

Kansas City, Yanks Divide Pirates Edge Giants; Braves Win

Veteran Beaten By Youth

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
This is a story about a loser, game little Murry Dickson of the Kansas City Athletics.

At 43, the knuckleballing right-hander went all the way only to lose in 12 innings last night, 3-2 to the American League leading New York Yankees. Most of them weren't old enough to be Boy Scouts when Murry pitched his first major league game.

The kids who beat the old man, a rookie in the AL, were Andy Carey and Elston Howard. Carey, who singled and went to third when his theft of second drew a wild throw, was 8 years old when Dickson broke in with the St. Louis Cardinals in 1939. Howard, who singled Carey home, was 9.

Starter Whitey Ford and winning reliever Ryne Duren were 10 when Murry stepped into the majors from Houston. Bill Skowron, whose sixth home run tied it 2-2 in the fifth, was 8 when the 5-10½ Missouriian made his debut. Tony Kubek, who got the first of 12 Yankee hits, was 3.

The A's who won the opener of the day-night pair 4-1, fell to third with the defeat as Boston, a 4-2 winner over Detroit, took second place, nine games behind New York. Fourth place Washington defeated the Chicago White Sox 6-5; and Baltimore jumped past Cleveland into fifth by beating the Indians 7-5.

In the National League, the Milwaukee Braves took a 1½-game lead with a 5-4 victory over the Chicago Cubs. Rookie Curt Rice pitched a two-hitter for Pittsburgh's 2-1 victory over second place San Francisco. Brooks Lawrence's six-hitter gave third place Cincinnati a 5-0 decision over St. Louis. Philadelphia beat Los Angeles 4-3.

KC 4-2, NY 1-3

Dickson, now 4-2 in his 17th major league season, left 17 Yankees on base. He stranded seven in the 9th, 10th and 11th — fanning Skowron with the bases loaded for the final out in the ninth.

It was Murry's longest job since Sept. 26, 1936, when he was a sprout of 40 with the Cards. He went 12 2-3 innings that time against the Cubs — and lost by the same score, 3-2.

Market Basket climbed into a tie for the lead in the Men's Softball League standings Thursday night at Conger Field by blanking Hal's Sport Shop 3-0 behind the two-hit pitching of Mitch Hanan.

Hanan picked up enough offensive support from third baseman Jim Osborne to pick off the win. Osborne rapped out two hits in three at-bats, one a third-inning home run with the bases empty, to lead the Market Basket win.

In the other game played last night, Big Y managed to outscore the Air Force Jets 12-9. Jim Wyatt had a three-for-three evening at the plate for the losers and Larry Bunyard clubbed out two hits in three trips for the Jets.

When mention was made last week of the need for a Little League baseball park, built to suit, with concessionaires, billboards and all the trimmings . . . this writer was almost sure that he spoke the minds of a goodly number of Klamath Falls people . . . but I was totally unprepared for the quick and encouraging response that kept the phone ringing the very next day.

The first calls came from members of the local building trades union, and the spokesmen, who although they admitted they were not speaking officially, stated they could virtually assure anyone interested that labor, in regards to painting, carpentering and plumbing, would all be donated to the cause.

This wasn't really such a surprise, though. . . Like we said, there are probably a lot of Klamath athletes that would be more than willing to go all out with time and services to make the dream a reality. Just one of the things that we like about Klamath Falls.

Maybe the toughest problem we face is that of finding a name for the stadium.

There is, of course, a small matter of the ground on which to put it and the material with which to build. As someone observed, though, there sure are a lot of trees near . . . and we have ground that hasn't been used yet.

Perhaps the chamber of commerce would like to join the cause . . . what with Klamath scheduled to make the pages of the newspapers of the West (at least,) because of the regional Babe Ruth playoffs to be held in August. A community project such as this would also attract a lot of attention . . . but, more than this . . . just think of all the happy kids.

Yes, Bishop, who seems like a nice enough guy on the street, has a sort of Jekyll-Hyde personality it seems. Nothing serious; unless of course you drive a hardtop on the same track that he does . . . We has a mania for winning hardtop races and it has been said that he doesn't care how he does it. Should he deem it necessary to run over or through someone else's car to get out front, he does just that.

This is, naturally, a little hard on equipment (and drivers) . . . it even happens, occasionally that the recipient of the wear and tear is Bishop, himself. Some drivers have seen fit to fight fire with fire, with the end result that Bishop lands in the wall, the pits, on his head or in some other compromising situation.

In the first race of this season, Bishop adopted a somewhat unkindly attitude towards one George Smith . . . and with good reason, or so we thought, since Smith was very obviously intent on picking up all the marbles . . . and he had the equipment with which to do it. What he had was a "bomb" with wheels.

Threatened with a chance loss of a win, Bishop decided to take some drastic steps to do away with the intruder. Followed a gentle bumping duel (nerving in the language of the track) . . . this nerling consists of giving a few (quite a few) tender nudges (at 60 miles an hour) to the handiest portion of the car ahead or alongside or whatever.

