

Spectacular Rodeos Set For Traditional Holiday

Whether or not you know the difference between day money and ground money, whether you pronounce it "RO-de-o" or "ra-DAY-o," if it is action you want the Basin Celebration Council had you in mind when they organized this year's traditional Fourth of July rodeo. The directors report that action, and plenty of it, will be the theme on July 4 and 5 when the Klamath Northwest Rodeo takes place at the fairgrounds, to be followed on July 6 by the biggest junior rodeo ever held here.

Senate Group Ends Indiana Hoffa Probe

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) offered Saturday to give Indiana authorities some good leads to back charges that labor leaders James R. Hoffa and Maurice A. Hucheson plotted to fix a grand jury.

"We have good leads they could follow up that should be productive," said McClellan, chairman of the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee.

The committee temporarily wound up hearings on Hucheson's Carpenters Union Friday with a charge that Hucheson's late father embezzled $250,000 of union property and willed it to his heirs.

Maurice Hucheson sat poker faced and silent as committee counsel Robert F. Kennedy made the embezzlement charge against William L. (Big Bill) Hucheson, whom the son succeeded as Carpenters Union president.

Kennedy said the embezzlement involved some securities and Florida orange grove property now in probate as part of the Hucheson estate.

A few minutes earlier the younger Hucheson balked at telling whether he had used union funds to fix a grand jury in Lake County, Ind.

That grand jury looked into Indiana's 1957-57 highway land scandals, but declined to hand down any indictments on grounds it lacked jurisdiction. However, an Indianapolis grand jury later returned bribery and conspiracy indictments against Maurice Hucheson, two other Carpenters Union officials and several state highway officials. They are awaiting trial.

Hucheson, challenging the committee's authority to question him on such matters, also refused to say whether he had "an arrangement" with Hoffa, president of the scandal-riddled Teamsters Union.

Kennedy said the arrangement called for Hoffa to make himself useful to Hucheson in return for the latter's support on the "question of his (Hoffa) being ousted from the AFL-CIO."

McClellan said the evidence indicated a conspiracy to subvert justice in Indiana. He also told newsmen he would ask the committee to consider whether Hucheson's refusal to testify was in contempt of Congress. Hucheson did not plead the Fifth Amendment.

Billy Graham Opens Sacramento Drive

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Billy Graham brings his crusade of evangelism to the state capital today for one week of delivering his message of Christianity.

The services will be held nightly at the State Fairgrounds grandstand, which will hold 20,000.

The Rev. Robert R. Ferguson of Sacramento, chairman of the local crusade, said there has been considerable interest in the meetings.

Graham arrived here Saturday night.

He concluded a seven-week crusade in San Francisco two weeks ago.

"I don't think sin is any different here than any other city," Graham said in a meeting here earlier.

Singer Improved

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Singer Roberta Linn, 27, with the original "champagne girl" with Lawrence Welk's orchestra, has been removed from the critical list at Cedars of Lebanon Hospital and was resting comfortably today.

Miss Linn was admitted to the hospital last Sunday suffering from pneumonia. She improved in an oxygen tent Wednesday when her condition took a turn for the worse. Doctors said she would have to remain in the hospital for at least 10 more days.

Whether or not you know the difference between day money and ground money, whether you pronounce it "RO-de-o" or "ra-DAY-o," if it is action you want the Basin Celebration Council had you in mind when they organized this year's traditional Fourth of July rodeo. The directors report that action, and plenty of it, will be the theme on July 4 and 5 when the Klamath Northwest Rodeo takes place at the fairgrounds, to be followed on July 6 by the biggest junior rodeo ever held here.

Starting with the parade which will go up Main Street at 10 a.m. July 4, Klamath Falls will be treated to a three day western celebration. Tickets for all performances are on sale at the rodeo headquarters at 530 Main Street. The cutting horse contest will be held on July 4 and 5 starting at 12:30 p.m. and the other events will get under way following the grand entry at 1 p.m. Riding and roping contests will be alternated in the arena while the races take place on the track.

Ring and Hutsell, rodeo livestock contractors of Davenport, Washington, will furnish the stock which will include the famous Brahma bull "Blue Smoke." This well known bull has appeared in rodeos all over the Pacific Northwest and no rider has ever stayed on him for an eight-second qualifying ride. He will be brought out both days for the cowboys to try their skill on, and a standing prize of $100 will go to anyone who stays on him for the required eight seconds. However, the bull will not be in the regular draw. In addition to several locally owned and trained race horses, entries have been received from thoroughbred and quarter horse owners who have competed at major tracks all over the coast. Five races are planned for each day at distances from 220 yards up to three-quarters of a mile and between 35 and 40 horses will be on hand to run for the purses and added entry fees.

All entries will be closed July 1 at 8 p.m., but will be accepted until that time at the rodeo headquarters. The directors estimate that by the time the entries are closed some 200 contestants will have signed up. They also announced that admission to the show will be granted free to anyone who rides a horse in the parade and grand entry.

