From California—Dr. and Mrs. Beck Trial Set For Fall

SEATTLE (AP) — Dave Beck's trial on charges of evading payment of $240,000 in income taxes appears likely to get under way in the early fall.

U.S. District Judge George H. Boldt confirmed Wednesday that he has instructed attorneys in the case to keep themselves free after September 15.

Beck originally had been scheduled to go on trial in Judge Boldt's court in Tacoma on May 5, but a postponement was granted at the request of attorneys for both sides.

The delay was to allow the lawyers to agree on stipulations on the validity of more than 1,000 exhibits to be submitted by the Justice Department.

Before the trial date can be set the judge must rule on several defense motions seeking dismissal of the indictments, a change of venue or a further postponement.

The charges against Beck cover the years 1950-53. He has denied them.

Cupid Finds Bars No Bar

Romance flourished in a jail cell in Bly.

But only briefly, and with expensive results. In the role of cupid was Sheriff's Deputy Jess Bryant who halted an auto driven by a 30-year-old woman on U.S. Highway 66 near Bly.

Both ladies, said the deputy, were all too obviously under the influence. Bryant gallantly proffered a ride in his squad car to the calaboose at Bly.

Upon arriving there and being deposited in a cell, the ladies discovered to their pleasure that four young men were the occupants of the next cell.

The only thing separating a budding romance was a cement block wall.

Such an obstacle might easily have discouraged the timid at heart. But not the woman and her young friend—a robust lass, indeed, who weighs in at a mere 200, according to Bryant.

At least one cement block was removed and presto! there were inter-connecting cells, so to speak.

After Deputy Bryant discovered this state of affairs and again isolated the parties, court appearances were in order.

The woman driver's outcome: 60 days in jail and a $404.50 fine.

Her companion: held for juvenile court.

The sheriff's office said an attempt would be made to collect cell damages from the two women.

The four youths still await court appearances.

Editor Cites Fight Stand

NEW YORK (AP) — John N. Heiskell, 85-year-old editor and president of the Pulitzer Prize-winning Arkansas Gazette, said today his paper's fight was "for law and order and obedience to the courts of the United States," not for integration as such.

Referring to the newspaper's stand during the Little Rock school integration crisis, Heiskell said, "In spite of material losses, vicious attack and glaring misrepresentations, the Arkansas Gazette would make the same decision" if met by the challenge again.

Heiskell's remarks were in a speech prepared for delivery at a luncheon of the Columbia Graduate School of Journalism.

Heiskell was designated yesterday as the recipient of the university's first Columbia Journalism award. The new award is intended as an annual citation for singular journalistic performance in the public interest.

Earlier this month, the Gazette received the 1958 Pulitzer Prize for meritorious service. Its executive editor, Harry S. Ashmore, received the prize for editorial writing.

Church Report Says U.S. Has Bad Foreign Relations

By GEORGE W. CORNELL AP Religion Writer

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A report before a newly unified Presbyterian Church charged today that America is practicing a "kind of international hypocrisy" in its foreign relations.

And a warning was sounded that God may use "Communist or other godless powers" to punish such conduct.

A strongly worded document, recommended for adoption by the founding assembly of the new three million member United Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A., referred to what was termed the "myth of the free world," and added: "Our fathers' concept of freedom is being debased. This nation counts among its allies some nations which are in no sense free."

"By our actions we proclaim to the world that lands where human freedom is utterly dead can qualify for membership in the free world simply by supplying military bases or strategic commodities."

"This kind of international hypocrisy should be abhorrent to Christians, and in its presence the church cannot keep silent."

The 2,500-word paper was drawn up by the Administration Board of the United Presbyterian Church and the General Council of the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A., which yesterday merged into one denomination.

AF Reveals Missile Plans

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — The Air Force disclosed tentative plans today to operate Bomarc guided missile sites with Air National Guard or Air Force Reserve units.

Lt. Gen. William E. Hall, chief of the Continental Air Command which supervises reserve activities, said the character of interceptor missiles may be such that the sites could better be manned by reservists than by regulars.

Hall said, in a report prepared for delivery to the Aviation Writers Assn. annual meeting, that interceptor missiles such as the new 400-mile Bomarc actually may never have to be fired. Thus, he said, the essential part of manning the sites may become one of maintenance — for periods of months or years.

"It is entirely possible that there will be psychological factors concerning such an operation that can better be met by reservists than by members of the active force," Hall said.

A May 6 memorandum from the office of Gen. Curtis LeMay, Air Force vice chief of staff, ordered an investigation into the possible use of Air Reserve technicians in the Bomarc program.
