Grand Slam Hit By Mays

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Weep no more for Willie, now that Mays has unfrocked those Los Angeles Dodgers and discovered they're his old Brooklyn buddies.

After 22 games with San Francisco this season, Willie was batting a dandy .372, but folks were concerned. The kid who had led the Giants in home runs and runs-batted-in for four years had only nine extra-base hits, only one a homer, while knocking in just nine runs.

Then he recognized those Dodgers, the guys he's always killed, and Willie started belting. In three games against Los Angeles he rapped five home runs, driven in 11.

WILLIE MAYS ... hits grand slam

Mays hit a pair of homers, one his second grand slam in the majors, and had five RBI last night as the Giants ripped the Dodgers 12-3 and moved back within a half-game of the National League lead with their fifth straight victory.

It was the fourth consecutive defeat for the Dodgers, who plunked into the cellar for the first time since July 2, 1948. The St. Louis Cardinals quit a three-week stay in eighth place by winning their fifth in a row, 6-4 at Chicago, in the only other game scheduled.

Giants 12, LA 3

Mays triggered a 17-hit attack as the Giants made it five in a row over Los Angeles. Daryl Spencer also counted two homers. Ruben Gomez won his third, all against the Dodgers, with a six-hitter and fanned 10 to take the NL strikeout lead with 32.

Cards 6, Cubs 4

A four-run fifth, on four singles and two errors, bagged it for the Cards as right-hander Phil Paine collected a 2-0 record in two days. Glenn Hobbie was the loser, blowing a 3-0 lead after Ernie Banks hit his seventh homer, with a man on, in the third.

St. Louis 6, Cubs 4

Stan Musial doubled for his 2,999th hit, but after grounding out three times was "benched for hitting" by Manager Fred Hutchinson for today's game with the Cubs. Unless he's needed as a pinch-hitter, the Cards figure to save The Man's 3,000th hit for the home fans.

If you missed this column last week it was because of my attending the Oregon Open in Portland. As you know, the Open was won by Dick Yost, amateur from Portland. Much has been written about Yost using a brassie or No. 2 wood in place of his driver. In the past years Dick has been a little erratic off the tee with his driver, so uses his No. 2 wood entirely. However, he can also hit his No. 3 wood off the tee as far

Ex-Mat Star Plans Change To Ring Wars

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

NEW YORK (AP)—"This boy learns terrifically fast. He can go places."

That was George Gainford's appraisal of Dan Hodge, the two-time Olympic wrestler and National Golden Gloves heavyweight boxing champion, who officially announced his decision to become a pro fighter Monday.

"He's not a good punch, ability to learn fast, height, weight and strength—but most important that ability of his to pick up things in a hurry," said big George, long-time advisor to Sugar Ray Robinson.

"What he needs most is ring experience. When I was hired to teach him two weeks ago, he was awkward and stumbling. He's smoothed out plenty."

"I told those old men who hired me not to go around offering $250,000 for fights with Floyd Patterson, the heavyweight champion. He's not ready for that yet. If they want to throw away $250,000 I told them I could use it."

"He is ready right now, though, for Pete Rademacher. Pete's only had one pro fight—that knock-out loss to Patterson. We're challenging Pete. Otherwise I'm not naming any guys we want to fight. I'm going to bring him along in his own class."

Hodge is 25, 6-1½, about 190 pounds, and already has a set of cauliflower ears. "I got those wrestling," he said.

Dan has been boxing only about seven months and won all 17 of his amateur bouts, 12 by knock-out. Before he donned the mitts, he earned fame at Oklahoma as the college and national AAU wrestling champion. He was a member of the 1952 and 1956 Olympic mat teams.

George declined to mention the "oil men" who had hired him. Hodge was reluctant, too, to discuss who would manage him.

Gordie Howe Hart Winner

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

MONTREAL (UP)—Swift-shooting Gordie Howe of the Detroit Red Wings today was named winner of the Hart Trophy as the National Hockey League's "most valuable player" for the 1957-58 season—joining Eddie Shore as the only four-time winner of the league's top award.

Howe, the second highest scorer in league history, won the trophy for the second straight season and also won it in 1952 and 1953.

