CLEVER MOBILE

The season for bridal showers and weddings is upon us. Here is a clever, inexpensive decoration for that special occasion that will make the party a memorable one.

Using aluminum foil, some artificial flowers, a few pieces of thread and some red paper, Conny of Alcoa has designed an attractive mobile to be hung over the buffet table.

The mobile starts with a wreath about 12 inches across. This is made by crushing a length of foil about 48 inches long, into a circle. Join the circle by overlapping the two ends of the foil strip. Attach to this wreath small bunches of pink and red artificial flowers. Suspend the wreath by thin thread from a chandelier over the buffet table. Paste to the thread some hearts cut from red paper.

Glittering birds hang from the wreath. These are made by cutting 8-inch long bird shapes from double-thick foil. Wings are three strips of foil one-half inch wide. Bring the ends of each strip together to form a loop, securing by folding the foil twice. Each loop is then pinched together at the center to form two loops.

Now, cut a slit about three quarters of an inch long in each bird, at the top center. Insert the three loops at the folded point allowing them to point backwards. Repeat this operation for five

SPACE SHIPS they can eat, too, make a wonderful summertime dessert for the younger crowd. Party-Pak multi-colored flare top cones provide a variety of colors for the turret. This is just one way to incorporate these delicious cones into treats for the youngsters. Ice cream is America's favorite dessert and so good and so nourishing for every member of the family.

Party-Pak Cones For Party Fun

Call it a Space Ship, Rocket dessert or what you wish, there are dozens of small fry decorations for the table and delectable treats to be made with eat-it-all cones.

Party-Pak cones come a dozen to the package and in a variety of colors in addition to the natural wheat color we've always known. Pink ones, green, brown or orchid shades all add to the fun and permit youngsters to choose their favorite tints.

Use wax-coated picnic dishes. If you like, so there is no dishwashing after the party. A big scoop of ice cream, topped with E-Z Squeeze ice cream topping, chocolate or butterscotch, for example, can have cloud-puffs of whipped cream around the edge. Top with a small scoop and set a Party-Pak cone on top with a maraschino cherry at the tip. Slim Jim pretzels "support" the cone turret.

Or make party clowns for the party table. On a flat cookie, such as Grandma's Old Fashioned Sugar Cookies, place ball of ice cream. Eyes, ears, nose and mouth are bits of gumdrops. His clown hat, of course, is a Party-Pak cone with a cherry or gum-drop on the tip-top. Set each clown on a paper doily on a small paper plate and watch the eyes light up.

Your grocery also has cone servers which don't come to a peak. Make bunny cones with these. A scoop of chocolate or strawberry ice cream is pressed into the cone, then topped with a scoop of vanilla ice cream for the white bunny.

FRENCH FRIES

Wash new potatoes thoroughly and slice with peeling still on for French fried new potatoes. The little thin peeling adds a lot of good flavor.

more birds. Hang four at varying heights by thread from the wreath. The other two birds sit on the table. They will do this if you separate the two thicknesses of foil at the bottom.

Slits of black crepe paper make the eyes. These are simply glued in place on the bird heads. Glue small red hearts on a few of the bird beaks.

Now you are ready to serve luncheon, tea, or a real sit-down supper. The mobile is good for any of these.

The aluminum foil will reflect the happy spirit and glowing radiance always present at this type of party.
