LANGELL VALLEY
The Langell Valley Home Extension Unit met at the home of Beverly Yancey March 5. Dorothy Smith, chairman, was in charge of the business meeting. A nominating committee, consisting of Maren Randall, Maxine Brown and Carolyn Dearborn, was appointed. After the noon luncheon, served by Mrs. Yancey and her co-hostesses, Irene Botens and Bertha Colwell, the project "Design in Dress" was discussed by the leaders, Winola Faulstich and Mary Noble.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mary Lynch April 2, and the lesson will be on "Accessories." Leaders will be Esther Keyser and Bertha Colwell. Members will meet at the home of Maren Randall April 3 to make cookies and color eggs for the Klamath Nursing Home and Klamath Juvenile Home.

Knauss, project leaders, talked before members of the Buena Vista Home Extension Unit at the March 5 meeting held at the Klamath County Fairgrounds. Twenty women and four children were present. Two new members, Mrs. Ada Knauss and Mrs. Neva Stump were enrolled.

The next meeting will be April 7 at 10 a.m. at Joan's Kitchen at the fairgrounds, the subject for demonstration to be "Accessories for Clothes," led by Irene Charas and Eppie Haddock. Visitors are welcome.

ALTAMONT
Mrs. Wallace Uerlings will serve the Shasta Home Extension Unit as chairman for the coming year. Serving with her will be Mrs. J. R. Miller, vice chairman; Mrs. Jo Schub, secretary; and Mrs. Elwyn Hill, treasurer. Election proceedings were conducted at the March 4 meeting at the Klamath County Fairgrounds.

Mrs. William Kunz and Mrs. Herbert Willey will repeat instruction in the cotton dress workshop for those who wish to take it in preparation for the better dress workshop to continue next year. Dates for the cotton dress workshop will be March 26-28 and April 3, the meetings to be held at 9:30 a.m. each day in the exhibit building at the fairgrounds. The first meeting was March 10. Mrs. Pansy Jackson announced that a class in textile painting is in progress at Klamath Union High School each Monday and Wednesday, 7 to 9 p.m. Cost of the course is small.

A vote on the 1952-1953 projects suggested will be taken at the April meeting.

Klamath Falls is considered No. 2 disaster area in the state of Oregon and members of the unit were reminded of the importance of civil defense.

Lillian Hoffman, 4-H Club leader, talked on club work, stating there is a need for adult leaders. Luncheon was served to 30 members and guests.

Dorothy Cramer and Thelma Thurman led the project on dress designing. The April project will be on clothing accessories.

BERT STOTT

SPUTNIK FALLING
LONDON (UP)—Russia's Sputnik II carrying the remains of space dog Laika, is coming down, a leading British space scientist said Wednesday.

Prof. A. C. Lovell, head of Manchester's Jodrell Bank Observatory, said data indicated that the satellite would enter the earth's atmosphere about the middle of next month.

animals in the park zoo, snipping, clipping and pruning shrubbery. Bert Stott is retiring from the Klamath Falls Parks and Recreation Department as superintendent.

"No," said the 63-year-old Stott, "I've nothing planned; at least not until I've caught up on my fishing. Then, maybe, I'll go into landscaping for myself."

Thin, and wiry, Stott does not appear to have been an oil driller, or a truck driver or a driller of water wells. However, he said that he held all of these jobs during the early '20s in central California.

He and his wife, Gertrude, have an acre and a quarter of land at their new home at 1529 Wiard Street and he indicated he would do some "puttering around" growing a garden and keeping the home looking smart.

"I enjoy gardening and I enjoy it because it gives people pleasure. For example, if you can give the young people some place they can go to, it keeps them out of mischief."

Stott, who was born in Wyoming and came to Klamath County in 1929, explained that he knew about mischief, having reared a son and two daughters.

"It was just one of those things that I became a park superintendent here. I had done some gardening when I was trucking in California. Mostly in my spare time. I had studied landscaping and pruning, so it wasn't new to me."

"The department hired Elmer Spencer as its superintendent and he in turn asked me to help him, as he knew very little about landscaping and things. He said that he would take the job, if the department hired both of us. They did, and when he left 21 years ago, the job was mine."

Stott looked at the little home where he and his wife have lived for more than two decades. He pointed to the woodwork and said he remembered painting it and installing other improvements in the house.

Stott's boss, Bob Bonney, director of parks and recreation, said that Stott's vast experience and long tenure will be difficult to replace and is a distinct loss to the department. "As much as we hate to see him leave, we wish him the best," Bonney said.

"When he finishes fishing," Bonney added with a smile, "I hope he's kind enough to leave a few in the streams for me."

PTA NEWS

SHASTA
By Mrs. A. L. Bragg and Mrs. Laddie Toffel

The history of PTA was given at the Founders' Day meeting of the Shasta PTA, by Mrs. Ray Peterson. PTA was nationally organized in February 1897. The first Shasta PTA was begun in 1938 with Mrs. Leonard Lund as president. Membership totaled 31. The group has since accomplished many objectives including purchase of a movie projector for the school, athletic mats and playground equipment, stage properties, stage lights and wardrobe costume supplies. The group also sponsors character building youth organizations.

Mrs. Peterson presented gifts to Mrs. John Putnam, president of the Klamath County Council of PTA and past presidents of the Shasta PTA, Mrs. Earl Sheridan, Mrs. Marvin Shell, Mrs. Palmer Hoie, Mrs. Harold Smith, Mrs. Harold Gresdel, Mrs. D. L. Dunkeon, and Mrs. Floyd Buck. Past presidents honored but not present were Mrs. Ivan Crumpacker, Mrs. Dale Baxter, Mrs. John Insley, Mrs. Richard Melum, Mrs. H. L. Landis, Mrs. L. F. Lund, Mrs. Ralph Aubrey and Mrs. V. C. Golden.

The business meeting was opened by the president, Mrs. Floyd Buck. The flag salute was given by newly organized Cub Pack 10.

Mrs. Putnam spoke on the polio clinics being held at the various schools. Elton Fishback, Shasta School principal announced that Susan Commons was one of two winners in the Klamath County Chamber of Commerce cleanup contest. Her slogan was "Don't Throw It, Stow It."

Spring vacation, starting March 15 will continue through March 23. The next regular PTA meeting will be March 27 at 7:30 p.m.

Community Club Installs Officers

CHEMULT—New officers of the Chemult Community Club were installed at the last meeting of the club on March 5 at the clubhouse. Mrs. Verne Brader presided at the installation ceremonies. Mrs. Conley Elms is president; Mrs. Edmund Wilson, vice president; Mrs. Corwin Galbreath, secretary; and Mrs. William Mott, treasurer.

The members decided to have the membership composed of both men and women in order to put forth every effort to promote community pride and sponsor the building program for enlarging the clubhouse.

Plans were made for the annual Easter dinner and egg hunt and committees appointed to carry out the work program.

Mrs. Elms and Mrs. Wilson were hostesses for the evening. The next meeting will be April 2 when it is hoped to have Ernest Hardman, forest ranger at Crescent, show films and talk to the group about the rules and restrictions of building on forest land.

Woman Foils Robbery Try

CHICAGO (AP)—A chubby woman, an currency exchange cashier foiled a robbery.

Mrs. Gladys Burton, 48, was met by two men, one carrying a gun, when she opened the exchange. They ordered her to open the double doors to the back of the cages.

Mrs. Burton, 5 feet 3 inches tall and weighing 160 pounds, viewed the narrow opening and told the robbers: "I'm too chubby for two of us to go through at one time. I'll go first."

She entered, locked the doors and rang the burglar alarm. The robbers fled.
