TV NOTES

NEW YORK (UPI)—This should make a lot of TV viewers happy. "Hallmark Hall of Fame" will give a live repeat of "The Green Pastures" next March 23 on NBC. Its first presentation of this play last fall coincided with the late Mike Todd's party in Madison Square Garden telecast by CBS, and many persons missed "The Green Pastures," which went on to win seasonal awards.

A new Warner Bros. TV series slated for ABC next season is "Lawman," starring John Russell and Peter Brown. It will be played Sundays from 8:30 to 9 p.m., following "Maverick."

Red Skelton, the comedian who goes on and on whether times are good or bad for TV comics, has signed a new five-year exclusive deal with CBS. He'll stay in the 9:30 p.m. Tuesday spot.

The producer of Milton Berle's new NBC half-hour will be Hal Kantor, who also served the old George Gobel program for its first two seasons. Kantor also will write and direct for Berle.

Tennessee Ernie Ford will be back on NBC next season in his usual Thursday night spot, the sponsor having signed a 52-week renewal order effective October 2.

The master of ceremonies of the new "Huggis Baggis" quiz series NBC will unveil June 30 will be Jack Linkletter, 20-year-old son of the radio-TV veteran, Art Linkletter.

'EGG' BROADWAY BOUND

NEW YORK (AP)—One of France's most-discussed new plays, "The Egg," is finally bound for Broadway. A two-year hit in Paris, the satiric comedy is to be presented here next fall by Alexander S. Ince. The drama by Felicien Marceau concerns a little clerk who finds life suddenly complex after penetrating the secret of the egg, which is the playwright's symbol for the mysterious, hostile world.

COMIC'S NOVEL DRAMATIZED

NEW YORK (AP)—Carl Reiner, TV actor and chief comic aide of Sid Caesar, is providing the plot for an upcoming Broadway show. State rights to Reiner's novel, "Enter Laughing," have been obtained by David Merrick, one of the Main Stem's busiest producers. The dramatization is to be done by Joseph Stein and Will Glickman. The story concerns the trials and tribulations of a stage struck youth of 17.
