Steel Price Future Dim Eyed Today

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Will steel prices go up July 1 to compensate for a scheduled hike in steelworkers' wages?

United States Steel Corp., which normally sets the steel price pattern, said yesterday no decision has been reached.

In a statement, President Clifford P. Hood had this to say: "In view of increased labor some degree of relief through higher sales prices must therefore be given serious consideration which it deserves."

"However, any adjustment of sales prices can only be made in the light of all known commercial and economic factors, including competitive conditions in the steel industry, the general business outlook, and underlying customer product demand."

Hood said U. S. Steel is continuing its study of all these factors. Adding: "The only point we have reached to date is not to attempt to change our prices until the situation clarifies itself."

The July 1 wage hike, Hood said, will average about 5 1/2 per cent or 20 cents an hour for U. S. Steel's hourly-rated employees.

He said the company has already absorbed a five-cents-an-hour cost-of-living increase without boosting prices, not to mention higher taxes and transportation costs.

Of course the normal year's guarantee on the picture tube, in the case of TV sets, also applies! Sea Engineer Strike Still Ties Up Ships

NEW YORK (AP) — A five-day-old strike by marine engineers today continued its slow paralysis of American-flag shipping in East and Gulf Coast ports.

Negotiations between the Marine Engineers Beneficial Assn., and the American Merchant Marine Institute, the employer group, have been stalled since Wednesday.

Five voyages by Grace Lines ships were cancelled yesterday. The huge liner America's scheduled sailing for Europe with 1,000 passengers late today also was threatened. An MEBA picket line was set up yesterday on the pier where the America is docked.

Officials of the International Longshoremen's Assn. said later they would not honor MEBA picket lines. The Masters, Mates and Pilots Union, however, announced it would respect the picket lines.

Possibility of the strike spreading to the West Coast was removed up a new three-year contract agreement between two maritime unions and the Pacific Maritime Assn. The contracts with the Marine Engineers and the Masters, Mates and Pilots covers about 5,000 union members and 18 shipping companies.

No accurate figures on the number of ships halted by the strike were available. A union spokesman said he assumed more than 100 ships now were berthed at East and Gulf Coast ports. The engineers have refused to sail the ships since their contract expired at midnight Sunday.

The engineers, who now make $403 to $1,052 a month, want a wage increase; a $350 monthly pension; 60 days vacation, and improved job security.

In San Francisco, a Pacific Maritime Assn. spokesman said the agreement there calls for a $50 increase in monthly pension payments to $150, longer vacations and allowances for subsistence, travel and rooms. The old contract also expired Sunday.

Other witnesses took the First Amendment, guaranteeing freedom of speech.

Arthur Lief, American guest conductor for the Moiseyev Russian dance company, also was dropped by the Ed Sullivan CBS-TV show for refusing to tell the subcommittee whether he is a Communist. He was to appear June 29 with the dance company on the Sullivan show.

Oregon Fire Chiefs Plan Convention In Klamath Falls Beginning Monday

Three associations of Oregon firefighters will hold a joint convention in Klamath Falls Monday through Wednesday of next week.

Members of the Oregon Rural Fire Protection Districts Association, the Oregon Fire Chiefs Association, and the Oregon Volunteer Firemen's Association should bring arriving in the city Sunday.

The meeting will open Monday morning at the Old Armory, with the introduction of officers and an address of welcome by Mayor Lawrence Slater.

Monday, there will be an "Old-Timers" stag luncheon at the Willard Hotel, where firemen with over 25 years of service will sit at the table of honor.

Britton was on the air "live" for some five minutes as he answered questions about installing TV sets for inmates.

He told the north-state listeners that prisoners enjoying TV are "much easier to handle" than those who don't.

The sheriff ended his radio interview by giving northeastern Oregon the best wishes of Klamath County.

He also informed the KUMA audience about his plans to buy three more sets next week for the jail, which would make a total of seven.

Top Defense Leaders To Meet Today

QUANTICO, Va. (AP) — President Eisenhower heads for this big Marine Corps base today to sit in on a conference of the top civilian and uniformed leaders of the armed forces.

Weather permitting, old soldier Eisenhower planned to make the 35 mile trip from the White House by helicopter. In the event of bad weather, he arranged to drive to the gathering of about 175 defense leaders.

There were no announced plans for Eisenhower to talk to the conference which meets annually to discuss internal Defense Department matters and worldwide military problems.

However, Eisenhower may choose to stress to the generals and admirals his strong belief in the importance of his plan for streamlining the administrative and command structure of the military establishment.

At a news conference yesterday, McElroy indicated still further cuts in military manpower may be expected.

McElroy said he thought Defense Department recommendations for 870,000 soldiers and 175,000 Marines are valid. The House has voted to overrule McElroy by boosting both of those manpower figures.

