Never before has the commission paid so much for a grading job.

Would-Be Thief Gets Hearing

PORTLAND (AP) - The man who failed to get out of the U.S. National Bank with the $640 receipts of a robbery Wednesday, will get a hearing in probate court. That is the court which handles sanity matters.

Howard Barck Hansen, 33, a dishwasher, was arrested by guards as he was walking out of the bank. He quietly handed back the money.

He is on parole from the state hospital, and Municipal Judge John J. Murchison, before whom he appeared Thursday on an assault and robbery charge, bound him over to probate court.

Portland Student Named By Boys For 'Governor'

CORVALLIS (AP) - The Beaver Boys State moved out of Corvallis Friday for Salem to inaugurate Doug Leonetti of Portland as governor in the state capital.

Leonetti was elected Thursday by the 450 boys attending the annual training-in-government session. The election gives him one of the two positions as Oregon delegate to Boys Nation in Washington, D.C. later this summer.

Leonetti survived election competition from three other candidates. He was nominated by the Nationalist Party and Marvin Terry, Grants Pass, was the candidate of the Federalist Party.

Two independents filed: Merle Wallis, and Joe McCray, both Portland.

Other officers elected Thursday: Tom Moore, Baker, secretary of state, James Johnson, Astoria, state treasurer; Mike Vacon, Portland, attorney general; Bob Sheldon, Medford, superintendent of public instruction; and Edward Takahashi, Ontario, labor commissioner; and John Campbell and Joe Heald, Portland, and Doug Sanders, Sulzerlin, Supreme Court justices.
