

Whirlwind Romance Ends In Whirlwind Dash Across Sea For Too-Late Tears

By R. N. DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—It was love at first sight for international playboy Philip Schell and his millionaire bride from Houston, Elizabeth Schafer Chester—a regular whirlwind courtship.

But the reconciliation, if that's what it was, was more like a tornado.

Schell rode out of the east like a Texas twister, zoomed into the pink bedroom of his wife's rented mansion, clasped her in his arms and said her efforts to "resign"

Top Red Disappears From Scene

LONDON (UPI)—Mikhail A. Suslov, a Kremlin leader regarded as one of Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's most dangerous rivals, was said Saturday to have disappeared from the Moscow scene.

Authoritative reports from behind the Iron Curtain said that Suslov has not appeared in public since mid-May. Functions from which he has been conspicuously absent included the recent Communist "summit" meeting.

Speculation about Suslov's fate followed reports that ex-Premier Nikolai A. Bulganin, who dropped out of sight a month ago, has been "exiled" to a minor job in the Black Sea port of Odessa.

In the past, prolonged absence from official Moscow receptions has often been the first—and sometimes the only—indication that a member of the Soviet high command has fallen from favor.

Suslov is regarded as a fanatic supporter of the non-fashionable "Stalinist" policy line denounced by Khrushchev at the Communist Party's most recent Moscow convention.

Although little-known outside Russia, Suslov at 56 is one of the inner circle in Soviet affairs—a member of the all-powerful Presidium (Politburo), a secretary of the Communist Party and a former editor of Pravda.

Some observers regard him as second only to Khrushchev in the Kremlin hierarchy and a serious contender in the perennial Soviet struggle for power.

Early this week she sent the following cable to Schell: "Briefly, this is my resignation from marriage. "We were the victims of a nuclear tempo. These words are also to advise you not to come to me. If you come to this part of the world, where I have found sobriety from our false ecstasy, where I have regained equilibrium from the momentum of your courtship, I shall not see you. "Please stay in your world where you are worshipped. I shall always deeply regret whatever hurt these final words may bring you. But I refuse to hurt you more by pretending a love I do not possess. "It was signed simply "Liz" no "love," not even "best regards." But it was enough for Schell, a racing driver of the international racing set. He was off for Hollywood in what is known in the racing set as a Le Mans star—a sprint for the first available transportation.

Negro Professor Judged Incompetent After Trying To Enter All-White School

JACKSON, Miss. (UPI)—A Negro professor who tried to enroll at the all-white University of Mississippi has been found "mentally incompetent" by two state hospital doctors during the first two weeks he is at the hospital.

Clennon King was declared "mentally incompetent" by two doctors at a Chancery Court hearing Friday, and he went as plainclothes officers escorted him to the hospital at nearby Whitfield.

"They aren't doing me right," he said.

Even if he is ruled sane, King still faces charges of resisting arrest and disturbing the peace at Oxford Thursday.

Gov. J. P. Coleman said highway patrolmen carried King to the university administration building because he refused to leave after school officials gave him an indefinite answer on his application.

Knight Defends Naming Of Secretary To Post

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Gov. Goodwin J. Knight has defended his appointment of his legislative secretary, Paul Mason, to the Fourth District Court of Appeals in Fresno.

Knight said that Mason, who is also State Director of Motor Vehicles, "has had a long and distinguished career and he occupies a position of national prominence and prestige in the legal profession."

The governor's statement Friday came in answer to protests by State Sen. Hugh Burns (D-Fresno) that Mason's legal practice has been limited and that he lacks legal background to sit on the appellate court.

Burns demanded a public hearing in Fresno on Mason's qualifications.

"Traditionally appointments to the appellate court, one of the most important high courts in our state, have been made within the appellate district in which the jurist serves," Burns said.

"We have many outstanding judges in our own district fully qualified for such an important legal position."

Replying to Burns, Knight cited instances when former governors Earl Warren and Culbert L. Olson had appointed lawyers and judges from one county to benches in another county.

"The function of the governor is to appoint judges with the highest qualifications for our courts," Knight said. "The constitution does not provide that judges of the superior and appellate courts must be selected from specific cities or areas."

Korean In Honor Spot

STANFORD (UPI)—Harkjoon Park, a 21-year-old Korean, has been named as the first foreign student to serve as senior class orator in the history of Stanford University.

Harkjoon, the son of a Seoul physician, came to this country in 1953 and entered Stanford in 1954 on a Lions Club International scholarship.

While active in school affairs, the Korean helped finance his studies by working as a garbage collector, paper boy, baby-sitter, gardener and a dishwasher.

He completed his final term assignments by April 19 so he could take a job as wine steward at a Yosemite Park hotel, but will get weekend leave to deliver the senior oration at the June 14 commencement ceremonies.

Harkjoon's good grades as a history major permitted his acceptance into Stanford Law School which he enters next fall. When he graduates, he plans to return home to Korea to practice law.

