

In The Day's News

By FRANK JENKINS

Foreign affairs: Russian and Western scientists will meet in Geneva tomorrow (Tuesday) to begin talks on methods of policing a possible nuclear test ban.

The reds had confirmed that they WILL TAKE PART IN THE TALKS.

Hmmmmmm. The reds had said only a few days before that they WOULDN'T take part in the Geneva talks unless the United States agreed beforehand to stop its own testing of nuclear weapons.

The U.S. refused flatly to enter into any such agreement.

The moral? Aaron Hill, an English poet who lived and wrote back in the 1600's, put it this way: "Tender - handed stroke a nettle. And it stings you for your pains. Grasp it like a man of mettle. And it soft as silk remains."

More along the same line: The United States has formally asked Russia to release nine American airmen whose plane was forced down in Soviet Armenia last week. Officials in the defense department in Washington say the state department has ORDERED Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson to DEMAND that the Russians release the kidnapped Americans.

A bit of history: 1500's until the end of the 1700's the Barbary pirates harried the Mediterranean commerce of all nations, including the great and powerful ones. They captured ships and men and HELD THEM FOR RANSOM.

This went on for generations. Then— In 1801 Thomas Jefferson, third President of the infant republic of the United States of America, took the bull by the horns. He sent Lieutenant Stephen Decatur to the Mediterranean with an American naval force.

The enterprise thus begun was carried on until the pirate rulers of the Barbary States knuckled under and humbly promised to STOP PIRACY AGAINST AMERICAN SHIPPING.

Incidentally — Later in his career Stephen Decatur attended a banquet at which he was called on for a toast. He offered this one: "Our country: In her intercourse with foreign nations may she always be in the right; but OUR COUNTRY, right or wrong."

I think maybe we'd better quit pussyfooting in our foreign policy and go back to the days of our national youth when—confident of the rightness of our cause—our motto was THE BIGGER THEY ARE THE HARDER THEY FALL.

No Gloves, So Dip Juggled
CHICAGO (AP) — Police arrested Edward Murphy, 71, because he failed to wear his boxing gloves to the baseball game at Comiskey Park Sunday.

Murphy is a rabid baseball fan but he also is a skillful pickpocket. Sometime ago he made a deal with police that he would wear boxing gloves if allowed to attend ball games.

Herald and News

Price Five Cents—16 Pages KLAMATH FALLS, OREGON, MONDAY, JUNE 30, 1958 Telephone TU 4-8111 No. 1603

Council Sees New Traffic Death Record

CHICAGO (AP)—The National Safety Council today estimated 410 Americans may be killed in traffic accidents during the Fourth of July weekend.

If the toll goes that high, it will set a new record for a three-day observance of Independence Day. The high mark is 407, set in 1955.

The council also said there could be 12,000 disabling injuries during the 78-hour period — from 6 p.m. (local time) Thursday, July 3, to midnight Sunday, July 6.

It estimated 45 million cars will run up a total of 12 billion miles during the holiday period.

While predicting a heavy toll, the council stated: "But it doesn't have to be that way. A sure-fire antidote for extra holiday danger is extra holiday care—and it's available without cost to every driver."

The council reported law enforcement agencies throughout the country will step up their activities during the holiday weekend.

ASYLUM
STOCKHOLM (AP) — A Polish seaman jumped ship Sunday night and asked asylum. He leaped overboard from the Polish ship Mazowiec in Stockholm harbor and shouted for help. Two men on a nearby Swedish vessel manned a dinghy and hauled him in. The first mate of the Polish ship demanded he be returned. The Polish officer said the man was drunk and owed money on board. Instead, the Swedish rescuers took him to the police.

Couple Report Seeing Space Ship In Skies
MOUNTAIN VIEW, Mo. (AP)—"Through binoculars the object looked white-orangey," Mrs. David McClure said.

She was reporting yesterday to a weekend convention of fellow believers in spacecraft.

"I couldn't have been a satellite," she said. "Did you ever see a satellite dip, hover and maneuver?"

The McClures, from Tulsa, Okla., said they sighted the mysterious flying object after leaving Saturday night's convention session. The two-day meeting was held on an Ozark mountaintop near here. Its host, Buck Nelson, says his farm is a rallying-point for the mysterious space ships.

