FACULTY WIVES CLUB of Klamath Falls annual dinner on May 12 in the Pine Grove Room of the Willard Hotel was chairmanned by Mrs. James Inglesby, who arranged a program of music and a style show for the evening's entertainment. Fashions modeled were from Bon Bazaar, and were varied in style, fabric and age bracket.

Mrs. Inglesby is shown far right in the picture above, wearing a mu-mu from Hawaii. Others with her are, standing from the left, Mrs. Andrew (Andy) Knudsen; Jane Ann Craig and her mother, Mrs. Robert P. Craig. The young men, also modeling Bon Bazaar spring merchandise, Larry and Chris Knudsen, are standing in front of their mother.

Klamath Falls Faculty Wives Dinner And Style Show May 12

The annual dinner and spring style show sponsored by the Faculty Wives Club of Klamath Falls schools was held Monday evening, May 12, in the Pine Grove Room of the Willard Hotel. Chairman for this event was Mrs. James Inglesby and assisting her on the committee were Mrs. Ralph Fried, Mrs. Jim Johnson, Mrs. Andrew Knudsen, Mrs. Jack Peterson, Mrs. Arvel Smith and Mrs. Glen Terriere. All members of the committee were wives of new members of the school faculty this past year.

Following a buffet style dinner Mrs. Robert Johnson, president of the group, presented the outgoing officers, Mrs. Charles Carlson, president; Mrs. Calvin Burt, vice president; and Mrs. David Davis, secretary-treasurer. They were also given gifts in appreciation for their services for the past year.

Musical entertainment preceding the style show, featured a triple vocal trio from Fremont Junior High School under the direction of Miss Ruth Lebaugh; an accordion solo by Kay Parker; and Nancy Hugelmann and Patty Anderson from Klamath Union High School. Commentator for the style show presented by the Bon Bazaar was Mrs. Paul Angstead, manager of the store. The theme centered around the new chemise trend in style for spring with suggestions as to how the individual might fit it into her own wardrobe. Models were members of the Faculty Wives Club and their children; school faculty members and students.

Musical entertainment following the style show was by a vocal trio, Winifred Favell, Ellen Miller and Vivian McKeenan who sang three songs accompanied by Eloise McIntyre at the piano; and by the AAJW Instrumental Study group, Helen O'Neil, Janet Chin, Winifred Favell, Mary Pengelly and Jean Puckett.

The muddy dress, tucked all over with a deep collar front and back will be worn spring and summer this year.

When you buy a bathing suit, try to pick a color that's harmonious with the sea, sun and sky. Blue, green, tangerine, yellow, pink and violet are all good.

Rosebuds and pansies, scattered over fresh white cotton gloves, make a pretty look for the hand.

For a switch from traditional wedding bouquets, how about white, pink and candy-striped carnations with a tiny trail of ivy? Or white lilac with pink or blue hyacinths for an all-bulb-grown one?

TOMMY O'NEIL, 7-plus-months-old, donned a gay sport jacket when he sat for the above picture. He's the handsome son of Mr. and Mrs. John O'Neil Jr., and the grandson of Dr. and Mrs. F. E. Trotman and Mr. and Mrs. John O'Neil, all of Merrill.

Need some storage containers? Try shellacking large pasteboard cylinders used for shipping products. A thinned coat of pure, white shellac will preserve and strengthen them.

To Be A Beautiful Bride Plan Ahead -- Avoid Nerves

To walk in beauty on her wedding day is the dream of every bride-to-be. And lovely she will be if she avoids exhaustion, beauty's foremost enemy.

Wedding preparations can be hectic, but they don't have to be. The secret lies in starting long enough in advance so that all the necessary details can be accomplished in a leisurely manner. And plan your beauty ahead, too.

If you're going to get a permanent, have it done several weeks before the big event so that all the frizziness will have vanished. And don't wait until the night before your wedding to wash and set your hair. Have it done two days ahead so that it will be soft and natural looking.

Make-up should be subtly applied on the day you walk down the aisle, for softness, not sophistication, is the keynote. And you must be certain, too, that your make-up will last through many hours.

Try using dry rouge. After you've applied it, set it with a dash of cold water on your cheeks. It will give it extra staying power.

Your face powder will stay on longer, too, if it is applied with a fluffy puff rather than a flat one.

Use eye make-up with a light touch, and if your brows and lashes are naturally dark, skip it altogether for this day.

Your lipstick should be true color, and one famous beauty house offers a lipstick that is too.

claimed to blend with every complexion and need little, if any, attention once applied.

To avoid sending your guests gaily off wearing your lipstick, try this method of applying it: Put on one coat, then blot. Apply another coat, wait two minutes, then blot again until no color appears on the tissue.

The fragrance for your wedding day should be delicate; but it, too, must last. There is a lovely new spray mist that is a blending of the essential oils of perfume with an aerosol medium. Spray it in the air and walk through the mist. The faint lily-of-the-valley scent should last for hours. After the spray, use a light perfume on all the pulse points.

This will be the biggest day in your life. So plan it far enough ahead to avoid strain from weariness. Play down your make-up so that you look naturally lovely, and your dream will be realized—you'll truly walk in beauty.

It may seem simpler to yank an appliance cord instead of reaching for the plug to disconnect it. But the cords will last longer if you pull on the plug. It is safer, house offers a lipstick that is too.
