

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

By Clayton Hannon

Oregon high lakes and several of the choice streams east of the Cascades opened for the first time this season last Saturday and thousands of anglers invaded their favorite fishing spots over the weekend. Most of the streams and lakes throughout the state had opened April 16.

Diamond Lake which was jammed with 1,400 boats and an estimated 4,000 to 5,000 people on opening day last year, looked bare last weekend as only 257 boats and less than 900 anglers turned out Saturday morning. About the same number were in attendance Sunday.

But the fish were not missing. The anglers who opened the Diamond Lake season had one of the finest weekends on record as most took home their limits of "over 12-inchers" both days. The average catch ranged from 13 to 17 inches, which is a real nice kamaloop. Very few of the "under 12" fish were caught according to game officers reports.

The brilliant opening weekend is expected to draw a large number of anglers this weekend, a three-day vacation for most people. Last weekend, camping space was open everywhere, but the word is out and tent spots may be harder to find this week. Lake officials are expecting a good turnout over the Memorial Day weekend.

To the north, East and Paulina lakes were both very good on the first weekend, but the anglers packed the crowded campgrounds with boat and house trailers, causing several traffic jams. Most of the limit catches were taken on worms and single eggs by still fishermen. A few nice size rainbows and german browns were hooked by trollers.

Big Lava and Cultus lakes both were good for the smaller pan-sized trout with many anglers claiming the two-day, possession limits of 20 fish per person. Crane Prairie Reservoir in the Bend-LaPine area was also good, but crowded with anxious anglers.

The Thursday, Friday and Saturday rain storms put the damper on what was expected to be a fine opening on the Williamson and Wood rivers here and made fishing the Deschutes and Little Deschutes tough.

Saturday morning, some lunkers—including one that scaled better than 13 and three others that went over 10 pounds—were taken from the Williamson, but the action soon died down to a walk. The already high water wasn't helped by the down pours prior to the opening.

Wood River, which looked high but still in fairly good shape earlier last week, turned muddy with all of the rain and fishing there was poor. A few catches, including the usual number of first-day german brown beauties were reeled on worms opening day.

Heavy King To Meet Foe

NEW YORK (UPI)—Floyd Patterson will defend his heavyweight crown for the third time in July, somewhere outside New York State, it was learned today. Manager Gus D'Amato is expected to announce the challenger and the site at any hour now.

Young Patterson will change training camps on Monday and begin serious preparations for the defense. He has been conditioning off and on, for four months at the Long Pond Inn, Greenwood Lake, N. Y.

He will shift to the spunky Kutscher's Country Club, Monticello, N. Y., to have more privacy in his own cottage and more room to work in a large arena. D'Amato has been negotiating with five different promoters and five different managers but has steadfastly refused to disclose any information about the negotiations "lest some one try to prevent the match before it's signed."

He is a bitter crusader against the International Boxing Club. Some boxing men guess that unbeaten Roy Harris will get the title shot in a fight at Houston, Tex. But that's only their guess.

It is rumored that Texas backers have offered a large guarantee to Patterson.

Hurler Sets Comeback Bid

By United Press International
Rudy Minarcin set his sights for another major league comeback Wednesday night by tossing a four-hitter as Toronto shutout Columbus, 6-0.

Minarcin, a former Cincinnati and Boston hurler, racked up his fifth victory against two setbacks as the Maple Leafs climbed to within a game of the second-place Rochester Red Wings in the International League race.

Rocky Nelson, the league's top home run hitter, aided Minarcin's cause with his 16th circuit clout. Stan Lok chipped in with his fifth, as Miami edged Rochester, 1-0 in the way for the Red Wings but lost out when he issued a run in extra-inning play.

In the only other game played, Havana tallied twice in the eighth inning to beat Buffalo, 6-5. Vicente Amor won his first game of the season after suffering five straight setbacks.

Richmond and Montreal were rained out.

Oregon Prepper Sians For Bonus

HERMISTON, Ore. (AP)—Keith Friend, 18, a high school pitcher who graduated Tuesday, was signed Wednesday to a bonus contract with the Cleveland Indians.

Friends, a righthander with a 40 record this season, will report to the Indians' farm club of the Class C Northern League at Mount, N.D. He said he received a $6,000 bonus.

Bud Blenker set a record for Georgia Tech's basketball team last season by making 182 field goals. He held the former record of 161 set the previous season.

Peak Resigns PE Post

KF Schools To Lose 31-Year Staff Chief

By CLAYTON HANNON
Herald-News Sports Writer

Joe Peak, for 31 years connected with athletics and physical education in the Klamath Falls school system, announced Wednesday he had submitted his resignation as director of physical education and health of the city schools.

The resignation announcement by Peak came as a big surprise and opens a very important position in the schools' supervisory department. Peak, who established the first physical education and health program here in Klamath Falls, has been in the local schools since 1927.

After handily in his resignation to Superintendent Arnold Grallap Wednesday, Peak announced he was moving his home to Brookings, Oregon. With Joe will go his wife, Fern, who has been a member of the city school teaching staff for over 20 years. Mrs. Peak has accepted a position in the Brookings High School English department.

Peak said his first year at Brookings will be spent building a home. "After that," he added, "we'll have to wait and see." Peak did say he had two or three things which have opened up for him, but would not disclose them at this time.

