

Nole - Hazzard Nuptials In Sacramento Church Of Wide Interest Here

A recent wedding in Sacramento of wide interest here is that of Rosalie Hazzard, daughter of former Klamath Falls residents, Mr. and Mrs. John J. (Jay) Hazzard.

Rosalie's marriage to Frank Nole Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Nole Sr., Sacramento, was solemnized in an 11 a.m. Nuptial Mass celebrated by the Rev. Charles Brady in Holy Spirit Church.

Rosalie is the maternal granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Foster, 629 Jefferson, and the niece of Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Stiles, 525 Mesa, all of whom were in Sacramento for the February 22 event.

Floral decorations in the church were large bouquets of white stock. The setting was illuminated with lighted white tapers in candelabra, and a white satin aisle runner marked the path to the altar.

The bridegroom, hand crocheted by close friend of the bride's family, a former Klamath Falls resident, Mrs. Roy Johnson (Luella Dahleim), was of the finest thread, crocheted in a delicate shell pattern. The fitted bodice was designed with a round neckline, long tapered sleeves and a snugly fitted waistline that accented the very full skirt.

The delicate work also included yards and yards of thread fashioned into a train. A shaped satin underslip with an exceptionally full skirt and strapless top was worn under the crocheted gown. A scalloped coronet outlined and embroidered with seed pearls and iridescent sequins held the circular shoulder length veil; and Rosalie carried a white prayer book topped with a large white orchid tied with stephanotis flowers and narrow white satin streamers.

Maid of honor was Laurine Ramos, and bridesmaids were Mrs. Dominick Nole, sister-in-law of the bridegroom; Mrs. Robert Williams and Dorothy Henderson, all of Sacramento.

Flower girl was Debra Wiessner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Wiessner, Sacramento; and ringbearer was Billy Caplinger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Caplinger, also Sacramento.

All of the feminine attendants wore emerald green princess style dresses with very full skirts and low necked bodices with bracelet length sleeves. They wore headbands with brief seed pearl-trimmed veils. Identical bouquets were centered around two large lavender orchids, framed with emerald green lace and ribbon.

Leonard Nole was best man for his brother; and ushers were Dominick Nole, also brother; Michael Lateano, cousin; and Jess Carrillo, all of Sacramento.

Organist for the wedding, Agnes Coyle, also accompanied vocal soloist, Bernice Futterer.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Hazzard wore a blue lace street length dress with three-quarter sleeves, a low vee neck and a satin cummerbund draped into a back panel. Her half-hat was of iridescent blue sequins, and she wore an orchid corsage.

The senior Mrs. Nole wore pink lace—also street length, styled with short sleeves, low neckline and bustle back. She wore a small pink hat and her corsage was also an orchid. The reception was at the American Legion Hall, where the tiered wedding cake was focal point of the bride's table. Gardenias on glossy leaves and maiden hair fern circled the base and formed center runners down the table. The cake was served with a bountiful buffet to the 250 wedding guests, and an orchestra played background and dance music during the reception hours.

Assisting were Mrs. Vincent Lateano, Mrs. Sam Razzutto, Mrs. Frank Ramos, Mrs. Arthur Neves and Mrs. Earl Carroll.

Both are graduates of Sacramento High School. The bridegroom is a graduate of Sacramento Junior College and Rosalie was a student there for one year. Her school day affiliations were Ayudante, Phi Delta Chi, Como Amiga and Job's Daughters. Frank Jr. was affiliated with Omega Kappa Alpha fraternity at SJC.

The couple honeymooned in San Francisco and are now at home, 1215 22nd Street, Sacramento. For travel on the wedding trip, Rosalie donned a two-piece light weight wool in the new orange sherbet shade. She wore a bucket-shaped hat of rough straw and her bag and shoes were of patent leather.

Guests from Klamath Falls were Rosalie's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Foster, Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Stiles and Doug, her uncle, aunt and cousin; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hogue, all of Klamath Falls. Another couple, Mr. and Mrs. Marion Biehn, who recently moved from Klamath Falls to Sacramento, were also at the wedding.

BEAUTY TIPS

Young girls going through a baby fat stage needn't starve themselves to look sleeker in dresses. Wear quiet colors of grayed blues and misty greens and avoid a light blouse, dark skirt combination.

Besides making a girl pretty, proper make-up also protects the skin during harsh weather. But be certain to remove thoroughly all make-up when you are home. This allows the skin to breathe.

Moderate exercise keeps muscles toned and helps fight fatigue. The face, chin and neck should not be overlooked in the weekly ritual of good health. In later years, benefits of exercise will show.

and may match a costume. However, if a dress is bright, be more conservative with the lipstick shade. Also, red clothing calls for a quieter shade than you might ordinarily use.

Women who smoke must heed their hands. Quite often nicotine stains detract from well-groomed hands. Rub lemon juice or peroxide on fingers to chase away yellowish brown stains. For heavy smokers, it is best to get at the stains early.

A perfume that has become concentrated can be stretched for further satisfactory use. Do this by adding a matching cologne or toilet water. This thins out the concentrate effectively.

THE NEW MR. AND MRS. DEPUY

Josephine Colwell Weds Jerry Depuy In Sacred Heart Catholic Church

Sacred Heart Catholic Church was the setting on February 15 for the wedding of Josephine Gertrude Colwell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. (Don) Colwell, Keno Road, to Jerry D. Depuy, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Depuy, 4546 Cleveland Avenue.

