over which the Istanbul-Athens-Vienna express was due to pass yesterday.

He ran back to meet the train and signaled the engineer to stop, averting an almost certain wreck. The express arrived in Belgrade 13 hours late after the debris in the narrow Ibar River Canyon had been cleared away.

U.S. Official Gives Report On Foreign Aid Program

WASHINGTON (UP) — A top State Department official says the extent of foreign aid this year has not been "particularly affected" by a billion-dollar cut in administration requests a year ago.

But C. Douglas Dillon, deputy undersecretary of state for economic affairs, said the full amount of this year's request of $3,940,000,000 "is necessary to enable us to continue the basic program." And he said it will not replenish depleted pipelines, or backlogs of funds, for military and defense-support aid.

Further, Dillon said, contingency funds are "dangerously depleted" and "we would have great difficulty meeting an emergency should one arise before the end of the current fiscal year," June 30.

Dillon said this in testimony Feb. 27 at a closed-door hearing of the House Foreign Affairs Committee. The testimony was made public today.

The Eisenhower administration last year asked for $4,400,000,000 in new foreign aid funds. Congress approved $3,400,000,000.

Dillon told the committee that "basically the services we are providing are the materials we are delivering this year are not particularly affected by the cuts." He said expenditures this year are estimated at about $3,700,000,000 and flow largely from fiscal 1952 and earlier appropriations.

A cut below the $3,940,000,000 now requested, he said, would mean "a comparable reduction in the effectiveness of the program" in the years ahead.

He said the administration's new request, for the fiscal year starting July 1, contemplates a further reduction of 400 million dollars in military aid pipelines.

By June 30, 1953, he said, this pipeline will total about three billion dollars which he said "appears to be the minimum required to successfully carry on a military program."

World War I was touched off in 1914 when a Serb student assassinated Archduke Ferdinand of Austria and his wife at Sarajevo, Bosnia.

CRANK SLASHES PORTRAIT OF IKE

HOUSTON, Tex. (UP) — An oil portrait of President Eisenhower was found slashed in the exclusive Houston Club yesterday and a note found on the picture said "We don't like Ike in Texas."

Henry O. Barbour, club manager, told police he found the picture slashed. Barbour, who valued the painting at more than $1,000, said it had been in the club 10 days and was sent to the State Capitol in Austin. The portrait was by Boris G. Gordon of Washington.