The defense secretary also said he thought the military budget for fiscal 1960 might "look like a little more" than the prospective outlay of $40,800,000,000 for defense in fiscal 1959, starting July 1.

Marie McDonald Now Says She Will Wed Las Vegas

By BOB THOMAS HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "I'm in love," said Marie McDonald, her large eyes unblinking.

Harry Karl again? No, no. That's all over, she said. "I've got my final decree, thank heaven," she explained, speaking of the shoe manufacturer she has sometimes been married to.

The new man in her life is George Capri, a moneyed co-owner of Las Vegas' Flamingo Hotel. He's the reason she stayed over in Las Vegas last week after finishing a singing date at the Desert Inn.

Does this mean marriage? "If we can work it out, it does," she replied. "He's trying to get a divorce from his wife, from whom he has been separated for seven years."

Though she's enjoying the upsurge in her career which began after her 24-hour disappearance a year and a half ago, she's willing to give it all up for George.

"He wants me to quit working and I might," she said. "I like my work, but I am willing to make sacrifices for real values."

Marie disclosed these secrets on her first day of film work in seven years. She is returning to co-star with Jerry Lewis in "Geisha Boy."

Marie seemed unharmed after her weekend adventure in Nevada, where she was taken to a hospital after an overdose of sleeping pills.

Her explanation: after a gay evening, she swallowed six tranquilizing pills—by mistake—and called her doctor. No after effects.

Marie said she still hopes to see justice done in her disappearance and reported the case is still being investigated. "If it's a hoax let them prove it," she challenged.

Police Solve Blast Mystery

GRANTS PASS (AP) — Cause of a series of baffling explosions has been solved with the arrest of three boys who looted a powder house, police said Tuesday.

Police said the three teenagers easily could have been killed when they broke into the powder house, then struck matches to find their way around in the dark.

The theft of the dynamite and caps occurred three weeks ago. Since then, a series of explosions has jarred Grants Pass.

Earl Thomas Groat, 18, pleaded guilty to a larceny charge and was sentenced to 10 days in jail. The other boys, ages 16 and 17, were turned over to juvenile authorities.

Tear Gas Gun Teaches Boy

DORRIS—When Police Chief Byard Kelly of Dorris took the police car to a service station for servicing Wednesday, he didn't realize he was leaving a booby trap for two curious young men.

While Martel Sundkvist, operator of the station, worked on the car, two inquisitive youths decided to see what makes a police car tick.

Dean Lyon and Lloyd Logan Jr., both juniors in Butte Valley High School at Dorris, climbed in the car and, among other things, found Chief Kelly's tear gas gun. They took it out of its compartment and fired it.

Dean was taken home—in tears. Lloyd was taken to the Hillside Hospital in Klamath Falls.

Chief Kelly said Wednesday night that he doesn't know how long Lloyd will be hospitalized.

Moral: Youngsters stay out of police cars.

Sheriff Britton On Air In Pendleton Radio Show

Northeastern Oregon now knows the story of Klamath Sheriff Red Britton and his TV sets for county jail prisoners.

KUMA, a Pendleton radio station 375 miles from here, interviewed the sheriff by telephone Wednesday at 6:15 p.m.

Britton was on the air "live" for some five minutes as he answered questions about installing TV sets for inmates.

He told the north-state listeners that prisoners enjoying TV are "much easier to handle" than those who don't.

Negro Says He's In Right On School Try

ALBANY, Ga. (AP) — Clennon King says he hopes to return to Mississippi where he was placed in a mental hospital after an unsuccessful attempt to enter the all-white University of Mississippi.

"I don't think any citizen should be forced to leave any state in this country," he said last night in an interview. "I haven't done anything wrong. I'm not an agitator or anything like that."

The 37-year-old Negro educator and minister left Jackson, Miss., by plane yesterday to spend a few days with his father in this south Georgia city where he was born.

"I just felt that I had to have a chance to pull myself together and arrange my thoughts," he said. "After that I hope to go back."

But he added, "I don't want to stay in Mississippi if I'm not wanted. I haven't been treated right in Mississippi."

"I think Gov. J. P. Coleman should apologize to me and that the state should reimburse my family for the expenses in setting me free. They know they've done me wrong. I'm disillusioned. I don't feel free in Mississippi."

King was released Wednesday from the state mental hospital at Whitfield, Miss. He still faces charges of disturbing the peace and resisting arrest in Lafayette County, where the University of Mississippi is located.

He said that if there is no apology he may sue the state of Mississippi "for acting as they have acted."

King arrived in Atlanta coastless and without baggage 24 hours after Mississippi officials released him from the mental hospital. He took another plane to Albany.

The pastor of the African Methodist church at Gulfport, Miss., said the trip might be called a flight because officials said "it was possible I might be hurt by extremists if I remained."