Weather

FORECAST—Klamath Falls and vicinity: Fair Monday night. Partly cloudy with showers or thunderstorms in Cascades Tuesday. Low tonight 38-43. High Tuesday 63-68.

High yesterday 57
Low last night 41
Precip. last 24 hours 7
Since Oct. 1 18.58
Same period last year 15.84
Normal for period 12.29

FIVE-DAY FORECAST
By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Western Washington and Western Oregon - Temperatures averaging below normal with warming trend about Wednesday. Maximums in the 60s or 70s rising to 70s and 80s after Wednesday. A few showers through Tuesday and again Thursday or Friday.

Eastern Washington, Eastern Oregon and Idaho - Temperatures averaging below to much below normal. Maximums in 60s and 70s with rising trend Wednesday or Thursday. Minimums in 40s and 50s. A few showers.

Court Kills Loyalty Oath

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court today struck down the California loyalty oath required for property tax exemptions.

The vote was 7 to 1, with Justice Tom Clark dissenting. Chief Justice Earl Warren, a Californian, did not participate.

Justice William J. Brennan Jr., speaking for the majority, said the state procedures "place the burdens of proof and persuasion on the taxpayer."

This, he said, violated the Constitution's requirement of "due process of law."

Steak Gone, But Loss Light In View Of Chance
OMAHA (AP) — An Omaha supermarket is missing a steak today, but that's nothing to what almost got away.

Butcher Roy Fast from behind a one-way glass saw a man pick up a steak and shove it under the bib of his overalls.

Fast alerted store manager Al J. Butler. He suggested to the clandestine shopper that he fork over the meat.

Cuban Rebels Seize Two More Hostages In Swift Move; Held In Mountains

HAVANA (AP) — Rebels struck again Monday in their bold campaign of kidnaping Americans and other foreigners, seizing two plant officials in eastern Cuba.

The new stroke was announced by the U.S. Embassy as U.S. Consul Park Wollam negotiated with the rebels in the mountains for the release of 39 other kidnaped Americans and 2 Canadians.

Sherman Avery White, general manager of the big U.S.-built Nicar Nickel plant, and his assistant, J. Andrew Poll, were carried off by a band of eight rebels.

White and Poll are employees of Nickel Processing Corp., which operates the plant for the U.S. government. There are about 50 other Americans at the plant.

White, a graduate of the University of Washington, had directed mining operations at Fredericktown, Mo., before going to Cuba for the company in 1953. He is about 52.

Poll, 45, is a graduate of Michigan College of Mining and Technology. White is from New York City and Poll from Grand Rapids, Mich.

The swift seizure by rebels who left no trace was of the same pattern as the previous abductions last week. All are believed designed to draw attention to rebel leader Fidel Castro's sputtering revolt against President Fulgenicio Batista.

U.S. Embassy sources said Wollam still was in contact with the rebels in the mountains of Oriente Province but there was no indication when the men would be released. They included 10 U.S. and 2 Canadian engineers, the first to be seized in the new campaign.

Of those held, 28 are U.S. servicemen who disappeared over the weekend, 27 of them on an overnight picnic excursion from the U.S. Navy base at Guantanamo. The other man was grabbed as he walked just outside the base.

A spokesman at the base said the Navy knew nothing of reports published abroad that the men might be freed Monday. He said, however, the Navy does not expect the men to be held long.

Couple Report Seeing Space Ship In Skies
MOUNTAIN VIEW, Mo. (AP)—"Through binoculars the object looked white-orangey," Mrs. David McClure said.

ALL THE WAY FROM AUSTRALIA meant a long trip for these 62 persons from down-under when they arrived in Klamath Falls Saturday for a tour of the various Basin points. The group stopped here en route from Portland to San Francisco via bus as part of a nation-wide tour following the Rotary International Convention in Dallas, Texas on June 1. While here the group was the guest of the Klamath Falls Rotary Club. The upper picture shows the group as they arrived at the Winema Hotel. In the lower picture Mr. and Mrs. Keith Hislop, of Sydney, are shown, center, examining some of the displays of local timber types set up at the hotel. With them are O. K. Puckett, chairman of the welcoming committee and Mrs. Puckett. The group left for San Francisco this morning.

