House of representatives investigators, in Washington, have excused Bernard Goldfine from testifying today.

Goldfine's lawyers pleaded that he was suffering "physical and mental exhaustion."

Hmmmmmm.
He is proving the truth of an ancient adage:
Those who dance must PAY THE PIPER.

This Goldfine person is a curious but not entirely unusual character. He dramatizes himself as a simple immigrant boy who made good in America.

He learned early the importance of making friends and influencing people. His idea was good, but his technique was faulty. He thought he could make useful friends and at the same time influence them in the direction in which he conceived they should be influenced by showering the right kind of people (people in the right places) with a gentle rain of checks.

He interspersed the gentle rain of checks technique with loans of Oriental rugs and expensive hotel suites and such. His basic idea, apparently, was that people who go around doing kindly deeds out of the goodness of their hearts can often profit by the good will of people who are in a position to grant important favors at times when such favors come in handy.

Well, it worked—for a while. But the time came when something slipped.

He's in hot water now.

Let's quote some more old adages:
Honesty is the best policy.
So live that you can look every man in the eye and tell him to go to hell.
The primrose path is lovely at the start, but leads to rugged deprivities.
The longest day ground is sometimes the shortest and soonest way home.
The hard way is often better than the easy way.

and so on.
But that's enough prepping for today.

Weather Good
In Midwest

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Generally pleasant weather was the outlook for most of the Midwest today but it was warm and humid with showers indicated in the Eastern third of the country.

Thunderstorms continued during the night across a broad belt from eastern Texas westward through the Ohio Valley and into the northern Appalachians, where cool air moved southward into the warm humid air. The weather headed into the Atlantic States.

Heavy showers were reported along the air mass boundary, with more than an inch at Wilkes-Barre, Pa., and Akron, Ohio. In the warm humid air in the Southeast, thunderstorms drenched many areas. Nearly 2 inches of rain fell at Knoxville, Tenn., and about 1 1/2 inches at Tallahassee, Fla.

Flash flooding was reported at Waco, Ark., after heavy rain hit the area. Texas got more rain today, with heavy rain in many parts of the state yesterday. Nearly 7 inches of rain fell in San Antonio causing floods in some sections. It was a record for a July rainfall in San Antonio.

ALLEN FORMEN got this saddle as a special award for being high scorer at Sunday's Junior Rodeo. This all-around cowboy is 12 years old, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Crume of Sprague River. The saddle, one of many gifts that was competed for Sunday afternoon, in addition to $1,050 in cash, was donated by the Town and Country merchants. (See story Page 4)

Ike, Dulles, Canada Head Hold Parley

OTTAWA (AP)—President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles arrived in Ottawa by air Tuesday for a fence-mending visit.

The President's plane, the Columbine, landed at Uplands Airport at 6:55 PST after a two-hour flight from Washington skies were overcast.

Governor General Vincent Massey, Prime Minister John Diefenbaker and top Canadian officials were on hand to greet the presidential party.

The President's visit, to smooth out irritations which have been disturbing the traditional friendship between the two great North American nations, was his first to this capital in five years, and his fourth to Canada.

The party included Mrs. Eisenhower and Mrs. Dulles.

The Columbine taxied smoothly to a stop and a battery of artillery fired a 21-gun salute. About 1,000 spectators, including schoolchildren, cheered and waved little red ensigns.

Wearing a gray suit and gray felt hat, the President stepped out and gave Mrs. Eisenhower his arm. Together they walked slowly down the ramp to the red carpet where the governor general was waiting. Mr. and Mrs. Diefenbaker greeted them.

The President stood at attention as a regimental band in red coats and blue trousers played the Star Spangled Banner.

He then escorted the 100-man guard of honor from the Royal Canadian Mounted.

In conferences with Canadian Prime Minister John Diefenbaker, who invited him to make the trip, Eisenhower will explore economic and international issues.

The aim is closer understanding and some assurance that no insurmountable troubles divide the two nations.

