

'The Rock' Says

Patterson Lacking Active Competitor

NEW YORK (NEA) — Rocky Marciano dropped into New York for the first time in months... to make a television appearance.

For a fellow who was supposed to blow up like a poisoned pup when he quit fighting, The Rock is surprisingly fit for a stocky ex-warrior who has been out of circulation for almost three years.

"Weighed 218 this morning," he said in his Hotel New Yorker suite. "Would be no trick at all to get down to my best fighting weight, 185."

Marciano, 35 in September, now speaks of packaging potatoes instead of putting lumps on guys' heads. The old champion is the

Brooks, Case Finish Well At Redding

A squad of 11 Klamath Falls tennis players, 10 men and one girl, Miss Gayle Case, 15-year-old KU sophomore, journeyed to Redding last Saturday and Sunday to play in the Redding Invitational Open. Players from points all over Northern California and Southern Oregon competed.

Winning top honors for the Klamathites in the tourney were Earl Brooks and Miss Case.

Brooks teamed with Kay O'Bryon, from Redding, to gain the mixed doubles crown while Miss Case, who was making her first start in competition, finished second to Miss O'Bryon in the women's singles by scores of 6-1 and 6-0.

Miss Case was forced to enter the women's division because of the lack of a girl's classification.

Brooks and O'Bryon defeated Ken Karns, Redding, and Judy Herrick from Sacramento 6-1, 6-2 for their title.

Don Megale, who fell before tournament singles' winner Jack McGee, 6-0, 2-6, 6-2, in the semifinals, was joined in defeat by Brooks who also was knocked out in the semi's by runner-up Dick Hallock by scores of 8-6, 6-3.

McGee won his championship by whipping Hallock 6-4 and 10-8.

On his way to the junior single's championship, George Hunt downed Keith Baxter 6-2 and 6-3 in the quarterfinals.

Other Klamath players who were dropped in early action included Raymond Tice, Jerry Jennings, Phil Jackson, Bud Case, John Bousquet, Duane Fitzsimmons and Brian Walters.

Reame's women golfers will kick off their second round of play for the Club trophy Friday, June 27. Pairings are as follows:

- Eighteen - Hole Group - 8:40.
- Good, Raymond, Hemmesch, 8:45.

US Speedsters Inspect Monza

MONZA, Italy (AP) — 'It's faster, but it's still rough.' That was the verdict of American racing car drivers Thursday after testing the Monza race track north of Milan.

There, on Sunday, some of the best drivers and cars from the United States will meet some of the best from the European and South American circuits.

It is a 500-mile Indianapolis-style race, billed as the fastest in the world.

It probably will be run without world champion Juan Manuel Fangio. The Argentine ace is caught up in a contract bind which prohibits him from driving a car not serviced by a British oil products firm. The only car available to him is an American-made car committed to using American oil.

There's no doubt the Monza track is fast, with its 38 degree banked curves. Jimmy Bryan of Phoenix, Ariz., won last year's race with an average speed of more than 160 miles per hour.

Wednesday in a test run Jim Rathmann, of Miami, Fla., in a Zink Leader Card Special, did one 2.6-mile lap at an average speed of 174 mph.

The record average for a lap is just over 177.046 mph.

But while it is a fast track, it is a rough track.

Only six of the 12 cars starting last year's race finished. The others were shaken apart with broken shock absorbers, cracked frames and fuel tank leaks.

Yankee pitcher Whitey Ford equalled an American League record when he struck out six straight batters in a 1956 game against Kansas City. He repeated the performance June 2, 1958, against the White Sox.

TIME OUT

He's the best in the pole vault so far... I clocked him in six seconds flat!"

Horseshoe Tournament Scheduled

Another activity of the Klamath Basin Celebration is scheduled for Moore Park Sunday, June 29, at 10 a.m. when the Klamath Falls Parks and Recreation Department will stage a horseshoe tournament.

Registrations for entrants are currently being accepted at Hal's Sport Shop and by Al Knowles at Moore Park. Late entrants may still register at the park on Sunday.

Entrants will be divided into three classifications with championships to be determined in each. Players will qualify by pitching 50 shoes; each ringer counting three points and any shoe within six inches of the peg counting one. The top eight qualifiers will make up Class A while the next eight will fall into Class B. Remaining entrants will play in an unlimited classification. Lighted courts will permit continued action after dark, should it prove necessary.

In each of the classifications every player will meet the other with championships decided on the basis of games won and lost. Regulation horseshoe rules will be enforced by a rules committee headed by Roy Harris of the park department. Working with Harris are Clyde Harris and Al Knowles.

Each game will consist of 50 points and players may furnish their own shoes or make use of those furnished by the city, according to Harris.

The scheduling of the tournament will depend on the registration, stated Harris. He added that there is also a possibility of regular play being continued throughout the summer if the response to Sunday's tourney warrants.

Persons who may know of a source of potter's clay to be used in the horseshoe pits are requested to call the recreation office at TU 2-8863.

Praeger took the case under submission Wednesday at the conclusion of arguments by attorneys for the taxpayers, the Dodgers and city.
