AUSTIN, Tex., (AP) — Floyd Hamilton, Texas desperado of the 1930s, has been granted a parole after some 30 years behind bars.

Gov. Price Daniel approved yesterday a parole recommendation and Hamilton will be released to Dallas within two days.

Hamilton's brother was Raymond Hamilton, who with Clyde Barrow and Bonnie Parker were among the most wanted underworld characters of their time.

Hamilton, 49, was imprisoned in Texas in April 1957 after serving 18 years in federal prisons at Leavenworth and Alcatraz, where he failed in an escape attempt.

Hamilton was to serve up to 25 years in the state prison on a 1958 conviction of robbery by assault in Dallas County. The board said his Texas sentence was concurrent with a 30-year federal bank robbery term. It gave him 20 years and 5 months credit because of good behavior.

Ribbon Cutter Works Nicely

IDAHO FALLS, Idaho (AP) — The local high school's automatic nuclear ribbon cutter works just fine, thank you.

Officials rigged it up for ceremonies opening this school's atomic energy museum. Miss Idaho Falls was supposed to wave a radioactive wand to set it off, thus lighting a red bulb, ringing a bell and cutting the ribbon.

As master of ceremonies Robb Brady made ready to proffer the wand, his luminous-dial watch—slightly radioactive—accidentally touched the triggering device. Brady, editor of the Idaho Falls Post-Register, watched dismayed as:

A red light went on.

A bell rang.

The severed ribbon fluttered to the floor.

Undaunted, officials spliced the ribbon and continued with the ceremonies. The device worked just as well the second time.

Medford Firm Awarded Pact

A Medford general contractor, H. Barnhart, was awarded a contract at the Tuesday evening bid opening for construction of a 5,442 square foot multipurpose addition to the Sisson Elementary School at Mount Shasta, according to Howard R. Perrin, Klamath Falls architect who drew plans and specifications for the job.

Barnhart's bid of $61,470 was low and six out of the seven bids received were under the estimate and the total amount of funds available.

Other bidders and amounts were: A. J. McMurry, Yreka, $64,399; Cummings Construction Company, Grants Pass, $64,862; Singleton Construction Co m p a n y, Eureka, $65,167; David Sousa, Yreka, $67,407; Adolph Zuza, Cassel, California, $68,905 and Massae Construction Company, Sacramento, $73,138.

The Mount Shasta school district advertised for bids on construction of a multipurpose room, two storage rooms and covered entries. The work is to start at once.

Judge Is Late; Problems Abate

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Because their attorneys were late, Joseph and Georgia Pelham Collins did not need them.

The blonde Mrs. Collins, 31, a former actress, went to court for a pretrial hearing of her pending divorce suit against Collins, 38, a wealthy businessman.

As they waited in the hall outside court, they started conversing. By the time the attorneys got there, their services were unnecessary. The couple decided on an reconciliation and left arm in arm.

Polish Red Leader Saves Job By Criticizing Tito

By CHARLES M. McCANN
UPI Foreign News Analyst

Polish Communist leader Wladyslaw Gomulka has saved his job by criticizing President Tito of Yugoslavia.

In doing so he also has preserved at least some measure of independence from Russian dictation which he won as the result of the 1956 Polish revolt.

For months, Gomulka had resisted demands that he join Russia, Red China and the East European satellite countries in their savage attack on Tito as a Communist renegade.

He had made it plain, too, that he strongly disapproved the execution of Hungarian revolt leaders Imre Nagy and Pal Maleter. It is now disclosed that Gomulka was told last week that he must either come out against Tito or face overthrow.

There is one report that Russia gave him 72 hours to make up his mind.

Gomulka was forced to give in, had he refused, not only would he have been forced out as Poland's leader but his country would have been given over to the "Stalinist" elements in his party.

Gomulka has been under increasingly strong pressure from Moscow ever since the Communist reversion toward the harsh rule of the Josef Stalin era started.

He has resisted as stubbornly as he could. He refused to join in the anti-Tito campaign. He has tried to stop the general trend toward Stalinist policy in the Communist world.

He has been compelled to give in bit by bit, and to tighten up his own liberalized rule.

Finally came the demand that he come out against Tito.

The alternative was that Russia would take every possible means, political and economic, to overthrow him.

There was no direct threat of Russian military intervention against him. But apparently authentic reports say that in recent weeks strong forces of Russian troops have been moved close to the East German and Russian frontiers of Poland.

The implied threat apparently was that Polish "Stalinists," if necessary, would engineer an uprising that would give Russia an excuse to intervene.

Gomulka's problem is that Poland cannot get along without Russia. Its economic situation is difficult. And nearly all of the raw materials used in Polish industry come from Russia.

Gomulka made his surrender in a speech last Friday at the Polish Baltic Sea port of Gdansk. "The guilt lies squarely on Yugoslav shoulders," Gomulka said of the dispute between Tito and Soviet Russian leaders. But he qualified his criticism by saying that Tito sincerely desired to strengthen peace.

In speaking of Nagy, Gomulka criticized his policies. But he still refrained from giving his approval to Nagy's execution. That, he said, was an internal Hungarian affair, and it was not for Poles to judge on its fairness.

Thus, though Gomulka has been forced to comply with Russian demands, it is clear that he did so grudgingly. The Russians cannot be too pleased with their victory.