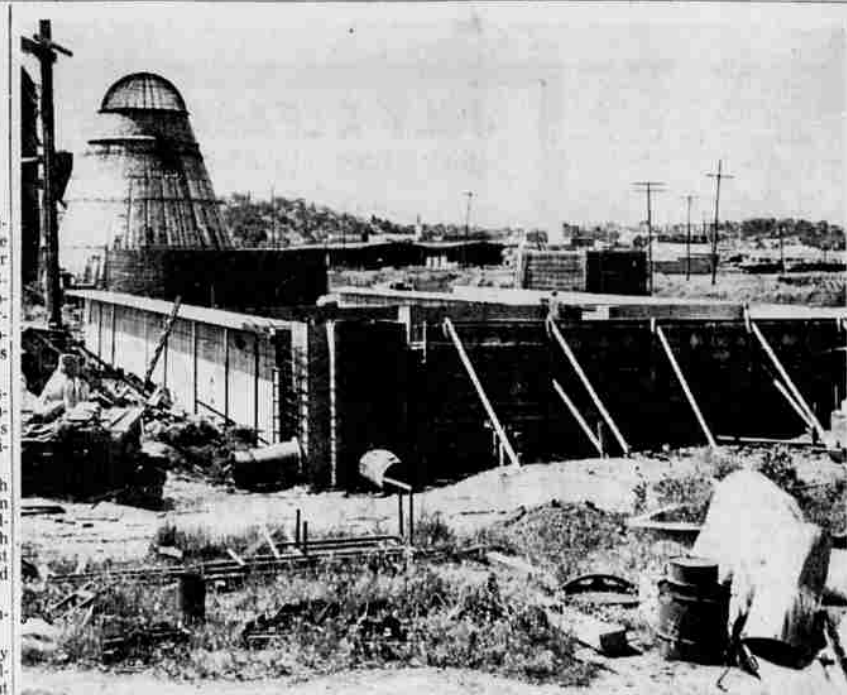

There has been a growing realization in Canada about the United States and its policies—a feeling that the neighbor to the south ignores Canadian problems or treats them as a casual, off-hand matter.

There have been some rumblings in the United States that Canada is shirking its providing support for Western defense.

Many Canadians, for their part, complain that the United States is too much inclined to say "No" to the Soviet Union and to decline to negotiate with the Soviets.

Mainly, Canada is concerned about economic issues. It worries a bit about the trade deficit with the United States, heavy American investment dominating numerous Canadian industries, import limits on Canadian oil, U.S. sales of wheat abroad, the American boycott on trade with Red China, and the threat of higher tariffs in time and lead.

In the United States, the North West is disturbed over a possibility of Canadian diversion of Columbia River water.

CONSIDERABLE PROGRESS was being shown in this picture of construction of the new primary sewage treatment plant. The plant is being built by the H. G. Carl Construction Company of Salem at a cost of $238,386.29 on a site on the shore of Lake Bosworth midway between Klamath Avenue and the Great Northern Railroad tracks. They were awarded the bid by the city council on January 13. No date for completion has yet been set, but indications are that it will be finished by early fall. The L. F. Henshaw Company of Eugene was awarded the bid last night to build the secondary treatment plant which will be adjacent to this plant. The Henshaw bid was in the amount of $136,413. Completion of these two plants will give the city of Klamath Falls a complete conventional sewage treatment plant.

DeGaulle Aide Given Post By General

PARIS (AP)—Premier de Gaulle made a $100 million payment to the French colonialists in Algeria today, appointing Jacques Soustelle to his Cabinet as information minister.

Soustelle was the political brains behind the Algerian colonialists' May 13 revolt against the Paris government which brought De Gaulle to power. His omission from the Cabinet had been a sore spot with the French Algerians.

The colonialists still probably will not be entirely satisfied. They want Soustelle named resident minister for Algeria, figuring they could count on him to preserve their dominance of the government in Algeria and to block any compromise with the Moslems.

So far De Gaulle has been his own minister for the North African territory, using Gen. Raoul Salan—the military commander in chief in Algeria—as his man on the spot.

In the Cabinet, Soustelle succeeds Andre Orlaux, the brilliant writer and art expert who had taken the job only as a fill-in. Malraux remains in the Cabinet in charge of cultural affairs.

De Gaulle also named Bernard Chenet minister of Health and Andre Bouillotte minister attached to the Premier's office.

A former governor general of Algeria and leader of the rightists in the National Assembly, the heavy-set, hair-brained Soustelle was the chief instrument in bringing down several governments he opposed or considered too much to the North African Ministers.

His appointment as information minister renews a close association with the Gaullist extending back to World War II. Soustelle was the general's chief of intelligence, then his information minister and postwar minister for the forces in the National Assembly, but after De Gaulle departed his office and withdrew from active politics, there were rumors the general had coveted toward Soustelle.

Air Force Says Reds Shot Down U.S. Transport

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. Air Force said Tuesday two Russian jet fighters shot down an American transport plane which crashed landed in Soviet Armenia June 27.

Five of the nine airmen parachuted. Four others rode the burning plane to the crash landing.

The Air Force said the Red fighters made another firing attack on the crippled transport as it was heading in for its landing. The nine men were released by Russian authorities to American officials Monday, returning to their home station at Tehran.

The Russian version of the incident was that the USAF transport was compelled to land after it had flown into Russian territory and that the plane burned on the ground.

Tuesday's Air Force announcement said the American fliers reported they were intercepted by the MIGs and set aside at 15,000 feet altitude.

A combination of extensive thunderstorms, instrument flight conditions and unreported high winds had caused market-wide trading of the Soviet frontier, the statement said, thus concealing the plane had strayed into Russian territory.

Shacklette denied any connection with the reported removal of Goldfine papers.

Goldfine himself is testifying voluntarily, but there has been a long subpoena battle over his records. And the committee could of course put Goldfine under subpoena at any time.

B. Goldfine Recalled By House Group

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Harris subcommittee granted Bernard Goldfine a one-day postponement in testimony Tuesday but warned, "We are going to expect cooperation."

Rep. Orin Harris (D-Ark), chairman of the subcommittee investigating the gift-giving Goldfine's relations with federal officials, gave this reply to a request from Goldfine's attorneys for a postponement.

