

Boston Tops Yankees, 10-4 Giants Nip Cards, Milwaukee Wins

Tigers, Indians Nab Wins

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
In spring training, Ivan (Ike) Delock was just another name on the Boston Red Sox roster. Manager Mike Higgins had plans for him, but only in relief roles. No. 2 behind Lefty Leo Kieley.

Today, as Higgins takes inventory during the season's half-way turn, he shudders to think where Delock would be. Not only has he blossomed into a starting pitcher but he has become the team's biggest winner and the ace of the staff.

The 28-year-old right-hander won his seventh game without defeat Sunday as the Red Sox defeated the New York Yankees 10-4. It was Boston's first victory over the American League leaders since April 16 and only the second in eight decisions this season.

The Yankees remained 11 games in front of Boston and Kansas City, tied for second. The A's were beaten by Cleveland 8-5. Detroit nipped Chicago 2-1 and Washington came from behind to shade Baltimore 4-3.

Boston 10, NY 4

After limiting the Yankees to four hits through seven innings, Delock was clipped for three more in the eighth, including Mickey Mantle's 21st home run.

Ike received credit for snapping the Yankees' five-game winning streak, however, when Kieley replaced him with two runners on base and one out and retired the next five batters.

Delock, counting his last four decisions in 1957, now owns a string of 10 successive victories.

Sunday's Results
Klamath Falls 9-6, Grants Pass 8-3 (first game counts in league standings).

Manager Hi Hatfield's Klamath Falls American Legion Junior Baseball team moved into a tie for top spot in the Southern Oregon Junior League standings here Sunday by topping Grants Pass 9-6 in a league game—the first part of an afternoon doubleheader.

The Klamath Falls club also came back to win the nightcap 6-3. The double win was the first of the season for Klamath. On several previous occasions the local legion nine has won the opener of a two-game set, but has faltered in the nightcap.

Grants Pass went into the game with a 5-0 league record, but Klamath failed to show any respect for the GP record or its starting pitcher Dick Hayes. In four league games this year, Hayes had won all four including a no-hitter and a one-hitter, both good for shutout triumphs for his team. But Hayes was chased from the mound here Sunday by Klamath's hitting.

The visitors took a 1-0 lead in the first after two were out, but Klamath came back with a 3-1 leading in their half of the third. Grants Pass bounced back into a 6-3 lead in the top of the sixth, only to have Klamath score six times in the bottom of the inning to take the deciding lead. Grants Pass threatened in the last inning—scoring two runs and leaving one runner stranded before the side was retired.

Klamath's three third-inning scores came on back-to-back singles by Ken Womer and Smiley Herrera, a double by Estin Kiger, a walk to Dean Dunson and singles by Rich Moore and Blake Ferrell.

After the first bad inning, Ferrell set down 10 of the last 11 men to face him, with Endicott's third inning triple the only Grants Pass batter to touch his no-walk delivery.

Phillies, Redlegs Split Pair

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Giants are still pulling off ninth inning heroics, one of the reasons San Francisco continues to hound Milwaukee, hanging on only one game behind the league leading Braves today.

For the third straight day, the Giants won a game in the ninth inning yesterday scoring the winning run in that frame. With the bases full, two out and the score tied in the last of the ninth, Cardinal relief pitcher Larry Jackson plunked Jimmy Davenport with a pitch, forcing over the winning run.

Philadelphia's Phillies extended their winning streak to seven by defeating Cincinnati 7-1, but the Redlegs won the second game of the doubleheader 11-4. The Braves broke their five-game losing streak as Joey Jay hurled a 2-0 shutout against Pittsburgh. Chicago's Cubs, behind the one-hit pitching of Dick Drott and Don Elston, defeated Los Angeles 6-2.

The New York Yankees' first place lead in the American League remained 11 games despite their 10-4 defeat by Boston, Kansas City, tied with the Red Sox in the runner-up spot, dropped an 8-5 decision to Cleveland. Detroit nipped Chicago 2-1 and Washington snapped a tie in the eighth to defeat Baltimore 4-3.

Braves 2, Bucs 0

Jay, the Braves' 22-year-old son righthander, throttled the Pirates with only four hits for his second victory in five decisions. Wes Covington batted in both Milwaukee runs with a single in the fifth and a home run in the seventh, both against Curt Raydon.

In the Cubs' second straight triumph at Los Angeles, Drott won his fourth in ten decisions. He had a no-hitter until Jim Gilliam got the lone Dodger hit, a single with one out in the seventh.

