Edwin S. Catmull Weds Carol Holcomb On June 1 At His Parents' Home

The home of Dr. and Mrs. Harold L. Catmull, 521 Alameda, was the setting for the wedding of their son Edwin Smith (Eddie) Catmull, to Carol Lee Holcomb, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James F. Holcomb, 701 Division, on the first day of June.

The couple exchanged nuptial vows in front of the fireplace which was banked with pink carnations and white stock. The father of the bridegroom, a former bishop in the first ward of Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints officiated at the 2:30 p.m. ceremony in the presence of approximately 70 guests. Carol Lee was given in marriage by her father.

The bridal gown of white net over white taffeta, veil, and elbow length mitts were made by her mother. The short-sleeved dress designed with a shallow vee-shaped neckline, edged in lace and a full overskirt of net — instep length and bordered with the same lace at the hemline. She carried a shower bouquet of white bouvardia centered with a large single white orchid. A small headband of lace held the three-quarter veil which was edged with a wide band of scalloped lace.

Jackie Dahn was maid of honor; and the bride's sister, Kathy Holcomb was ringbearer. Floyd Hunsaker served as best man; and ushers were Terry Catmull and Thomas Dowdy. Andra Kern, vocal soloist, was accompanied by organist, Joan Matheson.

The maid of honor wore a light blue lace dress with white accessories and Kathy, also in light blue, wore a dress of nylon sheer and carried a white satin ring-pillow, both made by her mother.

Assisting at the reception were Cynthia Catmull, young sister of the bridegroom, who carried the guest book; Sandra Stone, at the punch bowl; Louise Steinerson, Lorelei Platt, wedding cake; and Janet Kay Smith, gift table.

Both mothers wore afternoon dresses to the home wedding — Mrs. Holcomb in light blue with lace trimming, and Mrs. Catmull in rose. Their corsages were identical — of pink rosebuds.

The bride transferred from KUHHS after her freshman year to Marshfield High School when the Holcombs moved to Coos Bay. The bridegroom was graduated from KUHHS on June 7, with the class of '58.

The newlyweds honeymooned in Spokane, and after today will be at home in Provo, Utah, where Eddie will attend Brigham Young University.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Suess, uncle and aunt of the bride, from San Leandro, California; the bridegroom's maternal grandparents, Mr. and E. V. Smith, Spokane; his paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Catmull, Rupert, Idaho; and his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. William Platt, Salt Lake City.

A gigantic, overblown, pink silk rose can turn a plain black linen sheath into a stunning beauty.

A BEAUTIFUL AND SOPHISTICATED GOWN for a formal wedding is this one in peau de soie with bodice and tiny sleeves in Belgian lace. Hem is slanted to just a suggestion of a train. Her flowers are white lilacs centered with pale yellow tulips.

MR. AND MRS. LOUIS NOLL, the handsome couple above, celebrated their Golden Wedding Anniversary on June 1, one day before the actual date. They were married on June 2, 1908 in Germany, but have spent 48 of their 50 married years in Klamath County. The couple came to this country and California in 1909, moving a short time later to Klamath County.

Their three daughters, Frances (Mrs. Lawrence) Westlund, Anna (Mrs. L.) Lambert and Erika (Mrs. Wayne) Wakkuri, entertained in honor of the occasion with an early Sunday dinner for the entire family at the Westlund home, 1645 Portland Avenue, where friends were invited to an open house later in the afternoon.

Two nieces of the celebrants, Mrs. Gale Longee and Mrs. Chris Glunz, came from Woodland to share in the festivities.

Linen shirts and dresses look better and stay wrinkle-free longer if they're given a very light starching with each washing. But it has to be done with a delicate hand.

Large Shower For Joan Dayley

BONANZA—Joan Dayley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Dayley, was honored with an 8 p.m. bridal shower given in the Poe Valley Community Hall on June 8. Huge bouquets of colorful summer flowers decorated the large room. Joan will become the bride of Gary Cunningham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Cunningham of Klamath Falls, June 22 in Mt. Laki Church. Both young people attended Bonanza schools. The bride-elect was graduated from Bonanza High School in 1956 and her fiancé from Henley High School the same year. Assisting the honoree with unwrapping the gifts was her sister Verona. Sixty friends from Lancel Valley, Henley, Klamath Falls and Bonanza attended the party given by Carrie Campbell, Nina Powers, Olive Marshall, Halycon Wells, Gail Lyons and Maureen Campbell.

During the refreshment hour Mrs. Dayley served coffee and Mrs. Cunningham poured punch.

If you're not sure about how to clean leather gloves, have them professionally dry cleaned. Some leather gloves launder beautifully and these carry a tag that says so. Others call for cleaning, so play it safe.

A few minutes, a few hooks and pegboard rack will keep kitchen items neatly arranged. Attach racks to the back of kitchen cabinet doors and hang as many items on them as possible without cluttering.

There's no doubt about it, the girl who's well groomed is usually the one who's also well organized. She has a regular routine about personal laundry, dry cleaning, mending and pressing and she never slips up.