Ally Roger Robb said his Boston millionaire client came to Washington Sunday to prepare to answer committee interrogatories. Robb said Goldfine's state of physical and mental exhaustion after a chain of spectacular events Monday.

Robb told the subcommittee at 10 a.m.—when Goldfine himself was supposed to have returned to the witness stand—that the discovery of a hidden microphone near a hotel suite occupied by Goldfine's aides and theft of some of Goldfine's papers Monday had left Goldfine with little sleep and given him no time to bone up on committee questioning.

"He has every expectation that he will be able to appear before the committee tomorrow and answer these questions," Robb said.

In the aftermath of the microphone incident, the committee hired its chief investigator, Baron I. Shacklette, who had a good electronic recording equipment in a room next door to the Goldfine aides.

Shacklette denied any connection with the reported removal of Goldfine papers.

Goldfine himself is testifying voluntarily, but there has been a long subpoena battle over his records. And the committee could of course put Goldfine under subpoena at any time.

Harris said "every one of the top (top level) members of the committee should have." And he said he had no doubt the test Goldfine has given in his propaganda is the usual.

Senate Finance Committee Ponders Chief's Trade Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—A three-to-one vote in the Senate Finance Committee today to postpone the chief executive's trade bill.

Chairman Harry S. Byrd (D-Va.) said he hoped the group could finish work on the measure and report it to the Senate floor by Friday. A floor battle is considered certain.

The key questions to be decided in committee appear to be:

- 1. Whether to grant the full five-year extension of the 24-year-old Trade Agreements Act asked by Eisenhower.
- 2. Whether to cut down the President's powers to reject Tariff Commission recommendations for quotas or higher rates in escape clause cases under the act.

Earlier in the 1958 session, many senators said they expected no more than a three-year extension would be voted by their branch.

But supporters of the full Eisenhower program say they have a chance to hold the full five-year

Timber Sale Bill Okayed By Committee

WASHINGTON (AP)—A revised bill providing procedures for the sale of the rich Klamath Indian timber stand gained approval of the House Indian Affairs subcommittee Tuesday.

Major amendments to the Senate-passed bill would postpone any sale until July 1, 1959, require a review appraisal of land bought by the federal government and delete specific reference to a requirement for sustained yield management of the stand.

The purpose of the sale is to provide funds with which to pay off members of the Oregon tribe who plan to withdraw from it with the end of federal supervision over its activities. Estimates place the number of probable tribal withdrawals at 77 per cent of its membership.

Under the bill, that portion of the timber stand—estimated to have an overall worth in excess of 120 million dollars—which would be sold would be offered first to private industry. That which remained unsold, up to a maximum of 90 million dollars, then would be bought by the federal government for inclusion in the national forests.

In lieu of requiring that private purchasers guarantee sustained yield management, as proposed in the Senate bill, the House subcommittee would require such purchasers to agree to manage the lands "as far as practicable so as to furnish a continuous supply of timber" in accordance with plans to be submitted to the secretary of the interior at the time of purchase.

The subcommittee Monday adopted an amendment to require a review of the timber appraisal by three qualified appraisers, with start of timber sales postponed until next July 1.

Rackets Men Probe Murder

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate rackets probes heard testimony Tuesday that the old Capone mob has taken over "immovable" Chicago labor unions, but that only failure and murder resulted in a racketeer attempt to revive it on Tuesday.

The joint study came to testimony from Lt. George Butler of the Dallas, Tex., police and Virgil W. Peterson, operating director of the Chicago Crime Commission.

Peterson told of "a feeling of helplessness" by rank and file union members in racketeer-dominated unions.

The testimony kicked off a new set of hearings in which the special Senate committee is investigating Chicago's racketeer-dominated labor unions, and alleged crooked labor union dealings.

Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark) lined up big-time gangsters, the positions of some plain Chicago dining spots, and labor union officials as major witnesses.

With this new set of hearings the committee seeks to portray in detail what it charged in last week's preliminary hearings—that a highly organized criminal syndicate under direction of the Mafia Black Hand mob is gaining dangerous power over legitimate industries and labor unions from coast to coast.

There will be testimony about the still unsolved 1957 slaying of Nick the John, a Chicago racketeer who had moved into Dallas and San Francisco, allegedly financed by loans from "the syndicate."

The John's body was found in the trunk of his car, parked in a San Francisco residential area. He had been garroted with wire, allegedly by men he had tried to pay back his loans.

Bomb Scare Forces Airliner To Land

DENVER (AP)—A big airliner with 25 persons aboard made an unscheduled landing here yesterday after an anonymous caller told police in Chicago that a bomb had been planted aboard.

United Air Lines said a thorough search of the Chicago-to-Portland flight turned up nothing unusual. A UAL spokesman termed the bomb call a hoax. The plane continued on after a 2 1/2-hour delay

Gil McDougald's Single Gives American 4-3 Nod

BALTIMORE (AP)—The American League All-Stars, rallying from an early deficit, defeated the National Leaguers 4-3 in the 25th All-Star game Tuesday. Pinch-hitter Gil McDougald of the New York Yankees thrilled 48,829 spectators in Memorial Stadium by driving home the deciding run with a sixth inning single.
