GRAINS

CHICAGO (AP) — Prices of wheat futures ran contrary to expectations of many dealers on the Board of Trade Monday with gains at times of a cent a bushel or more. The advance was ascribed to a moderate flour mill demand and reports of weekend rains had interfered with harvest of the winter crop in Kansas. Settlement of the wheat handlers strike against Kansas City elevators also was viewed as bullish. New Picnic Ground Opens In Ceremony

CHILOQUIN — Approximately 150 people attended the dedication of the Ground Observer Corps picnic and camp grounds 19 miles north of Chiloloquin June 22. M. Sgt. Robert Long, Kingsley Field, made the dedicatory speech. Honored guests included Mrs. Empress Berrien, who gave the site to the youth group, Mrs. Bernard Schiff and children of Klamath Falls, and several Air Force men. A potluck picnic and swim completed the activities. The GOC gave a fried chicken banquet for fathers of the members June 13 and talks were given by Reno Minato, Klamath Agency; M. Sgt. R. Long and M. Sgt. Asiala, both of Kingsley Field; Fred Markward and Chester Jack. Mrs. George Lippincott, adviser of the corps, presented wings to 25 of the members. The event was held in the basement of Mt. Carmel Catholic Church, where the elaborate decorations were in red, white and blue. On June 14 the group gave a dance which was dedicated to the fathers. Proceeds from both that and a food booth at the 29th Annual Archery Meet June 29 were used to help in the purchase of uniforms, which the group wore for the first time in the Fourth of July parade, when they marched and also had a float. They had marched in the children's parade, but in different outfits.

Big Crowds Attend Rodeo

Record-breaking crowds were the rule at the July 4-5-6 Klamath Basin Celebration Rodeo, and Sunday's final event — the Junior Rodeo — was no exception. A throng estimated at 3,000 was at the fairgrounds to see the youngsters, 8 to 18, put on a show that was second to none for speed, thrills and skill. Two hundred fifty boys and girls were entered in the events, which included many that their elders had competed in the two previous days, using the same stock. High point junior, and all around cowboy of the day was Allen Foreman, 12, Sprague River, who took first place in the cutting horse contest and also in the steer riding for contestants 8 to 12. Councilmen Posts Open

Politics crept into the regular Monday night meeting of the city council when City Attorney Henry Perkins reported that applicants for the councilmen posts to be voted on in November must file prior to August 20. Two wards will elect councilmen in November. Currently, Ladd Hoyt, 701 Roseway Drive, serves as councilman for Ward 5. Hoyt has not indicated whether or not he will run for reelection. The other is Ward 3 James Barnes, 111 Sheldon, is current councilman from this ward. He also has not indicated whether or not he will run for reelection. Police Judge Frank Blackmer pointed out that there are two ways that applicants may file for councilman. They can secure signatures equivalent to 10 per cent of the vote cast for mayor by that ward in the last election, or file by paying the $10 filing fee. On signatures, applicants from Ward 3 would need approximately 194 signatures, and from Ward 5 135 signatures. Perkins also pointed out that applicants for the councilman posts could file at any time, but that August 20 would be the deadline. He also informed the council that any measures to be placed on the November ballot would have to be processed by the council not later than the end of July in order to properly prepare them for the ballot. Indications are that measures to be on the ballot will probably include a request for an additional one mill levy for each of the Park and the Recreation department.

