Time Now To Take Giants Seriously

By OSCAR FRALEY

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Milwaukee Braves still have to be the favorite to win the National League flag but the time has come today to take those surprising San Francisco Giants seriously.

Two weeks ago you could still have doubted the Giants. They had fattened themselves by winning eight of 10 from the decripit Dodgers, whose veterans finally have started careening down the other side of the hill.

But during the interim the Giants have won nine of 13 games thanks to four young men and a boy who, it begins to seem fairly certain, aren't going to fold as expected.

The Giants had the crux of a winning ball club in Willie Mays, Ruben Gomez and Johny Antonelli. They simply weren't enough to carry the club to the jackpot. Mays is having another fine year, just as he did last season when the club finished sixth. Antonelli won 20 games in 1956, when again the team wound up sixth.

The supporting cast simply was not there.

Which brings us to the quartet of rookies which has made the team jell: Namely first baseman Orlando Cepeda, catcher Bob Schmidt, right fielder Willie (Boom Boom) Kirkland and third baseman Jim Davenport. Throw in 19-year-old pitcher Mike McCormick and we have the answer to a ball club which obviously, as of now, isn't going to pull an el foldo.

The 20-year-old Cepeda so far has done everything right to spark the infield and Davenport is a superior glove man. The 25-year-old Schidt has closed a catching gap and the 24-year-old Kirkland is doing a solid job.

McCormick has been another surprise. A $60,000 bonus baby when signed in August of 1956, in two years he won three games. Pitching with remarkable poise, he has won four games in the last three weeks.

In re-evaluating the National League, you still have to hand the overall award to the Braves, but it has become obvious that there are new challengers. The Cardinals, Redlegs and Dodgers are going back. It is the Giants and, surprisingly enough, the Pirates, who are coming on as the teams of the future.

Pittsburgh has a sound club. It's weakness is in lack of reserves.

Dick Groat, at shortstop is the Pee Wee Reese type and Bill Mazeroski at second is the best double play man in the league. Hank Foiles probably is the best catcher in the league right now, with Roy Campanella gone and Cincinnati's Ed Bailey in a slump.

Frank Thomas at third, an outfield composed of Roberto Clemente, Bob Skinner and Bill Virdon and three good pitchers in Bob Friend, Ron Kline and Vern Law give Pittsburgh a club which needs only reserves and some help here and there to be a real bidder.

"I do think that with a little more polish I will be able to turn pro in January at the end of the football season," he said.

Cops Halt Pirate Rhubarb

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The San Francisco Giants and Pittsburgh Pirates tangled in a 15-minute rhubarb at Forbes Field yesterday. Park police and umpires finally broke it up.

It all began in the fourth inning of the first game after Giant pitcher Ruben Gomez hit Pirate second sacker Billy Mazeroski. Umpire Frank Dascoli warned Gomez.

In the fifth Vernon Law of the Pirates cut loose with a fast high pitch and sent Gomez sprawling to the ground. Dascoli ripped off his mask and started for the mound to warn Law.

Danny Murtaugh, Pirates manager, leaped out of the dugout and headed for the mound. On the way he looked in Gomez's direction and pointed a finger to his forehead.

Danny also had a comment for the Giant's pitcher. Gomez in return made a gesture that Murtaugh did not like and the Pirate manager went after him.

Giant Coach Herman Franks tried to restrain Murtaugh but he broke away and tried to throw a couple of punches at Gomez. The Giant pitcher twice swung his bat at Martaugh, but he missed.

By this time, the players and coaches of both teams were pushing, shoving and mauling each other at home plate. A few fisticuffs also broke out in the stands.

Later, Murtaugh said umpire Dascoli blamed him for starting the fracas. He was right as Dascoli later pointed out.

Said Dascoli: "I warned Gomez when he struck Mazeroski. I likewise warned Law when Gomez had to go down. All the umpires can do is enforce the law. Murtaugh was the aggressor when he charged after Gomez. The ruckus then started in earnest."

