Giants Needed Layoff

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The San Francisco Giants' fast start led Manager Bill Rigney to make an early prediction: "If we're up there at All-Star time, look out!"

Well, his young team is up there—a mere one-half game out of first place as it starts the second half season.

The Giants, a team nobody figured was going anywhere, play their 78th game tonight against Cincinnati. They'll be going after victory No. 42. Cincinnati, in this first of a two-game set, will be aiming to hand out defeat No. 37.

Rigney sends lefty Mike McCormick, a 19-year-old with a 5-1 record, against a Redlegs squad only 3½ games behind first place Milwaukee but in sixth place. Bob Purkey, 8-4, is Manager Birdie Tebbetts' choice to oppose McCormick.

McCormick beat Cincinnati 4-2 on May 29 but lasted only 5 2-3 innings June 20 when the Giants lost to the Redlegs 8-2. He was not charged with the loss then but he did give up seven hits and two runs.

Purkey beat San Francisco with a six-hitter 3-0 June 9. That was his only appearance against the Giants.

The two teams are even at 5 victories each this season.

The hometowners, with the exception of Willie Mays, southpaw Johnny Antonelli and catcher Bob Schmidt, had a three-day rest thanks to the All Star Game.

Rigney claims the layoff is just what his gang needed.

"The kids are tired," he said. "The grind has been terrific."

He declared his two South American pitchers, Ruben Gomez and Ramon Montant, needed the rest the most. Gomez had made only two starts since June 17. Montant only one since June 14.

"They've pitched all year—last year in this league and the winter in the Winter League," Rigney said. "They've lost their sharpness and maybe the All Star break will revive them."

With but half the season history, the Giants already have proved themselves at the box office.

Last year the total at the Polo Grounds in New York was 653,923 paid admissions.

The Giants should hit that figure in Seals Stadium, capacity 23,400, before this week is out.

Bob's Union Wins, J-M, P-M Standoff

While Bob's Union Service was busy swamping Hal's Sport Shop 2-2 on Diamond 1 at Wright Field Wednesday night, Johns-Manville and Park-Moyina battled back and forth for most of seven innings before the game was called on account of darkness, on Diamond 2. The J-M-Park test reverted back to the end of the sixth and an 8-8 tie, thus creating another of the "deep freeze" Little League game situations.

Park-Moyina and Johns-Manville will pick up where they left off; the same score, lineup, etc., when they finish the game as a prelude to their next regularly scheduled meeting. The situation marks the second time the J-M nine has figured in an unfinished game.

The Bob's-Hal's hassle saw the Sport Shop nine commit nine errors in two innings, the third and fourth, to count 14 runs although they managed to collect only 10 hits over the six inning distance.

Charged with the loss for Hal's was Tim Bailey who worked four innings and gave up seven hits which included a double and two triples by Kim Coon. He was relieved by Mike Kitching who allowed only three safeties but issued innumerable free passes. Bob's scored seven times in the fifth canto, primarily on walks.

The winner, Macky Cunningham, allowed two hits, walked only three men and struckout 12. Both hits came in the fourth frame; a single followed by a triple by Kitching was responsible for the Hal's scores.

The only other extra base blow of the test was a triple by Bob's Bob Nealy.

In the J-M, Park game, pitchers Eddie Weaver of Johns-Manville and Ronnie Yuncck of P-M matched efforts for the full six innings with Weaver getting the best of it as he allowed only three hits. Yuncck gave up seven blows but walked fewer batters. Both were replaced in the top of the seventh, according to league rules, but their relievers' efforts did not count since the inning was unfinished.

The leading hitters of the game were Larry Binney and Eddie Weaver, both of J-M, who boosted a triple and a double respectively in the Johns-Manville six-run, first inning.

Duane Singleton, Jimmy Roufs, and John Creme collected the hits for P-M, all singles.

Park-Moyina counted three runs in the last of the third on no hits, three J-M bobbles, a pair of walks and an infield out to tie up the affair after entering the inning down, 8-5.

EAGLES SIGN TWO PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — The Philadelphia Eagles today announced the receipt of signed contracts from fullback-end Dick Bielski and defensive end Tom Scott. Bielski will be starting his fourth season in the National Football League, and Scott his sixth.

Time Out

"I'm not impatient, lady, but if we stay out much longer, I think I ought to notify my draft board!"

Aldo (Buff) Donelli is Columbia University's 10th football coach in 67 seasons.
