Needy Thief Hits Laundry

Police officers at 1:30 a.m. today observed the safe door ajar at the Cascade Laundry, 330 South Seventh Street and went inside to investigate. Except for an open alley door they found all in order, locked the door, assuming it had inadvertently been left open, and departed. They had no way of knowing that a determined burglar, apparently done in need of clothes, had already done his evening's work before the police arrived. The thief escaped with a passable wardrobe, to wit: four shirts, six pairs of pants and a sport coat to go with them. He was also fortunate in finding a suitcase to put his loot in. The burglary was not reported until work-time this morning by Cascade employees. Investigating officers said the burglar entered the establishment from the ventilator on the alley-side of the building. He managed to force the blade of a ventilator fan to one side and crawled through, police surmised. He evidently left by the back door and forgot to close it. It was the third time in recent months that the laundry has been looted.

Ochoa was southbound when a vehicle driven by Richard H. Gallagher pulled in front of the Ochoa car while making a turn off the highway. Gallagher was treated at Hillside Hospital for minor injuries. Police said that no citations have been issued.

Canine Used As Lookout

WESTHAMPTON BEACH, N.Y. (AP)—A young airman has been accused of using his German shepherd dog as a lookout while he committed a series of burglaries and a holdup. Charged yesterday with first-degree robbery was Airman I.C. Richard Weiner, 25, attached to the Suffolk County Air Force Base here. Weiner was one of a dozen man-dog teams which patrol the base. About three weeks ago, he reported that he and his dog chased a safe cracker. Authorities became suspicious and began questioning Weiner. He said he admitted burglarizing quarters at the base and holding up a gas station at nearby Calverton. Total loot was put at about $1,200. Weiner assertedly taught his dog to maintain watch while he went to work. Weiner was held in $2,500 bail for grand jury action. He has a wife, Joyce, and a small daughter in Carnegie, Okla.

Driver Receives Painful Injuries

A driver whose witnesses said was apparently in too big a hurry received painful injuries Thursday when his car went out of control at Sixth and Broad streets and rammed into a parked truck trailer. Nicolas T. Murillo, 1317 Adams Street, was taken to Klamath Valley Hospital by Peace Ambulance and treated for a dislocated right hip. Police investigating the mishap said bystanders told them Murillo, driving a 1951 sedan, turned off South Sixth Street onto Broad Street apparently in too big a hurry. The right front of his car crashed into the left rear of a trailer operated by O.N.C. Fast Freight. The trailer was damaged only slightly, police said, but Murillo's car may be a total wreck.

The man, Clyde Cloud, was found on the hill the next morning and taken to Klamath Valley Hospital where he was treated for shock, a broken arm and broken leg. Wilson and another policeman, Floyd Pierce, admitted taking Cloud up to the hill "so he could leave town," but denied beating him. No charges were brought against Pierce. Wilson, suspended from the force pending outcome of the trial, has been free on $2,500 bail. His trial originally began January 8, but ceased the next day when his attorney, Ben Goddard, died of a heart attack.

Tax Return Expenses Cut

SEATTLE (AP) — Uncle Sam figures he has lopped nearly four million dollars off the amount he spends each year helping taxpayers prepare their income tax returns. O. Gordon Delk, deputy commissioner of internal revenue, said today the saving has been made possible through a program of taxpayer education. In a speech prepared for the Western Regional Conference of the Controllers Institute of America, Delk said: "In the 1955 filing period, 14,600,000 individuals helped internal revenue service help in making out their returns. For the 1958 period, the figure dropped to 11 million." Three years ago, he added, the service spent an estimated $6,800,000 in assigning 12,000 employees to help taxpayers. This year, he said, only 7,300 employees were needed for the job and costs fell to less than three million dollars. The educational program has included books, pamphlets, publicity and the assistance of lawyers and accountants in telling in simple language how to file tax returns.