A $350 saddle will be awarded to the cowboy who wins the greatest number of points in the two day show and belt buckles will be given to the first place winners in all the major events. The buckles have been donated by merchants from all over the Klamath Basin while the saddle has been put up by the Sharp Grain Company, Griggs Market and Trotman's Pharmacy, all of Merrill. Entry fees of $20 per man to be paid for each of the events will be added to the $300 purses which have been put up for each contest, to be split among the winners. A special purse of $200 will be set for the finalists in the saddle bronc riding. The six top money winners in this event will complete for this prize July 5.

The junior rodeo on July 6 will get underway at noon with a cutting horse contest. The grand entry, featuring 4-H horse club teams will be at 1 p.m. followed by riding, roping and racing events. Youngsters from 8 to 18 will compete in different age groups for prizes, trophies and added entry fees. There will be bareback riding for the 16 to 18 year olds, calf roping and steer riding for those 14 to 18, calf roping with break-away loops and calf riding for the 8 to 13 year olds. There will be a barrel race, a pole bending contest, a scurry race, and horse and pony races for all age groups. A saddle for the winner of the greatest number of points has been donated by merchants of the Town and Country Shopping Center, and other trophies have been put up by merchants of the Klamath Basin.

Ex-Policewoman Of Year Is On Trial

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Florence Stanton, 33, named policewoman of the year in 1952, went on trial Friday with her mother on charges of shoplifting.

The two women were accused of stealing $2.22 worth of groceries last May 3.

Police officers said the attractive Mrs. Stanton, who was cited for heroism in 1952 when she acted as a decoy to track down a notorious rapist, and her mother, Mrs. Gertrude Klearman, 53, both of nearby Sherman Oaks, Calif., stuffed a can of coffee, an avocado, frankfurters and two packages of cheese in their purses and walked out of the market without paying.

Mrs. Stanton, a veteran of 10 years on the Los Angeles police department and wife of a police sergeant, was dismissed when the charges were brought against her. She claimed they forgot to pay for the articles.

Woman Freed After Shooting Husband

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP)—Mrs. Mary Jacobs, 25, was free Saturday because the Monroe County grand jury adjourned Friday without indicting her in the shotgun killing of her husband.

Joseph Jacobs, 32, was killed last Saturday after an argument over a man who came to the Jacobs house to install screen doors.

Dep. Sheriff Joe Walden said Mrs. Jacobs told him her husband came home drunk, beat her, and dared her to shoot him. She pulled the trigger of a .12-gauge shotgun.

THE BUCKAROO BREAKFAST will be served at the fairgrounds from 5 to 10 a.m. July 6, last day of the three-day Klamath Basin Celebration. The breakfast will include steak, eggs, hash brown potatoes, flap jacks and coffee. Peggy Banta, left, of the Klamath Saddle Club and Jay-C-Ette Betty Thompson are shown in cookhouse headgear, selecting a broiler for steaks.

Puckett announced that plans were complete for entertaining the 62 visiting Rotarians from Australia on Sunday, ending in a no-host buffet supper at Reames Country Club at 5 p.m.

'Prince' Mike Is Now Just 'Mister'

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—By act of Congress, cafe society restaurateur Mike Romanoff Saturday was an ex-prince—and a U. S. citizen.

Romanoff dropped his pretenses to nobility Friday and was sworn in as a citizen. Before a federal judge he intoned: "I hereby renounce any title to the claim that I am prince of all the Russians."

His claim never came very close to being validated anyway. Congress passed a special bill allowing the 63-year-old Romanoff to become a citizen.

Tito Still In Power After Ten Years Of 'Deviation'

LONDON (UPI)—Ten years ago today the Communist world of Josef Stalin outlawed his one-time most faithful ally—President Josip Broz Tito of Yugoslavia.

It expelled him into the Red's outer darkness, denounced as a "Deviationist," "Nationalist" and "Trotskyist."

For 10 years of on-again-off-again feuding and love feasting it alternately blasted him with every black epithet out of the Marxist-Leninist word-book and wooed him as a long-lost ally.

Today, 10 years after his first historic break with Moscow, relations between Tito and Stalin's successor Nikita Khrushchev again are near explosion point. Many observers in the West believe the coming weeks may see the Communist camp strike to eliminate the Communist rebel who refused to kow-tow to Moscow.

Tito's "aim" was simple and in Stalin's Communist world it was unforgeable—he was a Communist who refused to take orders from the Kremlin.

The red hatched-men met in a secret "kangaroo court" somewhere in Romania late in June, 1948.

All the members of the Red Cominform were represented—the Soviet Union, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Bulgaria, Romania, Hungary and the Communist parties of France and Italy.

Alaska Bill Backers See Senate Okay

WASHINGTON (AP)—Heartened by preliminary victories, backers predicted Saturday the Senate will vote next week to make Alaska the 49th state.