The marriage, solemnized at 9:30 a.m. in a Nuptial Mass celebrated by the Rev. Alfred Fisher, united two pioneer families of the Klamath Basin.

Escorted by her father, who gave her in marriage, Josephine wore a white dress of lace and net. A simulated necklace collar of lace applique encircled the neckline of the high necked net yoke, and scallops of lace also on the yoke, achieved an off-the-shoulder effect. The long sleeves of lace were pointed at the wrists.

The full skirt of billowing net featured a scalloped peplum of lace at the hipline divided by wide front and back panels of scalloped lace that extended from waist to hemline.

She wore a fingertip veil of illusion gathered to a bandeau headdress edged with pleated net. Her cascade bouquet was of white carnations centered with a large white orchid.

The bride's three sisters served as maid of honor and bridesmaids, and the bridegroom's sister was flower girl.

Honor attendant, Marygene Colwell, bridesmaids, Danice and Donna Colwell, and flower girl, Carolyn Depuy, all wore identical, light blue dresses of light blue taffeta made with low oval necklines and narrow bertha collars over cap sleeves. The senior attendants' full skirts were waltz length—just below the knee—length. She wore a floral headdress and carried a basket of petals.

All wore lace mitts. The older girls wore pink bandeaus and their bouquets of pink and white carnations were similar to the bridal bouquet.

Billy Hammond, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Hammond, Merrill, was ringbearer, and wore a white dinner jacket and dark trousers for the occasion.

Frank Pederson, close friend of both the bride and bridegroom, was best man; and ushers were Dick Durrell and Dan Colwell, the bride's first cousins.

Vocal soloist for the wedding was Madelon Guide.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Colwell wore a rose lace dress and a small hat in a matching shade. Her corsage was of white roses. Mrs. Depuy, mother of the bridegroom, wore a pink silk linen dress with a white hat, and her pink and white corsage was of roses.

The reception was in Sacred Heart Parish Hall immediately after the ceremony. The ornate tiered cake was served by two aunts of the bride, Mrs. Perry Wilson and Mrs. Paul Dalton.

Mrs. Everett Jackson and Mrs. Dale Walker presided at the coffee and tea services; Mrs. Frank Pederson, wife of the best man, and Margaret Colwell, cousin of the bride, served punch; Carole and Darla Rupert, nieces of the bridegroom, attended the gift table; and guests were registered by Mrs. Keith Ruconich.

Josephine and Jerry are both graduates of Sacred Heart Academy. He is employed by Weyerhaeuser Timber Company, and the new Mrs. Depuy is an employee of the local branch of United States National Bank of Portland.

The couple honeymooned in San Francisco, and for travel, the bride wore a navy blue and white checked suit with navy and white accessories. The orchid from her bridal bouquet was worn as a shoulder corsage. They are now at home in the Weyerhaeuser District.

Out of town guests included the bride's uncle, William H. (Bill) Wilson, Portland; Sue Murdock, Nancy Romero and George Casey, all of San Francisco; Mrs. J. D. Murdock and Don Murdock, Dunsmuir; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Duggan and family, Central Point; Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Rupert and family, Eugene.

YREKA — In a candlelight setting in Yreka St. Joseph's Catholic Church, Robert Charles Schantz claimed Selma Jean Trimm as his bride in a recent double-ring service read by the Rev. John Dowling.

For her wedding, the bride chose a white broadcloth, satin ballerina length gown, fashioned with a close fitted bodice, brief sleeves, a portrait neckline and a bouffant skirt. Her jewelry was a cross necklace, a gift from Mrs. Charles Zylstra, grandmother of the bridegroom. Her fingertip veil of illusion net was held in place with a half-hat of stiffened net, embroidered with iridescent sequins. Her bouquet was a white orchid with streamers of stephanotis and a white prayer book. The bride was Guests were received in St. Joseph's Hall immediately after the service. Focal point of the reception table was an ornate four tiered wedding cake. After the initial slice was cut by the newlyweds, the cake was served by Mrs. William Singleton and Mrs. John Savage, both of Yreka.

Gail Burch of Montague and Diane Childs served the punch, and guests were registered by Mary Lee Savage of Yreka.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Trimm of Happy Camp, and for her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Trimm chose a gray afternoon dress and pink accessories with a carnation corsage to complete her costume.

The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Alice Roble of Grants Pass, and Frank Schantz of Montague. Mrs. Roble, for her son's wedding, chose a purple knit suit with matching accessories and a carnation corsage.

In the receiving line with the two mothers were Mrs. Jim Fraga, grandmother of the bride, and Mrs. Charles Zylstra, grandmother of the bridegroom, both of Yreka.

For the wedding trip, the new Mrs. Schantz wore a white cotton sheath with a navy blue coat, and matching accessories. For her corsage, she wore the white orchid from the bridal bouquet.

The newlyweds have returned from their honeymoon in San Francisco, and are now at home in Yreka.

Selma Jean attended Hilt Elementary School, and was graduated in January from Yreka High School. Her husband is also a graduate of Yreka High School, and attended California Polytechnic Institute at San Luis Obispo.
