

CHARLES E. SEAVEY will describe working of wrist radio and automatic electronic equipment to Klamath Falls service clubs this week in talk entitled "Tomorrow's Magic Carpet."

PT&T Man To Visit Basin

A "magic carpet" that will take drudgery out of work and create new jobs will be described to local service clubs by Charles E. Seavey during a three-day visit here.

A public relations supervisor for Pacific Telephone and one-time manager in Klamath Falls for the company, Seavey will discuss the effect of automation and scientific progress on industry, business and other areas of life. The title of his talk, according to Dick Bailey, manager is "Tomorrow's Magic Carpet."

Seavey is scheduled to address a joint meeting of the Rotary and Kiwanis clubs on May 29. He will have an open-date available for other groups on May 28.

Seavey will explain and demonstrate some of the important principles of electronic equipment such as built-in memory, feedback and automatic self-correction.

He will show how transistors are used in transmission of information from satellites and also how a "Dick Tracy" type wrist radio works.

Forest Funds Go To School

DORRIS — Siskiyou County Board of Education members apportioned $135,525 in funds received from the U.S. Forest Service to Siskiyou County schools.

The board had earlier taken a tour of Yreka area schools at Hornbrook, Willow Creek, Bogus, Fall Creek, Delphic and Little Shasta, escorted by county superintendent of schools, Eddie Roberts.

Roberts said Friday that the members had also approved the purchase of seven new films for the county schools audio-visual department, which is directed by Paul Fisher, assistant county school superintendent.

Life diplomas were granted to George Sorenson of Etna High School in general secondary and special secondary vocational; and Harley J. Zeller of Tulakele Elementary, in general elementary. They appointed Fern Thornton to replace Eileen McBroom, recently resigned from the Sawyer's Bar Elementary School Board of Trustees.

Roberts said the next meeting of the board will be held June 26 in Yreka.

Chamber Views Airport Slides

Picture slides of new, modern airport administration buildings were viewed Tuesday morning by the Commerce Chamber's Aviation and Military Affairs Committee.

The committee seeks to promote interest in a new Klamath Falls Airport administration building. Slides shown by member Dick Bailey showed recently-built buildings at Visalia, Bakersfield, Salinas and Monterey. They ranged in cost from $40,000 to $360,000.

The federal government will pay from some 45 per cent to 54 per cent of the cost of such structures, Bailey said.

Architect John Howard explained details of the buildings. In general, they provide facilities for a restaurant, ticket purchases, baggage room, one or more airline offices, car rental office, parking spaces, a CAA office, a lounge and a meeting room. The committee, through discussion, is endeavoring to decide on the kind of building that would be most feasible for Klamath Falls Airport.

Walter McIntyre presided over the meeting.

Group Considers Street Surfacing

DUNSMUIR—The surfacing of streets of the Kaleta subdivision will be reconsidered at the next council meeting, Mayor J. Morgan Jones stated.

The possibility of passing the costs of oiling the streets to the adjoining property owners as a street assessment will be discussed, Jones said. The council originally gave developers assurance the streets would be surfaced as soon as possible in order to assure FHA approval of home construction. The job has been estimated at $3,400.

At last week's council meeting, Mrs. C. H. Dodwell protested the proposed work pointing out that residents in older portions of town were still paying street assessment and that surfacing subdivision streets might establish an expensive precedent.

Jones said he talked the matter over with Councilman George Manne after the meeting, but no official decision can be made until the next council meeting.

Dom Sirianni, real estate man, pointed out the streets in north Dunsmuir were surfaced at county expense and improved at city expense following annexation. He favors the city doing the work as a means of broadening the tax base with new home development.

"Molly Maguires" were members of a secret terrorist society in the anthracite coal regions of Pennsylvania in the 1870s.

Road Group Seeks Bids

Bids on two projects in Klamath County will be received by the Oregon State Highway Commission at its next regular meeting in Salem, Thursday.

One project calls for 3.28 miles of grading and paving work on the middle unit of the Crescent Lake Junction-The Dalles-California Junction section of the Willamette Highway, about 40 miles northeast of Oakridge. Plans in general call for widening the existing highway to provide a 22-foot asphaltic concrete pavement flanked by eight-foot stone shoulders, four feet of which, adjacent to the pavement, is to be oiled to prevent infiltration of water at pavement edges. On ascending grades, an additional 11-foot lane of pavement is to be provided for slow moving vehicles. This section is to be constructed under traffic.

The other project calls for the paving of Second Avenue between Blockinger Street and the city hall in the city of Chiloquin. The asphaltic concrete pavement will be 20 feet in width with a three-foot stone shoulder on each side. Pavement and new stone base will also be placed on Blockinger Street between Second Avenue and the west city limits. Both projects are scheduled for completion in the fall of 1958.

Auditorium Scene Of Graduation

LAKEVIEW — Graduation exercises will be held at the high school auditorium in Lakeview Thursday evening at 8 o'clock, May 29, for 71 members of the eighth grade classes.

Valedictorian for the class is Nancy Galloway and salutatorian is Craig Mackay. Other awards for the year will be announced by Stanley J. Tooke, junior high principal, and diplomas will be handed out by Lew Harris, vice chairman of the district school board.

Music will be furnished by the junior high band under the direction of James Arment, with individual presentations also included.

The social and graduation dance following the ceremonies will be held in the auditorium of the A. D. Hay School.
