Reds Plan Golf Course

BUDAPEST — Communist Hungary, looking for its share of the capitalist vacationer's dollar, is thinking of building a golf course although orthodox party members frown on the game.

Before World War II there were four golf courses in Hungary, old-timers say, including two in Budapest. All have disappeared under the Communist regime, and there is now only a small four-hole layout used almost entirely by diplomats, on property belonging to the U.S. legation.

The newspaper Hetfoel Hitek says the new course would be built at Balatonoldvar, on the shores of Lake Balaton. This is one of the region's most popular resorts.

Although the golf course plan is for the more distant future, tourism officials say, some other capitalist innovations may be seen sooner. The architects have three types of motels on the drawing boards, to be built at points where main roads meet the lake, on the highways, and in the suburbs of larger towns.

Another architect has come up with an idea of building small artificial islands of concrete a short distance from the shore. Balaton is shallow, especially on the southern side, and bathers now have to wade hundreds of feet before getting out to their depth for a swim.

DEATH FALL

NEW YORK — While walking his dog on the roof of the building in which he lived, John Gunning, 69, a blind man, fell five stories to his death last night. The dog, a little terrier, ran frightened down to the apartment where Gunning lived with relatives.

YOU AUTO BUY NOW week was inaugurated Saturday morning with a parade down Main Street which was led by the KUHS band. The parade sparked the beginning of a week-long campaign by Klamath Falls automobile dealers to "Keep the Basin's Prosperity Rolling." The promotion was aimed at bolstering the confidence of the people in the prosperity of the area, and is being highlighted by especially attractive inducements to back up the slogan of "You Auto Buy Now."

MR. and MRS. JOHN H. RONFELDT

After More Than 50 Years, Couple Plans Germany Trip

By RUTH KING

More than half a century has passed since Mr. and Mrs. John H. Ronfeldt have seen the land where they were born. By the last week in May they will have returned there, to Schleswig-Holstein, a province near Hamburg, Germany. Mrs. Ronfeldt is greeted by an only sister, Mr. Ronfeldt by numerous cousins. He is 82 years old, Mrs. Ronfeldt, 73. Both are a bit flustered about the trip to be made by air. Neither has ever flown but all arrangements have been made for them through a travel service and they will wing their way by United Air Lines to New York, starting May 26. From there they take the Lufthansa line to their destination.

Mr. Ronfeldt came to America when he was 17 years old, stayed for 12 years and lonely for a companion, returned to his country to look for a bride. He found a pretty girl this way. With a cousin, he stood as many young men do, eyeing up the lassies as they strolled by. "There comes a cute one," said the cousin, the boy from America looked, decided she

Aftermath Of A Tornado -- One Year Later

KANSAS CITY — A simple memorial is the only structural reminder that a year ago today a tornado whirled through suburban Ruskin Heights at more than 500 miles an hour.

Forty-seven graves are an eternal reminder. The flattened homes, the unbelievable rubble, the upturned cars are no longer there. Ruskin Heights has been rebuilt.

The work that has been done is not so much reconstruction as it is resurrection.

If you didn't go through those frenzied minutes yourself, you have to look at pictures to see the change.

From the air today the streets form the same gentle S curves they did after the tornado. But then they looked mushy, like a wheatfield after harvest. Today you are struck by the sharply defined lines of the light rooftops.

The tornado was spawned at 5:30 p.m. from black rain clouds at Emporia, Kan., some 100 miles away. It moved northeastward, killing at Ottawa and Hill City in Kansas, destroyed Martin City, Mo., and did its worst at Ruskin Heights.

Thirty-nine persons were killed and 483 homes destroyed or damaged. The memorial, a brick structure about 15 feet high, is located at the center of the devastated Ruskin Heights area. It was dedicated yesterday while 2,000 persons watched.

It has three windows at the top. "They symbolize faith, hope and love," said N. M. Roach, president of the Ruskin Heights Homes Assn. "They are the things that rebuilt Ruskin Heights."

NAACP Accuses Powell Of 'Extreme Racism'

NEW YORK — The National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People has accused Rep. Adam Clayton Powell Jr. of what it calls "extreme racialism." The NAACP also said yesterday: "We cannot condemn racism in others while using it ourselves."

In a statement issued by Executive Secretary Roy Wilkins, the NAACP dissociated itself from the Harlem Negro Democrat's squabble with Tammany Hall.

Old Tradition Hit By Paris Police

PARIS — Paris police today took a crack at an old journalistic tradition—that yesterday's newspapers are good only to wrap up tomorrow's fish.

Starting June 1, they ordered, no more using old newspapers to wrap up fish, chicken, meat or delicatessen products. Old newspapers aren't sanitary, the police ruled.

Slayer Says He Hates Doctor

LINCOLN, Neb. (UP)—Charles Starkweather, 19, who has not cooperated with his lawyers' attempts to have him acquitted of the murder of Robert Jensen by reason of insanity, said Monday he would like to blow up with a hand grenade the psychologist who said he was unable to distinguish between right and wrong.

The defense will call a final psychiatric witness today. Then the prosecution will attempt to combat the insanity plea with its own witnesses.

The case was expected to reach the jury by late Wednesday or Thursday.