Drott, however, had to be replaced after he forced in a run in the seventh with his eighth pass.

Phillies Split

Gus Bell rapped four hits and drove in four runs to pace Cincinnati's 15-hit attack in the second game victory after the Phillies had equaled the National League's longest winning streak of five games in the opener. Rookie pitcher Ray Semproch limited the Redlegs to five hits for his 10th triumph as the Phils made it seven in a row in the first game.

KF Hardtop Main Swept By Brackman

Ray Brackman tucked away the big Fourth of July weekend hardtop honors Saturday night at Klamath Speedway as he drove his car to victory in the A-main of the holiday racing program.

Brackman piloted his hardtop into first place ahead of Joe Capello of Alturas who finished second. Al Bonotto drove to third place in the evening's A-main. Orville Johnston supplied the fans with the A-main thrill as he rolled his cat over the south turn in a mix up of several cars.

Rick Goven, Johnston and Corkey Waterman finished one-two-three in the program's B-main event that was loaded with excitement and fine racing. Mel Allman flipped his car over twice in the back stretch of the speedway oval, but came out without a scratch. A little later, Roy Stubbs rolled over the South turn and escaped unhurt except for burns on the neck from hot oil that spilled on him.

Allman led the field in the final heat race—featuring the first three places of the program's heat races—beating out Capello and Kenny Kime who finished second and third. Kime and Capello finished second and third in the third heat to Brackman's hot car.

Allman topped the second heat field ahead of Leonard Ferguson and Waterman. Winner of the first heat was Chuck Hamilton.

The Junior Racing Association heat race was won by Don Shults. Tony Bonotto and Jim Hackson finished second and third.

Brackman also won the A-trophy dash for his third blue ribbon finish of the racing card. Johnston led the B-trophy field and Shults topped the junior trophy race.

Hot times posted in the evening time trials were picked up by Capello and Tony Bonotto with 29.89 laps.

In the featured event of the night Gary Gregg won the "cowboys special." Several cowboys who had just finished with a rodeo program at the fairgrounds, entered into a fun-filled hardtop race to the delight of the racing fans. Elmer Graham and Lee Gregg finished second and third in the cowboys' race.

Bud Cook, currently leading in the point race, broke an axle in the A-trophy dash and was out of competition for the rest of the card. Wes Bishop also was slowed down by engine trouble and was out of the money.

Kubs Drop Third Straight, Bow 14-10 To Mt. Shasta

Klamath Falls' Kubs tumbled into fourth place Sunday after absorbing their third straight defeat in Northern California League baseball play at Mount Shasta. The host Seals outscored Klamath in a 14-10 slugfest that saw six pitchers take their turns on the mound.

The Klamath loss combined by Weed and Yreka victories in the other two Sunday games left the Kubs two games out of the lead which they held two weeks ago. Weed edged Scott Valley 4-1 in a game at Fort Jones and Yreka blistered Dunsmuir 12-4 at Yreka. Mount Shasta moved in front of Klamath Falls 1-0 in the first inning of their game, then the Kubs came back to take a 3-1 lead with a three-run second inning. But the Seals bombed Klamath starter Fred Friedel and two other Kubs hurlers in a fatal third inning for eight big runs and the Kubs were behind the rest of the way.

A single by Donn Taucher, Irv Whitt's double, Bob Kelly's two-run single and a one-run single by Ron Conner gave Klamath its short-lived lead in the second.

Mount Shasta used three hits—one a bases-loaded double by Mickey Risberg—two Klamath errors and three walks to score their eight runs in a rally that chased both Friedel and reliever Red McPhail. Dave Cohen, the third Klamath Falls pitcher, finally put down the Seals by getting the side out on a fielder's choice and infield fly.

The Seals added two runs in the fourth and seventh innings and a single tally in the fifth to put the Northern Cal victory way. Klamath rallied in the seventh and eighth for four and two runs in the two late innings, but fell short of the Seals' lead.

In the seventh, three walks to Conner, Dorm Martin and George Hanson loaded the bases and Taucher drove home two runs with a single and Jerry Burke punched out another single scoring Hanson.

In the eighth, three more walks loaded the bases and Hanson picked up two runs batted in with a single.

The loss to Mount Shasta was the second of the season for Klamath. Earlier in the year, the Seals blanked the Kubs 3-0 at Klamath Falls.

Risberg led the Mount Shasta offenses with the four-five day at the plate including a double and four runs batted in. Gene English had two hits in three trips for the winners plus three stolen bases. Donn Taucher had three hits for Klamath and three RBIs. Ron Conner added two hits in three trips for the Kubs.