Said Murtaugh: "The reason I charged Gomez let us say is that he made an uncomplimentary gesture towards me. I saw red and went after him. They tell me he swung a bat at me, but that I did not see."

Dascoli said an official report will be made to the National League headquarters. He did not indicate whether he and the other umpires would recommend any fines. Murtaugh was the lone participant banned from the game.

The league-leading Giants won the double-header 5-2 and 6-1.

Hoad Leaves Kramer Tour

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Australian Lew Hoad today hoped a series of heat treatments would cure an "inflammation of the sciatic nerve" in his right leg which forced his withdrawal from the Jack Kramer pro tennis tour.

Hoad, former Davis Cup and Wimbledon champion, left the tour in Denver Friday night after losing his seventh straight series to world tennis champion Pancho Gonzales. He was trailing Pancho 48-34.

The Aussie's physician, Omar Fareed, said the treatments should have Hoad ready for Kramer's professional tournament at Forest Hills, N.Y., early next month. Hoad returned here over the weekend.

High Lakes Fishing Tops

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Thousands found the fishing exceptional as the trout season opened Saturday in the High Cascade lakes in Central Oregon.

Anglers found fishing superb at Paulina and East Lakes, where 6,000 fishermen converged early Saturday.

The weather was cold, and a chill mist hung over the two lakes. But scores of fishermen took their limites by 9 a.m.

Hundreds of boats clogged the two lakes and some fishermen reported taking trout up to 17 inches long.

State police directing a bumper-to-bumper flow of traffic said catches also were running far beyond earlier expectations at Craine Prairie Reservoir and Big Lava Lake.

The high lake anglers weren't the only ones to report food fishing Saturday. The state also opened coast streams and rivers —and fishing there also was good.

On the upper reaches of the Siletz River, trout were biting well on Schooner and Drift creeks.

Bill Rogers of Cutler City said that, using worms, he took a limit of cutthroat trout up to 16 inches.

Campy Sits Up

Ex-Dodger Catcher Offered Fight Post

NEW YORK (AP) — A new life dawned for Roy Campanella today.

The ex - Dodger catcher and three-time Most Valuable Player in the National League was lifted out of bed and placed in a wheel chair for the first time since his tragic automobile accident, Jan. 28 left him paralyzed from the waist down.

His playing days over, Campy not only found himself off his back, but all set to take up a new job offered to him by New York's Gov. Averell Harriman.

The state's chief executive looked in on Campanella yesterday and told him that an $8,000-a-year post as deputy boxing commissioner was his for the asking.

"His face lit up and he said he had always been interested in boxing and would be glad to take on the job," reported Gov. Harriman.

The governor said Campy can start the job right now while under-going treatment at the New York University-Bellevue Medical Center if he desires.

"A minimum effort on the part of Roy is tantamount to a maximum contribution to boxing," Gov. Harriman added. "He will give the public a guarantee of honest boxing."

Gov. Harriman, once an ardent Dodger fan, said Campy appeared "as fit as I've ever seen him," except for the fact that his neck is in a brace to prevent further injury to his spine.

Dr. Donald A. Covalt, assistant director of the department treating Campy reported a "limited locomotion of both arms."

"Campy is overjoyed at being kept busy here," said Covalt. "After a full day of exercise the second day he was here, he said he slept well for the first time since the accident."

In the three weeks he has been at the hospital Campy has learned to feed himself with a device strapped to his wrist and forearms.

Aragon Aims For Martinez

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Art Aragon, clowning Golden Boy of California boxing, today planned to make his next battle a "big one" against either Vince Martinez or Virgil Akins.

Aragon mixed low comedy with wild punches Saturday night in his 101st professional match to score a technical knockout over Alfonso Flores, 153, billed as the welterweight champion of Mexico.

Flores, Torreon, Mexico, failed to answer the bell for the seventh round. The Mexican fighter, a 10-1 underdog in the 10-rounder, was cut and bleeding badly. Aragon, 155 1-2, knocked him down in the sixth for a count of two.

Paul Caruso, Aragon's manager, said he would try to match Aragon with the winner of the welterweight title fight June 6 between Martinez and Akins.
