

HAPPY NEWLYWEDS Mr. and Mrs. Donald Smith (Stephanie Ryer) greet guests at the reception following their wedding February 15 at the First Presbyterian Church, Portland.

Stephanie Ryer Weds D. E. Smith In Portland

At an 8 p.m. candlelight, double-ring ceremony, Stephanie Lynn Ryer became the bride of Donald Eldon Smith on February 15 at the First Presbyterian Church, Portland.

Stephanie is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Howard Ryer, Dorris, and her bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Kenneth Gilbert Smith and the late Dr. Smith, Portland.

The Rev. Paul S. Wright read the wedding ceremony. Plum blossoms and white stock decorated the church, and the candelabra were decorated with white stock and white satin streamers. Charles Oliver Gray, Portland organist, played traditional wedding music.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white tulle floor-length gown with sleeves pointed at the wrist and medallions of alencon lace and seed pearls at the scoop neckline and a bouffant skirt. A crown of lace and seed pearls held the fingertip veil of French illusion. The wedding bouquet was a white orchid surrounded with white freesias and white satin streamers.

KF Faculty Wives Meet For Musicales

Klamath Falls Faculty Wives met Monday evening, March 2, at the home of Mrs. Kristian Gippo for an evening of music. Appearing on the program were Jan Gippo, Carol Bullard, Carol Ross, Carol Baker, Rosemary Spetz, Dale Hallock, Mrs. Paul Stofft and Ruth Lobough.

During the business session, conducted by Mrs. Charles Carlson, president, minutes and reports were read by Mrs. David Davis, secretary.

Arrangements for the program and refreshments were made by Mrs. Kristian Gippo, chairman; and her committee, Mrs. Arnold Gralapp, Mrs. Andrew Loney, Mrs. LaMar Jensen, Mrs. Tom Ward and Mrs. William Hamilton.

The next meeting, slated for April 7 at the Art Center, will feature demonstrations in plastics and silk screening by Fred Ehlers of Swan Lake Moulding Company and Gordon Kensler, art instructor for the city elementary schools.

McCLOUD

Bernice Meek, district deputy of Yreka, made her official visit to Shasta Lily Rebekah Lodge 345, McCloud, February 27, and with the assistance of Maybelle Meek and Helen Hitchcock installed Edith Glover, treasurer; Ada Tannehill, left support, and Lon Henderson, musician, who were absent during their regular installation.

Helen Hitchcock, marshal, introduced and escorted the district deputy, who gave the instructions to the officers. Mrs. Laurene Bishop, noble grand, presided at the meeting.

Elsie Peterson recited a poem and presented the district deputy a gift from the lodge, also a gift from the noble grand and vice grand, Ruth Sisk.

The lodge raised money in the amount of $25 for the Heart Fund. Nita Henderson, lodge member and chairman for the local Heart Fund drive, reported approximately $500 has been received.

Edith Glover, chairman of the refreshment committee, Alice Whan, Helen Hegre, and Nita Henderson served in the banquet room following the meeting.

The tables were decorated with jonquils and pussy willows and at the honored table were dolls dressed in replica of those worn by the district deputy, marshal and escort girls during the public installation. Mrs. Thelma Welch was chairman of the decorating committee.

Christine Ryer was maid of honor for her sister. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Dennis Hutchinson, Portland, sorority sister of the bride; Claudia Leon, Weed, and Joan Wemple, Dorris.

All the attendants wore camelia pink silk over tulle cocktail length sheaths with cap sleeves, scoop necklines and matching tulle cummerbunds and streamers and headbands. They carried loose French bouquets of pink carnations.

Little Cherie Gay Fredrick, Portland, cousin of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a white frosted nylon dress with headband, cummerbund and streamers to match the other attendants and carried a bouquet of miniature carnations.

Willard Thompson, Woodburn, a fraternity brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Robert Withers, Woodburn, a fraternity brother, and Richard Lewis, Hideyo Minagi and Ronald Ragen, Portland, were ushers.

The bride's mother wore a toast-colored lace dress over cream satin, with blending accessories. Mrs. Smith, the bridegroom's mother, wore a seafoam green silk sheath with matching accessories. Orchid corsages complemented both their costumes. Mrs. Emma Short of Dorris, grandmother of the bride, wore a corsage of red roses.

Following the ceremony, 150 guests attended a reception for the wedding couple in the church lounge. The four-tiered white wedding cake was decorated with pink bouvardia and maidenhair fern, topped with an heirloom of the bridegroom's family, a bridal pair under an arch.

Serving cake were Mrs. Richard Janusch of Alameda, California, sister of the bridegroom; Mrs. Eugene Owen of Seattle, his cousin; Janice Gay and Mrs. A. E. Fredrick, Portland, cousins of the bride. Coffee was served by Mrs. Evelyn Case and Mrs. Orville Blair, the bridegroom's aunts. Mrs. Wayne McGill and Mrs. Randolph Bingham, all of Portland.

At the punch bowl were Gloria Carver and Barbara Dennis, sorority sisters of the bride, and Deanna Haggerty and Mary Ellen Leonard, all of Portland. Janie Childs, a cousin of the bridegroom, registered guests.

The bride attended Willamette University and Portland State College where she was affiliated with Alpha Chi Omega sorority. The bridegroom was graduated last June from Willamette University with a commission in the U.S. Air Force Reserve. He is a member of Phi Delta Theta fraternity.

For her going away outfit, the new Mrs. Smith wore a navy blue chemise style wool suit trimmed with white, and navy and white accessories. The orchid corsage was from her wedding bouquet.

After a honeymoon at Cannon Beach, the young couple is at home in Portland where both are employed until Smith reports April 21 for jet pilot training at Lackland Air Force Base.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne McGill entertained members of the wedding party at their home after the rehearsal the night of February 14.

Little Terry Lynn Harris will always remember her eighth birthday anniversary as the one when she got the pinto horse, with saddle and bridle, and had a party, too.

The party, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Doren, Montague, was attended by relatives and friends of the celebrant and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ned Harris, Montague.

Present besides the Dorens and Terry Lynn were her maternal grandmother, Mrs. Ann Brock, Mr. and Mrs. O. J. (Pop) Cox and Betty Walthard, all of Yreka; Terry's parents and two brothers, Mike and Pat; Willard Freeman and sons, Monte, Tommy and Keith, and Matt Goodwin, all of Montague.

The horse was a gift from her friends the Coxes. Unable to attend but sending gifts were Terry's great-great aunt, Mrs. Emma Ahlgren, Joe Silveria, the Mario Rizzardo family and the Tom Desozo family.

LAYETTE SHOWER

YREKA — Pink and blue carnations illuminated with lighted white tapers were featured decorations for the layette shower recently given for Mrs. William Cameron (the former Adelaide Foster) by Mrs. Dom Favero at the Favero home in Yreka.

The numerous shower gifts were heaped in a cradle, also a gift. Refreshments were served to over 20 guests after games were played and the gifts were opened. Gifts were also opened from nine guests who were unable to attend.