Right out of the University of Oregon, Peak came to Klamath Falls in 1927 for the purpose of establishing and organizing a physical education and health program for the city schools. He kept this position until 1937 when he purchased half ownership in a local sporting goods and hardware dealership. In 1940 he sold out and returned to Klamath Union High School as a health and science teacher and coach of freshman and Wildcat (sophomore) sports.

In 1941, Peak served as backfield coach for Buck Hammer, the Pelcan football coach at that time. The following year he assisted football mentor Frank Ramsey with the Pelicans as backfield tutor. During 1942, Joe was named as director of athletics and physical education for all the city schools. He held that position until 1957 when he stepped out of the high school athletic program to devote all his time to the city's PE and health schedule.

While here, Peak has served on the city parks and recreation board for 16 years and worked with the city recreation department. Joe directed the recreation swimming program for several years and organized the boys' Victory League basketball play which started in 1942. He has also worked on several statewide physical education and health curriculum committees.

"I feel Klamath Falls' school children have a fine physical education program," Peak said Wednesday, "and as in everything else, there is still some room for improvement. When I first came to Klamath Falls, there wasn't a gym in the city. The high school (Klamath County High School at that time) played in the old legion building. Now every grade school, junior high and high school has at least one gymnasium and good locker room and shower facilities. That's more than some school systems have now," Peak added.

"It is hard to leave Klamath Falls," Peak remarked. "It's been good to us, but the opportunity in Brookings affords us a chance to improve our positions. I have enjoyed working with the administration, faculty and students here, all of which I will miss greatly."

Peak and his wife have a son, Jim, who graduated from the University of Oregon last spring with a science education degree. He is now stationed at Fort Lewis, Washington.

The Peaks plan to move in early July.

Golfers Vie In Western

DETROIT (UPI)—Par is sure to take a whipping in the 72-hole 55th Western Open golf tournament beginning today at the Red Run golf club with a more brilliant field than even the U. S. Open will command at Tulsa.

Don January slashed six strokes off the par 72 layout in the final warmup rounds Wednesday with Guy Brewer of Lexington, Ky., turning in a 67 on the flat course.

Lloyd Mangrum, 1946 U. S. Open champion and winner of the 1952 and 1954 westerns, called the Western contestants the best field ever entered "any place, including the one they'll have in Tulsa for the Open."

Only Ben Hogan and Jack Burke of the "big" names are missing from the list of 132 professionals and 19 amateurs going for the $25,000 pot with the winner taking $5,000.

Ken Venturi, hottest player on the tour, Sam Snead, Arnold Palmer and, surprisingly, Dr. Cary Middlecoff, are the chief favorites.

Middlecoff hasn't won a tournament in two years but he's been shooting in the 60s and said he feels strong.

Snead never has been able to win in Detroit. A miserable 10 on a par 4 hole killed his chances in the Western here last year on the Plum Hollow course.

The pros predicted the winner will have a four-day total of 272 to 280—par is 288 and the course record is 274.

Tourney Won By Gonzales

SEATTLE (AP)—Pancho Gonzales won the one-night professional tennis tournament here Wednesday night by defeating Pancho Segura 6-6 in the final.

Segura entered the finals after eliminating Australia's Ken Rosewall, 8-4.

Tony Trabert almost upset the former national amateur champion but he committed several costly double faults. Leading 6-4 at game 11, the former Cincinnati U. star grabbed three straight points and then dropped the decision, double faulting on the final point.

The victory gave Gonzales the winner-take-all prize of $1,200.

Good Weather Seen For Running Of '500'

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The Weather Bureau offered 10-1 odds today for good weather at the start of the 42nd 500-mile auto race tomorrow but said chances were only 6-1 that the gasoline classic won't be interrupted by rain.

A possibility of 70-degree temperature—prime for reducing tire wear and saving fuel—cheered drivers called together by Chief Steward Harlan Fengler for their annual instruction meeting.

Moyer-Mueller Bout Postponed

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — The scheduled 16-round bout between Phil Moyer of Portland and German Middleweight Peter Mueller has been delayed to give Mueller a little more time to sleep.

The delay from June 3 to June 16 was announced Wednesday by Moyer's uncle, Portland promoter Tommy Moyer, who said the German boxer has been unable to sleep since arriving here last week.

Buffalo will play host to the 1958 Women's International Bowling Congress tournament.

Fengler outlined a new lineup procedure and explained there is only a slim possibility that an alternate will get into the lineup. No alternatives will be used unless disabling mechanical defects are discovered among the 33 qualified cars before 8:30 a. m. tomorrow, when all engines must be turned off until the race starts.

Last year's start under a new system was fouled up so badly that two cars were wrecked before they reached the starting line.

After numerous wrecks in the 1956, including one in the pits, the pits were moved away from the track and behind a concrete retaining wall.

The new arrangement did away with the old system of wheeling cars out of their pits and lining them up in 11 three-car rows before the engines were started. The drivers started the engines in their pits, then scrambled into the proper order as the pace car made a parade lap.

The flaw in the system was that the cars in the half-mile row of pits were not arranged in starting order. Tomorrow the cars will be lined up in proper order, single file, on the pit apron.
