

A LOVELY JUNE BRIDE in imported embroidered organdy was Linda Jean Pope, daughter of well-known Fort Klamath ranchers, Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Pope. Her marriage to John David Eskildsen in Portland All Saints' Episcopal Church is of wide interest to friends of the Klamath Basin pioneer family. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Niels Eskildsen, Portland. The Rev. Louis B. Keiter read the 8 p.m. nuptial service in the presence of approximately 100 guests. —All Photos by Krohn and Luzader, Portland

LINDA AND JOHN leave the church proper for the social room at All Saints' where the wedding guests were received.

The INITIAL SLICE of the white and pastel yellow wedding cake, topped with fresh flowers, is cut by the new Mr. and Mrs. Eskildsen.

THE BRIDEGROOM is almost hidden in a shower of rice as he and his bride leave the reception at All Saints' Episcopal Church.

LINDA'S HAND RESTS LIGHTLY on the arm of her father to allow room for the sweeping hemline of her very full hooped skirt, as he escorts her down the aisle.

Foster Golden Wedding Anniversary

A HOST OF FRIENDS were at the Klamath Yacht Club on Sunday, June 29, to congratulate Mr. and Mrs. Elon Owen Foster on their 50th wedded year.

The celebrants, who live at 629 Jefferson, were actually married on June 28, when Elon Foster claimed Isabel McElroy as his bride in Kirby, Wyoming. They have been residents of Klamath Falls since 1925.

Mr. and Mrs. Foster have two daughters, Mrs. Jay Hazzard of Sacramento and Mrs. Elbert Stiles, 525 Mesa of this city. The daughters and their husbands were hosts for the 1 to 5 afternoon open house.