Sen. Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash.), floor manager for the statehood bill, said he expected Senate passage of the measure by a 2-1 margin without change from the form already approved by the House. Jackson forecast passage by next Wednesday.

Sen. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont.), acting majority leader, called the Senate to meet earlier than usual Monday. He served notice it would work late and promised an early starting hour again on Tuesday. Mansfield said he plans to stay with the admission bill until it is disposed of.

The first test votes Friday came on a move by Sen. A. S. Mike Monroney (D-Okla.) to substitute commonwealth status for statehood and on one of the constitutional challenges raised by Sen. James O. Eastland (D-Miss.).

Monroney's proposal, beaten 50-29, would have given Alaska local self-government and exemption from federal income taxes, but would have denied it voting representation in Congress.

Eastland sought to throw out as unconstitutional a section of the bill which would permit the president, without any showing of emergency or declaration of martial law, to withdraw certain areas of Alaska for national defense purposes. His effort was turned down 53-28.

Mansfield told the Senate he hopes to get a vote Monday on a second of Eastland's constitutional challenges. He said he understood a third point of order by the Mississippi senator would be withdrawn.

Still awaiting action is an amendment by Sen. Strom Thurmond (D-SC) to require congressional concurrence before the president could make the land withdrawals permitted under the section challenged unsuccessfully Friday.

Insecure UAW Truce Persists

DETROIT (AP)—The United Auto Workers Union Saturday completed four weeks of a shaky labor truce in the auto industry.

Since June 1, some 400,000 UAW members have been working without contracts at General Motors, Ford and Chrysler. Many are not working full time because of curtailed production.

UAW members are under orders from President Walter P. Reuther not to strike.

An outbreak of incidents heightened tension Friday as the union continued de facto contract negotiations with all three companies. No progress was reported as talks were recessed until Monday.

Chrysler said it plans to resume production Monday at its Plymouth body and assembly plants in Detroit, where 5,400 employees were idled by a labor dispute.

General Motors charged a continuance of sabotage at its Fischer body plant in Kansas City. UAW members picketed a Ford Motor Co. office building in Dearborn. But GM and Ford said production was not halted at any of their plants.

Dance Aids Injured Happy Camp Youths

HAPPY CAMP—A dance for the benefit of Duane Swaim and Milton Blackford, Happy Camp youths who were hurt in the explosion of a homemade bomb, was held in Russell's Hall on Saturday night, June 21.

Both Swaim and Blackford have been in a Medford hospital since the accident, about three weeks ago, but Blackford returned to his home this last week. Swaim will have to remain in the hospital for sometime as he is undergoing physiotherapy. Removal of two pieces of shrapnel from his head was performed a week ago.

Music for the dance was furnished by volunteer musicians, Mrs. Bernice West, Don Zink, Richard Harnden and Toni England.

Various articles donated by local merchants and pies and cakes baked by local housewives were auctioned at the dance. One cake raised $100 and $10 more for delivery to the boys in the hospital. Over $600 was raised by the community, and the proceeds were divided equally between Blackford and Swaim.

Spokesman Blasts 'Fund'

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—An official of the American Cancer Society Saturday declared open war with Community Chest groups for the American citizen's contribution to medical research.

Dr. John W. Cline, a member of the cancer society's board of directors, said the community fund method of raising research money "would lead rapidly to the disintegration of the magnificent research programs now under way."

He praised the American Medical Association's House of Delegates for its action in rejecting some $5,000,000 offered by the National Community Fund organization for medical research. The money, Cline said, was "tainted with spurious claims under which it was raised, the broken promises of professional promoters, and the certainty that freedom in research will disappear."

The cancer society has insisted on running its own fund-raising campaigns separately from community funds and has threatened to expel its San Francisco branch for associating with the Community Fund here.

Cline said that "in a desperate, last ditch effort" to dispose of the $5,000,000 collected throughout the nation, the Community Fund organization has set up "research foundations in 13 cities" "duplicating" other research work.

The united funds, Cline continued, are not themselves bad, but he said the "professional organizers" associated with them "have been attempting to take over the national voluntary health agencies" and have "jeopardized the success of highly efficient health programs."

'Ring Trouble' Ends Up In Court

Two divergent points of view on who owns a $500 diamond ring were presented in district court here Friday.

On one side of the fence is Eve Petersen who claims the ring is hers and that a one-time friend, Nick Callas, has it and won't give it back.

Callas, however, says the woman owed him $235 and that she gave him the ring to hold as security against the debt.

Nothing was decided as Judge D. E. Van Vactor dismissed the case on grounds the Petersen side failed to introduce the ring as evidence. Callas was ordered to bring the ring to court and did so, but it wasn't presented as evidence.

Robert Danielson, attorney for Mrs. Petersen, refuted the suit, however, and it will come up again in district court.

Mrs. Petersen would be willing to settle either for the ring, which bears 13 separate diamonds, or $500 cash.