Sewer Plant Pact Given Eugene Firm By Council

Local construction received another boost Monday night when the city council awarded the L. F. Henshaw Company of Eugene the contract to build a secondary sewage treatment plant. Henshaw's low bid of $138,413 was considerably below the estimated construction figure of John Cunningham, Portland, consulting engineer. The primary treatment plant is now being built by the H. G. Carl Construction Company at a cost of $238,386.29. Completion of the secondary plant will give the city of Klamath Falls a complete conventional treatment plant without the necessity of resorting to the use of oxidation ponds. The Carl Construction Company failed by about $38,000, however, to meet the bid of the Henshaw Company for construction of the secondary plant. The council also opened bids on the purchase of tires and tubes for the city's needs during the coming year, but deferred action on them until they had been studied by the Finance Committee. Four local firms submitted bids. They were Schulze Tire Company, Balsiger Motors, Firestone Stores and Farmer's Y Implement and Tire Shop. A very favorable local tax collection picture was presented by city treasurer, Mrs. Leola Holbronn. She reported that during the fiscal year just ended taxes collected amounted to $462,465 which was approximately 97 plus per cent. This compared with only 91.36 per cent in taxes collected last year. City residents who have trees that hang over sidewalks and streets were sharply reminded last night by the council that the ordinance exists governing the pruning of these trees. The ordinance requires that there be at least a seven foot clearance beneath trees that overhang sidewalks. The Police Department was instructed to note any areas where there are violations of this ordinance, and to instruct such property owners to prune their trees immediately. Portions of Division and Mitchell streets were among others mentioned where violations currently exist. Residents of the West Main area were present at the council session to clarify action regarding a wooden walk in their area which had been declared unsafe by the building inspector and which had been partially torn down. After discussion, the four property owners of the area present were asked whether they wanted the street rocked and oiled or left as it is. The city had conditionally agreed that it would share 50 per cent of the rocking and oiling costs since it was partially involved. However, the property owners declined to absorb their share of the rocking costs and the project was left as is. William Ryan, 1521 Avalon, appeared to request elimination of a drainage ditch in front of his residence. A new sewer line has just been completed into this area by the city. Assistant City Engineer Cliff Sanders stated that he would investigate the possibility of re-routing the drainage in that area, but that before the ditch could be filled in, drainage tile would probably have to be installed. He promised a report for the next council session on the request. Also appearing before the council were Don Sloan who requested clarification on a property lien, and W. E. Anderson, manager of the Grayhound Post House who reported his company was owner of a music machine for which he has requested license. A letter was received from a representative of Alcoholic Anonymous asking free parking privileges for those attending the annual state convention which is to be held in Klamath Falls on August 30 and 31. It stated that approximately 400 to 600 delegates are expected. It Doesn't Pay To Run From Law, Man Finds A young Lakeview man has learned it doesn't pay to run away from the cops. Frank J. Estes, 22, who twice escaped officers on the same day, was sentenced to six months in the county jail yesterday by Judge D. E. Van Vactor. Estes' escapade with the law began on June 25 when he was stopped for a routine traffic check at Seventh and Pine streets. Officers found he didn't have a driver's license and cited him for same, while at the same time instructing him to drive to the police station. However, Estes didn't follow the order. Instead he shot away in his car up Seventh and managed to elude police momentarily. A police broadcast of his license number brought a speedy arrest about a half hour later at Estes' girl friend's house on Siskiyou Street. Placed in a squad car bound for headquarters, Estes jumped out at Seventh and Klamath Avenue. This time he was free some 24 hours before being arrested again the next evening in an auto at Worden and Oregon Avenue. Local police charged him with reckless driving and not having a driver's license for which he served a total of 10 days in jail. When he was due for release, a county warrant charging him with escape was served on him and he accepted for the six months sentence yesterday.

Redding Firm Submits Low Bid

ALTURAS — Morgan Construction Company, Redding, submitted the low bid of $52,550.50 to the California Division of Highways for the applying of a seal coat to a net length of 26.3 miles of paving in Shasta, Lassen and Modoc counties on U.S. Route 299. Three other bids were received by the highway department. H. S. Miles, district engineer in Redding, stated that the proposed sealing operations involve 18.4 miles of paving between Fall River Mills and the Nubieber over-look, also the 8.9-mile section between Tom's Creek and Cedarville. Miles said this seal coat application was necessary to prevent damage to the roadbed by moisture penetration of the paving and also to provide a surface that will be less slippery in wet or frosty weather. One-way traffic control will be required through the construction work. However, every effort will be made to minimize traffic delays on this project which is expected to be completed early in September.