Skin Diver Spears Buddy

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP) — A boyhood friend speared Joe Bludworth Jr., to death in an underwater skin diving accident Sunday, Kenneth Clayburne, the man with the weapon, said he thought Bludworth was a fish.

Bludworth, 22, was skin diving with six other friends in deep water off an oil well rig seven miles south of Port Aransas, Tex.

He and Clayburne, 23, San Antonio, Tex., dived for fish together. Clayburne said he lost sight of Bludworth at a depth of 65 feet and came up to the surface. He couldn't see Bludworth, and said he assumed Bludworth was chasing fish in another part of the water.

Clayburne dived back down to about 30 feet and shot with his spear gun at what he thought was a fish. The arrow hit Bludworth in the head.

The two had spent Saturday night in Corpus Christi with Bludworth's father. The victim was a University of Texas student.

Tribal Termination Move Delayed By Quorum Lack

The Klamath Tribal Council meeting held on Saturday at the council hall at Klamath Agency was short only five members of a quorum, according to Dibbon Cook, secretary. Lacking the 100 members, no official action could be taken.

The hall was crowded, Cook said, to hear several interesting speakers including Joseph Garry, president of the Congress of American Indians, from Washington, D.C. A delegation from the Colville, Washington, reservation, numbering about a half dozen, made tape recordings of Garry's discussion of termination problems. He emphasized the importance of a thorough study of all ramifications of termination before any definite steps are taken.

Frank George, of the Affiliated Tribes of the Northwest, a visitor from Washington, also spoke as did George Eifman, a member of the Klamath tribe who is an evangelist with an Indian church group.

Two or three proposed resolutions were read, Cook said, dealing with repeal of the federal termination law. Another meeting of the Klamath Tribal Council was set for Saturday, July 12, at which time the agenda planned for the June 28 meeting will be completed if there is a quorum.

Tribal council officers took their oaths of office and four new members were sworn in to the 10-member executive committee. Selden Kirk continues to serve as president and Dibbon Cook as secretary of the tribal council. Delford Lang is the new vice president and Leroy Barclay new sergeant-at-arms. Boyd Jackson was reelected as treasurer.

The new members of the executive committee are Vince Bodner Jr., Irwin Crume, Oscar T. Anderson Jr. and Joseph Ball. They will serve with Elnathan Davis, Delford Lang, Boyd Jackson, Jesse L. Kirk, Seldon Kirk and Cook.

Owls Take Over In House, Come Down Chimney
NORTH HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP) — "Dad's, there's something flying around my room and it looks like a bat."

So Jim Manask investigated and found himself staring into two big owl eyes peering out from under the bed of his son Arthur, 13.

Manask shuffled sleepily back to his own bedroom. "Helen," he whispered to his wife, "there's an owl under Arthur's bed."

"Well," came the voice from under the covers, "take the broom and shoot him out of here."

In the kitchen near the broom closet, Manask spotted another owl perched on the stove.

"Helen," he called, "the house is lousy with owls."

"Look at my living room," cried Mrs. Manask, who was up by now. "Feathers and soot all over the place."

The owls evidently had come down the chimney. Besides scattering soot, they had knocked over two vases of flowers and attacked a stuffed squirrel.

"Let's open all the doors and windows and try chasing them out by waving towels," Arthur suggested.

The Manasks began flapping towels and the owls finally took the hint.

Police Seeking Garden-Slayer
ORRINGTON, England (AP) — Col. John Southern claimed Monday a jealous rival in the green thumb field has poisoned his prize garden.

The culprit, so far uncaught, sprinkled the colonel's lawn, flowers and trees with sodium chlorate, a weed-killer. The garden, which had won first prize in a competition for best in the district, is now a mess of dead and dying vegetation.

"Someone was jealous of my wonderful garden," said the colonel. "I'll catch the rogue if it costs every penny I have."

He called in police and offered a 20-pound ($36) reward for information leading to the arrest of the garden-slayer.

A MINIATURE 1903 Oldsmobile, built completely to scale, furnished the transportation for Ralph, left, and Ted Eccles in Saturday's Kiddie Parade here. The car, powered with a gasoline lawn mower engine, was constructed by the lads' father, Julian Eccles.