

YOUR DENTURE BREATH CAN'T BE BRUSHED OFF. When you brush false teeth you risk offensive Denture Breath. Be safe with Polident! It soaks into places no brush can reach, keeps plates odor-free.

Unless you face these facts about FALSE TEETH ...you may be in trouble!

You can't clean false teeth the same way you clean natural teeth and expect them to be naturally white...and odor-free!

But it's so easy to clean dentures properly with Polident. This wonderful denture cleanser dissolves film—sweetens your mouth as no toothpaste can.

With Polident, you're never embarrassed or self-conscious because of Denture Breath or dingy film!

Easy to Use...Instant Action... Just mix Polident powder with water. Slip your plates into this amazing "bath." Stubborn stain loosens. Film dissolves. Clinging food particles and odor-breeding bacteria are washed out of tiny cracks and crevices no brush can reach. Suddenly your false teeth start looking naturally white again...and no more Denture Breath!

With Polident it's a soak...a rinse...a clean fresh mouth! You'll never be self-conscious about false teeth again!

The Rainstorm Lady. One rainy afternoon on my way from work I was dashing down the street, staying close to the buildings for shelter, when a little old lady approached. She stuck out an umbrella and said, "Can you use this?"

She explained that she had just bought another umbrella and, rather than throw the old one away, planned to give it to the first person she saw who needed one.

Her thoughtful act still gives me a lift when I recall it. I've seen her several times since, always in the rain. I've nicknamed her "The Rainstorm Lady."—Maggilee Thornbury, Ashland, Ky.

A Laugh in the Desert. One hot Summer day my husband and I were driving through a desolate area of the West on the last lap of a tiring 1,800-mile trip. Mile after mile, all we could see were sand, sagebrush, and now and then a lonely tree.

Finally, rounding a curve on an insignificant hill, we came upon a large billboard. Its message made us laugh out loud and lightened our hearts for the remainder of the trip.

It said simply, "Monotonous, ain't it?"—Mrs. Marie A. Cronn, Long Beach, Calif.

The Prodigal Worker. It was the custom in our factory to take up a collection whenever serious illness or death struck a fellow-worker's family. Everyone readily gave except Lucille, who said brusquely, "I take care of myself. Others can do the same."

Then, unexpectedly, she went to the hospital for an emergency operation. Our first reaction was to ignore her, but one worker asked, "Is it more important to get even with Lucille or to make no exception to our practice of helping everyone who's in trouble?"

Ashamed, we took up the collection. When she saw the gifts, Lucille cried over and over, "I don't deserve it." Later, when she came back to work, she was a changed person, eager to contribute, to share treats, to exchange small talk. It made us all glow that we didn't try to "get even."—*R. "Yes, God Answers Prayers." For my 8th birthday Mother had promised me my first trip to the big city—providing, of course, it didn't rain. It was to be a big day in my life, so in my prayers I asked God to "please don't let it rain."

On the morning of my birthday I woke to hear the dreadful pit-pat of rain on our roof. Heartbroken, I sobbed to my mother, "But I asked God not to let it rain, and it did. You said God always answered prayers."

She took me in her arms and said, "God does answer all prayers. But sometimes the answer is no."

As the years passed, I always remembered her words. Even in great disappointments, they helped me keep faith. Because sometimes the answer must be no.—Ruth Wilson, Eugene, Ore.