WATER SKIER DIES
JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (UPI)—Professional water skier Alan Bromberg, 28, died Friday from injuries received in an aquatic accident several months ago.

Bromberg held the title of world champion water ski jumper. He performed at Cypress Gardens for nearly two years.

Labor Reform Bill Seen

WASHINGTON (UPI)—An important concession by Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark) made it almost certain Saturday that the Senate will pass a labor reform bill within the next two weeks.

Apparently bowing to political realities, the influential chairman of the Senate Rackets Committee announced he would support the so-called "moderate" anti-rackets bill approved 12-1 by the Senate Labor Committee Friday.

Sen. Barry M. Goldwater (R-Ariz) cast the lone dissenting vote. He wanted a much stronger measure.

Additional, McClellan strongly hinted he would help hold the line against the expected moves by some Republicans and southern Democrats to beef up the bill in the Senate floor. In that event, the amendments would have little chance of adoption.

If enacted into law the bill would become the most sweeping labor legislation since the 1947 Taft-Hartley Act. But prospects appeared dim for action by the House this year.

Goldwater described the committee measure as a "milk toast bill," but McClellan disagreed. "It isn't a soft bill," he said. "It isn't a drastic bill either."

The chief provisions of the bill would require unions at both national and local levels to hold secret ballot elections at frequent intervals and to file with the Secretary of Labor detailed reports on their finances.

U.S. Expels Red Worker

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The State Department disclosed Saturday that it has expelled a Soviet embassy third secretary for improperly trying to buy secret Army manuals and other material.

The expulsion was ordered in a brief note to the Russian Embassy Friday.

The secretary, Nicolai I. Kurockin, is expected to leave in one or two days.

The expulsion order came about three weeks after Russia expelled John A. Baker Jr., Second Secretary at the U.S. Embassy in Moscow, on a complaint that he was friendly with Russian students.

The State Department said Kurockin "was found to have paid hundreds of dollars to an American citizen for the improper procurement of United States Army manuals and other materials."

It said some of the documents he sought were classified as secret.

The department did not say whether Kurockin was a successful in obtaining the material.

It referred reporters to both the Justice and Defense Departments for answers to the American's identity, the exact amount of money involved, and other questions.

It was learned, however, that the American in the case was not a government employee nor a member of the Armed Services.

AF Blasts Civil Pilots

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Air Force, smarting under criticism that its jet pilots are a threat to air safety, says some civilian pilots have intruded on prohibited military air zones.

The Air Force coupled this charge Friday with a complaint that its pilots are getting jumpy because of allegations by airlines about near collisions with military planes.

The whole thing is "having an adverse effect upon morale and tactical effectiveness," investigators of the inspector general's office said in a report to Air Force headquarters.

The report, dealing with a recent complaint of a near collision between civilian and military aircraft, said investigators talked with jet pilots at George Air Force Base, Calif.

The investigators noted, the report said, "an acute awareness by these pilots of the dangers and problems inherent in the mid-air collision."

In an obvious reference to complaints that military jets often invade civilian air lanes, the report said Air Force radar stations "have noted numerous violations of restricted and prohibited areas by civilian aircraft."

Calgary Man Heads Shrine

PORTLAND (AP)—The president of the Northwest Shrine Assn. is Frank Fulton, Calgary, Alta.

He will preside over the next convention of the group which will be held in Calgary.

Fulton was elected as some 7,000 persons planned to participate in a parade through downtown Portland Saturday.

Other new officers include H. C. Anderson, Rawlins, Wyo.; Gordon Shafer, Vancouver, B. C.; and Gordon Goullager, Eugene, all vice presidents.

The association named Floyd Kinser, Tacoma, to a second term as secretary and Walter Nielly, Boise, was re-elected treasurer.

Spokane was picked for the 1959 convention.

Child Beaten To Death By Father

ATLANTA (UPI)—An 18-month-old boy died Friday night from injuries inflicted by his father, a day after another small child died here under similar circumstances.

Police said the boy, John Robert Campbell, was covered with bites and belt marks. Guilem Campbell, 25, Roswell, Ga., admitted he beat his son with a belt. "Then I got mad and bit him—I bit him all over," Campbell said.

John Robert died at an Atlanta hospital two hours after he was rushed to surgery.

Danny Summers, 3, died at a clinic Thursday night and his father, Harold C. Summers, 30, confessed to beating him with a belt for soiling his pants.

Stocks Surge To High For Year As Optimism In Markets Relieves Losses

By ELMER C. WALZER
UPI Financial Editor

NEW YORK (UPI)—Stocks surged to new highs for the year last week in a rise that restored more than $2,600,000,000 to market valuations.

The stock market now has risen more than $20 billion from its lows for the year set in February for the industrial shares and in the first session of the year for the railroad and utility groups.