The brilliant 30-year-old right wing took advantage of a split Montreal vote in balloting for the first half of the season and was beaten by New York's Andy Bathgate in the second-half voting. But he still came out on top with 10 points. Bathgate finished with 70 points.

A $1,000 check also goes with the trophy.

Homers Trip Up Sox Clubs

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The first home run was the toughest for Neil Chrisey. Four games ago he never had hit one in the majors. Now he has three for Washington, and it's no coincidence that the Senators are still second in the American League, two games from the top.

The 25-year-old outfielder, traded out of the Boston Red Sox farm system to the Nats in 1953, was up 51 times without a homer as a rookie last season. He didn't get one in his first 14 at-bats this season.

Now he's hit three in seven trips, hauling the Senators to a 5-4 victory over the Red Sox last night on a shot that bounced off center fielder Jim Piersall's glove.

OTI Owls Win First, Divide Lassen Games

SUSANVILLE, California—Oregon Tech snapped the longest losing streak in the school's baseball history here Saturday afternoon by splitting a non-conference doubleheader with Lassen Junior College.

Lassen picked off the first game 5-4 but the winless Owls came storming back in the nightcap to register their first victory of the season, 8-4.

In the first game, Oregon Tech moved ahead 2-0 at the end of the first inning on a double by Belton Ollison, Charlie Gantner's walk, a sacrifice and a Lassen error. The Owls added another run in the second on Ollison's run-producing single, but the Tech lead wasn't for long.

The Cougars scored twice in their half of the second and three more times in the third for the game-winning runs. Rich Sasaki's triple with one on was the big blow in the second inning and Paul Petrani's two-run single in the third tied the game. Petrani scored the winning run on an error.

Oregon Tech scored one more run in the top of the seventh when second baseman Gordy Rhovan was walked with the bases loaded forcing in Ollison from third. The Owls only had one out at this time, but a strikeout and fielder's choice cut down the OTI rally.

Ollison's two hits paced the Owl hitters. Bill Smith, the losing pitcher, gave up just four base hits, two in the second and two in the third.

Errors proved to be the downfall of Lassen in the second game as the Owls came from behind to pocket the victory. Lassen moved out to a 4-1 lead after four innings, but OTI scored four times in the fifth and three more in the sixth to go ahead.

Ralph Cox' bases-loaded double in the fifth started the Owls onslaught. In the sixth, four Lassen errors figured in the scoring as the Owls crossed home plate with three insurance runs.

The Owls' return to Oregon College Athletic Conference baseball play this weekend at Klamath Falls where they meet Portland State's Vikings in a three-game series at Gem Stadium. A single game is billed for Friday and a doubleheader Saturday. This will complete the Tech baseball season.

4 Derby Mounts Pace Preakness

BALTIMORE (AP)—A pair of elimination races brought no appreciable new faces today to a probable Preakness field dominated by the first four from the Kentucky Derby.

The Withers had 12 Preakness eligibles and the outcome left it doubtful if any would continue on to Baltimore. The race was won by John S. Kroeses' Sir Robby, a 17-1 long shot no better than third in six previous major races this year.

George Lewis' Martin's Rullah, fifth in the Derby, showed no improvement in the lesser Withers field and so put a damper on his Preakness prospects.

Gone Fishin' won the Prep by a length and three-quarters over Christiana Stable's Staysail. It was only the second start of the year for Staysail so he may be given a chance at the Preakness.

Lili Pella's third in the Prep was enough to convince his Jaclyn Stable that he didn't belong in the Preakness. The only other Prep starter was Mickey Boy, already ineligible for the Preakness.

Gone Fishin' secured his place together with Calumet's Tim Tam, Sunny Blue Farm's Lincoln Road, Crabgrass Farm's Nour-eddin, and Maine Chance Farm's Jewel's Reward who led the Derby Parade. Also undaunted by the Derby were Mrs. A. Gannuli's sixth place Chance II, Tony and Ross & Klipstein's 12th place Silky Sullivan.

Among the most likely new challengers of the Derby crop are E. G. Potter Jr.'s Pilon and Mrs. A. L. Rice's Talent Show. They earned their Preakness spurs by finishing first and third in Saturday's Delaware Valley handicap in New Jersey.