Weed's Sons climbed into second place with their tight win over Scott Valley. A pair of back-to-back home runs by Vince Tallero and Eli Brown in the fifth inning gave Weed a 2-0 lead and the winning margin.

No report was received from the Yreka-Dunsmuir game at Yreka.

Case, Haney Name Hurlers

BALTIMORE (AP)—Bob Turley of the New York Yankees and Warren Spahn of the Milwaukee Braves were named Monday as starting pitchers in Tuesday's 25th All-Star baseball game.

The choice of Spahn was a surprise because the American League starting lineup contained only two left-handed batters and one of those, Mickey Mantle, is a switch hitter who will bat right-handed against southpaws.

The batting order:
NATIONAL LEAGUE
Willie Mays, San Francisco, cf
Bob Skinner, Pittsburgh, lf
Stan Musial, St. Louis, 1b
Hank Aaron, Milwaukee, rf
Ernie Banks, Chicago, ss
Frank Thomas, Pittsburgh, 3b
Bill Mazeroski, Pittsburgh, 2b
Del Crandall, Milwaukee, c
Warren Spahn, Milwaukee, p

AMERICAN LEAGUE
Nelson Fox, Chicago, 2b
Mickey Mantle, New York, cf
Jackie Jensen, Boston, rf
Rob Cerv, Kansas City, lf
Bill Skowron, New York, 1b
Frank Malzone, Boston, 3b
Gus Triandos, Baltimore, c
Luis Aparicio, Chicago, ss
Bob Turley, New York, p

out his squad and the American League may be glad he did before it's over.

The big man from Boston batted them out in 1941 when they had two out and two on in the bottom of the ninth and trailed the National League by a score of 5 to 4. Williams walloped a homer which won it, 7 to 5.

HE MADE IT A ONE-MAN SHOW in 1946, getting four hits which included two home runs and drawing a walk his fifth time up. And nothing ever was a truer demonstration of the batting power which Williams generates than the home run he belted off Rip Sewell's soft, arching "loop-er" ball.

The old pros always have been front and center in this one. Red Schoendienst, lone of the sparkplug boys, polished it off for the National League in 1955 with a game-ending homer in the 14th inning. And Stan (The Man) Musial won the 11-inning brawl in 1955 with a circuit smash.

There has been in the past much argument as to whether this game was necessary. Too many players were injured and one of the greatest, Dizzy Dean, arrived at the beginning of the end in this one. Old Diz was struck by a line drive off Earl Averill's bat in 1937 and suffered a toe fracture. Coming back too soon he altered his pitching style, hurt his arm and soon thereafter was forced to lay aside his flannels.

ATTITUDE CHANGED
Players ultimately began to seek every and any excuse to dodge appearance in the game. But money changed all that.

With the World Series, the All-Star Game is part of a $3,250,000 television package deal. Sixty per cent of this and the attendance money goes to the player pension fund.

So even the old heroes give it all they've got now and in the wide open spaces of Memorial Stadium, it's going to take Homerie clouting to write the new headlines.

In another TV 10-rounder, Heavyweight contenders Nino Valdes of Cuba and Harold Carter of Linden, N.J., will clash at the Spokane, Wash., Coliseum Wednesday night.

For Friday's fight, Crawford—a speedy boxer but a light hitter—is a slight underdog at 6-5 against rangy Ortega, the harder puncher. Ortega is ranked second by the Ring Magazine and seventh by the NBA; Crawford, ninth (Ring) and fourth (NBA).

Mickey, 24, registered only three knockouts while winning 22 of his 24 bouts. He fought once before at the Garden, March 28, when he outpointed Gil Turner. Ortega, two years younger but much more experienced, scored 20 kayees while winning 46 of his 58 starts.

Their bout will be televised and broadcast nationally by NBC. In Wednesday's heavyweight fight, Harold Carter will be making his second start since he came out of the Army. On June 13 he outpointed Willie Eganoff but appeared somewhat rusty. He is ranked ninth (Ring) and fifth (NBA). Nevertheless he is favored (6-5) to beat his Valdes, who is ranked sixth by both ratings.

An attractive, untitled 10-rounder will be staged tomorrow night at West Jordan, Utah, where ex-champion Gene Fullmer tangles with young Jimmy Hezler of St. Paul, Minn. Hezler has beaten Ralph (Tiger) Jones and Jimmy Martinez.