The industrial average, rising in four out of the five sessions, finished the week at a new high since Sept. 19, 1947. Utilities finished at a new top since Oct. 3, 1950. Rails hit a new high since Oct. 16, 1957 on Thursday but backed down on Friday in the face of profit-taking.

The general market average, rising in every session except Wednesday, ended at its highest level since last Sept. 19.

Volume, on a daily average basis, rose to 2,705,000 shares, making this the most active week since early in May.

Market experts are divided on the market's future from here on out. Some believe the market has over-discounted the future of business and therefore has over-done the rise. However, the momentum of the upturn has not been checked, according to other experts, who look for a new drive in what they consider the traditional summer market rally.

Rails were in demand following news of a congressional drive to cut the excise tax on transportation, building and allied shares

British Scientist Asks 'Balance' As Answer To Russian Threats To World

He said the Free World was not engaged in a race which it will win or lose in a moment of time by matching or not matching certain feats of technology.

"What matters," he said, "is our general standard of achievement over the broad front and over the years. Our schools, colleges and universities must give us in full measure the scientists of tomorrow on whom we shall depend."

Sir Edwin spoke from the same platform upon which President Eisenhower proposed three years ago that the United States provide the money and "know how" to help other free nations obtain atomic research and power reactors.

The British scientists said the challenge of Russian science must be met "with all the skill and ingenuity of Western scientists and technologists."

"It is our duty as citizens of free countries to demonstrate in our society the full fruits of freedom. We must show to all the world the full splendor of human genius in all its forms, not only in science but in the whole field of ideas in one complete and balanced whole."

Recognizing that specialization can be both hopeful and harmful, Sir Edwin pointed out that while "the material prowess of our civilization is the achievement of science... it is the humanities which hold the key to the moral and intellectual values by which our material progress should be guided and must be judged."

Rooney, Wife To Split Up

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Mickey Rooney, 37, and his fourth wife are both seeking happiness—but they're going to look for it without each other.

"Elaine is a sweet girl. She deserves all the happiness there is," Mickey said Friday when word got out that his wife, actress Elaine Mahken, had consulted a lawyer about ending their six-year marriage.

"But I'm not a bad guy either," Mickey said without pride. "I feel I deserve happiness too."

"We just can't seem to find it together."

The talented actor-comedian who has been a show business star since his childhood said he didn't want to talk about his private life, but then he paused and said: "I guess my personal life is as private as a fish bowl."

Mickey said he and his wife woke up four years ago to find they were incompatible.

"I can't explain it," he said. "I guess we're just not temperamentally suited to each other."

Sub Sinking Hearing Held

HONOLULU (UPI)—A Navy enlisted man testified Friday he failed to hear an order to fire a red flare which might have prevented the loss of the submarine Stickleback.

The submarine went down in the Pacific 10 miles southwest of Pearl Harbor on May 29 after it was rammed by the destroyer escort Silverstein. All 82 crewmen were rescued.

Torpedoman 3-C John H. Phelps, 21, St. Louis, Mo., told a board of inquiry Friday he was in the after torpedo room when the sub's power died. Phelps said he failed to hear the skipper, Lt. Cmdr. Quinley Shulz, call for firing the flare.

The Stickleback was in a dive at the time, and surfaced under emergency conditions right into the path of the Silverstein.

Engineerman 1-C Leon Mungerson, 27, Riverside, Calif., testified that he thought fire broke out aboard the Stickleback just before the power failure.

LEGAL NOTICE

NOTICE OF SPECIAL SCHOOL ELECTION
NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN to the legal voters of School District No. 1 of Klamath County, State of Oregon, that a special budget election will be held within the boundaries of said school district at the Fremont School Building, located at 715 High Street in Klamath Falls, Klamath County, Oregon, on the 27th day of June, 1958, from the hour of 2:00 o'clock p.m. to the hour of 8:00 o'clock p.m., standard time, to vote on the question of (1) authorizing the levying of a tax in said School District No. 1 for the fiscal year beginning on July 1, 1958 and ending on June 30, 1959 on all the taxable property within said School District No. 1, outside the tax limitation imposed by Article XI, Section 11, of the Oregon Constitution, and (2) adopting or rejecting the following budget of estimated and itemized expenditures for said fiscal year.

The reasons for proposing the above special election are that sufficient funds cannot be raised for the operation and maintenance of said schools in the District for the fiscal year 1958-59 within the tax limits based upon the existing tax base of said District since the cost of instruction, equipment, supplies, operation, and added costs of retirement and social security have increased more rapidly than the regular source of income and the increase of tax levy permitted under Article XI, Section 11 of the Oregon Constitution.

The amount of tax, in excess of the 6% limitation, proposed to be levied for said fiscal year is $687,767.07.

Dated this 2nd day of June, 1958.

H. B. Ashley, District Clerk
Lola Murphy, Chairwoman, Board of Directors
