Civil Defense Class Slated

A class in explosive ordnance reconnaissance will be held by the Klamath County Civil Defense Agency Monday and Tuesday, March 10 and 11, according to M. G. (Buster) Gordon, county director. The classes, open to all interested in defense and law enforcement personnel, will be held at the Suburban Fire Department beginning at 7 o'clock each evening.

The course will be conducted by Lt. Daniel W. Doty, of the 53rd Ordnance Detachment, Vancouver Barracks in Washington. During the day of March 10 and 11, Lt. Doty and his team of instructors will be available to investigate any calls on suspected explosives that may have been found in the vicinity, and they will also inspect any war souvenirs if their owners will report them to the Suburban Fire Department.

Worker Injured By Freight Car

A 25-year-old Klamath Falls man escaped with only slight injuries last Saturday afternoon when he was caught between a loading escalator and a moving freight car.

Investigating officials said that Jerry O. Madden, 239 East Main Street, was loading carrots aboard the freight car when a moving locomotive inadvertently switched into the car.

Madden was rushed to the Klamath Valley Hospital and was released after observation.

Dulles Cites Space Lag

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles has doubts that America will beat the Soviet Union to the moon because of the Soviets' head start in outer space exploration.

He told a recent session of the House Foreign Affairs Committee that the country that reaches the moon first will most certainly score an important propaganda victory.

"I think whenever the Soviets register a first in an area that is spectacular, they gain greatly from it, and we go down in the popular estimation," said Dulles.

He told the committee in a Feb. 26 appearance that the United States is closing the scientific gap on the Soviets but perhaps not fast enough to win the race to the moon. The committee made Dulles' testimony public yesterday.

Dulles said "despotisms" are able to push the people harder to achieve certain spectacular results over the democracies. He raised the question of how much the government would be justified in making taxpayers "sweat" to win a race that would have little practical value.

The secretary reiterated that he sees at this time little likelihood of an agreement with the Soviets on ending nuclear tests.

Shah Studies Wife Troubles

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—The shah of Iran conferred with his Royal Court Council Monday to see if it can help him find an heir to his throne without divorcing his childless queen.

The 38-year-old monarch also heard a report from his special envoy to Queen Soraya. She is reported to prefer a divorce rather than allowing her husband to take an additional wife, permitted by Moslem law.

Sen. Sardar Bakhtiari returned Sunday night from visiting the green-eyed queen in West Germany, where her father is the Iranian ambassador. He said he carried Soraya's "final words" on the possibility of a reconciliation.

Bakhtiari appeared downcast as he spoke to newsmen, and they conjectured that he held out little hope the shah would accept the queen's proposals.
