Dividers

KEEP ROOMS IN THEIR PLACE

by Ruth W. Lee, home-furnishings consultant

THE WIDE-OPEN spaces of combination rooms are beautiful to behold, but they pose problems. How can the homemaker give these areas the feeling of separate rooms with identities all their own? It's simply a matter of arranging furniture or using screens, shutters, or counters at the invisible boundaries. In a living-dining room, a chest or sofa at a diagonal or right angle to a wall can turn the trick. In an open-plan kitchen, a breakfast bar-work counter can set apart the dining section. As the pictured settings indicate, there are countless ways to treat multipurpose rooms. And with such a variety of dividers at hand, it's easy to chart room spaces for more gracious living in the modern mood.

1. A contemporary chest atop a long bench marks the place where entrance hall ends and living room begins. Its capacious interior holds a radio, hi-fi equipment, and records.

2. Shoji screen at left is a decorative way of separating this dining area from the adjoining living room. The accent is picked up in a window wall above cabinet grouping.

3. At right angle to wall, a combination work counter and breakfast bar solves problem of the open plan by dividing kitchen work area and dining room of a modern ranch house.

Now! Easier, surer protection for your most intimate marriage problems

1. Germicidal protection!

Norforms are safer and surer than ever! A highly perfected new formula releases antiseptic and germicidal ingredients right in the vaginal tract. The exclusive new base melts at body temperature, forming a powerful protective film that permits long-lasting action. Will not harm delicate tissues.

2. Deodorant protection!

Norforms were tested in a hospital clinic and found to be more effective than anything it had ever used. Norforms are deodorant—they eliminate (rather than cover up) embarrassing odors, yet have no "medicine" or "disinfectant" odor themselves.

3. Convenience!

These small vaginal suppositories are so easy and convenient. Just insert—no apparatus, mixing or measuring. They're greaseless and keep in any climate. Your druggist has them in boxes of 12 and 24. Also available in Canada.