Smith nerled back . . . and Bishop took a trip through the pits, around a light pole or two and finally leaped a bank to get back on the track. He was a little late, Smith was away. Smith's car didn't get in free, though, he did enough damage to the front end of his car to force him to work for the major remaining part of

Phillies Slip By Dodgers

The day after Christmas 1953 the Pittsburgh Pirates traded second baseman Danny O'Connell to Milwaukee for three guys named Max, Sid and Sam, three kid pitchers and $75,000.

One of the pitchers was termed a sleeper by the Bucs, who brought him along in the minors. Yesterday, big right-hander Curt Raydon threw an eye-opening two-hitter for his first victory and complete game in the majors, a 2-1 job over San Francisco that gave the Pirates a three-game sweep.

By losing their fifth in a row the second place Giants tumbled 1½ games behind the Milwaukee Braves, who beat the Chicago Cubs 5-4. Cincinnati defeated St. Louis 5-0 on Brooks Lawrence's six-hit pitching. Philadelphia beat Los Angeles 4-3.

In the American League, the first place New York Yankees split a day-night pair with Kansas City, winning 3-2 in 12 innings after a 4-1 defeat, and dumped the A's to third. Boston took over second place, nine games behind, by beating Detroit 4-2. Baltimore defeated Cleveland 7-5 and Washington nipped the Chicago White Sox 6-5.

Bucs 2, Giants 1

Raydon, 24, who lost his first two decisions in the majors, walked six and struck out five, giving up singles to Daryl Spencer and Orlando Cepeda. The Giants scored in the fourth on Cepeda's infield hit, two walks and a wild pitch. The Pirates, getting only four hits with both runs unearned, scored the clincher in the sixth when rookie Paul Giel (0-1) forced a run home by walking Roberto Clemente on four pitches—after a hit-batsman, a walk and error had filled the bases.

That 1953 deal, incidentally, gave the Pirates Max Surkont, Sid Gordon, Sam Jethroe, Larry Laine and Fred Waters in addition to Raydon. O'Connell, now is with

Carter Meets Willi Besmanoff

NEW YORK (UPI) — Harold Carter, a potential heavyweight challenger before he entered the Army 17 months ago, returns to the ring tonight in a TV fight with contender Willi Besmanoff at Madison Square Garden.

Despite the long lay-off, Carter, 24, of Linden, N.J., is favored at 13-5 over the stocky but speedy ex-banker from Munich, Germany.

Barrel-chested Besmanoff is rated ninth among contenders; but sleek Carter, who was ranked fourth when tapped by Uncle Sam, has been dropped from the top 10 because of inactivity.

Old Pro Shares U.S. Open Lead

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Twenty years ago Dick Metz, then a star of the pro golf circuit, had the National Open championship all wrapped up going into the last round, only to lose it with a horrible 79.

Today Metz, a weather-beaten 50, was out in front again as the Open went into its second round. And he probably was the only person on the premises who thought he had as good a chance of staying ahead as the two players who were tied with him.

Sharing the lead with Metz after an opening day in which no one could equal par on the heat-seared, windswept Southern Hills course were Tommy Bolt and Julius Boros. They shot 71—real good golf on a rugged day when some of golf's best known stars had to settle for 75. Southern Hills' par is 35-35—70 for a tough hilly 6,907-yard layout.

The heat and the wind made it play tougher yesterday and caused frequent errors of judgment in approaching the greens.

"A harrowing, heartbreaking experience" was what veteran Gene Sarazen called it after posting a score of 84. There were plenty of others who agreed with him.

Metz, who finished second to Ralph Guldahl in the 1938 Open after his memorable blowup, last played in the championship in 1954. Since then he's been running a ranch, playing in a few minor tournaments each year and considering himself as retired.

He's dead serious when he says he is in shape and can play good golf right through the tournament. But most observers feel the weight of 50 years will be a bit too much when it comes time to play 36 holes in the heat Saturday.

Boros is a stone-faced, solid 220-pounder who never seems to be disturbed by heat. At 38, he's about a year younger than his "new" Bolt, who says he finally has conquered his temper.

One stroke behind going into the second round were Lloyd Mangrum, another tested veteran who won the Open in 1946, and 35-year-old Frank Stranahan. Two behind at 73 were 48-year-old Jimmy Demaret and Bruce Crampton, a 22-year-old Australian pro.

All that helped make the 75 shooters look pretty good. There were 20 of them, including Ben Hogan, a four-time winner of the Open who would like to be the first to win a fifth, twice-champion Cary Middlecoff, and Sam Snead, who never has won the big one.

Ordinarily at this stage players with scores in that range likely would be wondering about their chances to survive the cutoff at the end of today's second round.

After the second round, the field is reduced to the 50 low scorers and ties for 50th for the 36-hole finale on Saturday. It usually takes about 150 or better to make it.

There were four who had 74½ on the first round—two-time Amateur champion Harvie Ward, touring pro Gene Littler, Smiley Quick, a club pro who once was runner-up in the National Amateur and 50-year-old Labran Harris, golf coach at Oklahoma State University.

Walter Johnson pitched 113 shutouts for the Washington Senators. Seven came in opening games of the season.
