Rook, Mays Pace Giants Over Leader

By United Press International SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The hot bats of Orlando Cepeda and Willie Mays had the San Francisco Giants back in business again even if they have not entirely come out of their private recession.

Cepeda collected four singles Wednesday, as did Mays, and drove home the winning run in the 12th inning by hitting a one-bagger to right which brought Jim Finigan loping in from second base for a 5-4 triumph over Milwaukee.

However, the Braves remained on top of the National League and led Manager Bill Rigney's second place club by 10 percentage points.

Tonight Ramon Monzant (4-3) is scheduled to start against Cincinnati's Harvey Haddix (3-3) as the Redlegs move in for a four game series.

TAKES LOSS

A crowd of 19,891 watched the Giants snap a two-game losing streak to the Braves at the expense of long Gene Conley, the 6 foot, 8 inch former basketball player who suffered his fourth loss and still has to win a game.

Mays opened the 12th with a single then tried to come all the way around on Finigan's two-bagger to right. Willie was thrown out at the plate. Then Cepeda rapped a Conley pitch out to right field to send Finigan and the crowd home.

Southpaw Jim Constable, who was the fourth Giant pitcher to work and only hurled the 12th inning, got his first win of the year.

LEFTIES SHELLED

The game started as a left-handed duel between Johnny Antonelli and Warren Spahn. Antonelli was combed for 11 hits and taken out in the eighth after Johnny Logan greeted him with a home run and Andy Palko followed with a single. Ruben Gomez then gave up two more singles, the second one by Felix Mantilla chasing in Palko to make the score 4-4. That's the way it stayed until the 12th.

Milwaukee took a 2-0 lead in the third inning with Joe Adcock and Wes Covington each stinging Antonelli with run-scoring singles. The Giants tied it in the fourth on a crashing double to right center by Ray Jablonski which chased in Daryl Spencer and Mays.

San Francisco moved ahead, 4-2, in the 6th after the first two batters had gone down. Mays singled and raced to third when Spahn threw wildly trying to pick him off base. He scored on Jablonski's single and "Jabbo" rumbled home on Hank Sauer's single through the box after being moved along on Cepeda's first hit of the day.

NO CENTER JUMP

LARAMIE, Wyo. (AP)—Ever hear of a basketball game without a center jump to open either the first or second half? It happened at Laramie last season when Oklahoma City University played Wyoming. As the game was about to begin, Referee Marty Nash called a technical foul against the Oklahomans for having a uniform number higher than 55. When the teams reported for the second half, Nash announced a technical foul against Wyoming because of remarks Coach Ev Shelton made to him in the corridor between the halves. Thus, each half started with a free throw instead of the center tipoff. Oklahoma City won the game 89-71.

ICE FISHING

ST. PAUL (AP)—Minnesota's largest annual temporary housing project came down overnight. Roughly 112,000 ice fishing houses were ordered towed off the state's 10,000 lakes with the wind-up of the winter fishing season. Biggest concentration was 3,027 on Mille Lacs Lake.

Yogi Berra of the Yankees has averaged 27 home runs a season during the last eight years.

Bums-Braves Game Cinch Dollar Boom

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The Dodgers, first in the hearts of their new Los Angeles countrymen but last in the National League, go up against the world champion Milwaukee Braves in a game assured of being a financial success.

Los Angeles sends Don Drysdale against the fearsome Braves in the hope he can make it an artistic success before the 60,000 fans expected in Memorial Coliseum. The Va Nays, Calif., hurler, slots a meager 2-3 record. INTEREST IS HIGH

Fred Haney, the Los Angeles-born manager of the Braves, announced Lew Budette (4-3) would take the mound for Milwaukee's first appearance here. Haney managed the Hollywood Stars before his present major league stint and the big turnout was expected to give him a belated ovation for winning the world series last fall.

So strong was the interest in Milwaukee's first appearance here that the three-game series may draw almost as many people as the home opening set with San Francisco, which attracted 167,209 fans.

The Dodgers, flushed with a win over Cincinnati, had entertained fleeting thoughts of getting out of the cellar Thursday. A Los Angeles win and a Philadelphia loss would have done it.

But the Phillies won and the Dodgers lost to the Redlegs, 8-4.

SHORT HOMERS

The Redlegs sent their top hurler, Bob Purkey, to the mound and he notched his fourth straight win and seventh of the season against one loss, aiding his own cause by smacking the second home run of his career over the short left field screen.

Teammate Don Hoak homered into the same area for the Redlegs, while Gil Hodges of the Dodgers dropped one there in the ninth.

The Redlegs mauled four Dodger pitchers for 13 hits, sending starter Carl Erskine to the showers in the fourth. But he might have done better for himself and the Dodgers if he had stayed.

Manager Walt Alston gave Erskine the hook with the score tied 3-3 because he had two men on base, one of them as the result of Dick Gray's error.

But reliever Don Bessent served up a triple to Johnny Temple and there went the ball game.

Purkey was touched for eight hits but he pitched six scoreless innings after the Dodgers scored three runs in the first two stanzas.

By OSCAR FRALEY

United Press International NEW YORK (UPI)—Casey Stengel, old "old perferer", can count another record today in addition to those eight pennants and six world championships in nine seasons with the New York Yankees.

Old Case has outlasted 47 other major league managers during his decade in the house that Ruth built.

This may not stop many presses, but it points up once again the fact that being a major league manager is an occupation where continued employment is rightfully notorious for being on the short side. Some skippers, it might be noted, have been canned after finishing first.

Whether Casey's artful manipulations of his brawny talent or the accrual of same by the front office is responsible for the Yankee successes won't be debated here. But when it comes to managers, nothing succeeds like success.

Old Case, the left-handed dentist from Kansas City, is wrinkled proof of that. To further the point, let it be recognized that the guiding genius of the competing Yankee athletes is — along with Marty Marion — one of the champion commuters among various dugouts.

Marion holds the laurels over the last decade, having been boss man of the bench with the Cardinals and, over in the other league, with the White Sox and Orioles. Three jobs is the most for the last 10 years.

Cards 4, Bucs 3

The Cards scored two unearned runs in the third and bagged it with two in the fourth as Gene Green hit an RBI double and scored on Curt Flood's single. Bob Friend lost his fourth. Wilmer Mizell won his third.

Phillies 7, Cubs 6

Harry Anderson's three-run double and Stan Lopata's follow-up sixth homer gave the Phillies five in a clinching seventh against losing reliever Don Elston (6-3). Ray Semproch (5-4) won it in relief.

Stengel Still Going Strong

But Casey did his share of traveling, too, before he became the gifted manager of this era. He managed at Brooklyn from 1934 to 1936 and piloted the erstwhile Braves of Boston from 1938 through 1943. In those days the genius was called a stiff, when they kept it that polite.

A total of 125 managers has come and gone since Stengel accepted the reins at Brooklyn in 1934. Stengel was two of them. The biggest turnover in that period was in the National League, disconsolate directors of the double play bowed in and out. The top dugout redecorator was the St. Louis Browns-Baltimore Orioles who, since Stengel was a novice at Brooklyn, have had 12 pilots.

Casey and Marion weren't the only league hoppers. During the checker playing of the decade in which Stengel has been with the Yankees, jumps also were made by Steve O'Neill and Rogers Hornsby.
