Basin Roundup To Secure Top Professional Cowboys

Top name professional cowboys are expected to file their entries shortly for the Klamath Basin Roundup scheduled for a three-day performance at the Klamath County Fairgrounds on July 25, 26 and 27.

The Klamath Basin Roundup is the first of a golden rodeo triangle that includes the Emerald Empire Roundup at Eugene on August 1, 2, 3, and the Crooked River Roundup at Prineville slated for August 8, 9, 10.

When the three rodeos are combined into a triangular event, they produce a combined purse of $19,050, making them among the top attractions in rodeo circles.

Purse of the Klamath Basin Roundup amounts to $5,600, the Eugene event features an $8,000 purse, and Prineville's purse amounts to $5,450.

The total purse will amount to $19,050 plus entry fees from participants.

Darlene Blackman, local secretary, pointed out that local cowboys will be permitted to work the Klamath Falls show without a permit. Cowboys can obtain a permit from the Rodeo Cowboys Association for about $5 which will enable them to participate in RCA sponsored shows until they make the home of Mrs. Hodges' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Stewart, in Bonanza. The Hodges' also visited her brother, Johnnie Stewart, and family in Bonanza.

From Sacramento — Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Maxwell, Sacramento, are visiting with Lawrence's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Maxwell, and his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Puddy, all of Bonanza.

From Virginia — Mr. and Mrs. Richard Harper, Lynchburg, Virginia, are guests at the home of Mrs. Harper's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leland Harris in Langell Valley. They are also visiting her grandmother, Mrs. Mae Gale, and other relatives in the valley. Mrs. Harris has been in Hillside Hospital recovering from a heart attack.

Christensen Brothers will furnish the stock for all three shows. Their stock includes War Paint, the top bucking horse of the year.

The $500 purse for overall top-cowboy was made up of $125 put up by Henry Christensen and each of the three shows.

The Basin Roundup will feature two night performances beginning at 7:30 on Friday, July 25, and Saturday, July 26. The Sunday performance will be an afternoon show starting at 1:30.

Friday night, July 25, has been designated as family night. On this night all reserved seats will be changed to general admission. All children will be admitted free, if accompanied by one adult.

Indications are, according to Darlene Blackman, that interest in this year's show will surpass other years in both the quality of participants and the number of spectators. The newly organized golden triangle arrangement, she stated, will tend to draw top professional cowboys to these shows.

Sack Back To Hiding Spuds Instead Of Feminine Form

ROME (AP)—The sack is on its way back to covering potatoes instead of the feminine form.

That's the best guess on the eve of next week's Italian fashion designer's autumn showings here. Not all the experts will commit themselves. But those who will say womanly curves are bound to fight their way out of the bag.

The Italian high fashion houses are determined to lead the way.

Nothing so extreme as form-fitting tunics or laced shepherdess bodices is expected.

But the betting is that the human shape will emerge from this year's drapes and folds with greater clarity than last year.

The beltless, sliding waistline might still be with us. The bosom may rise and hemlines waver, but chances are that most lamp-shade shapes will be modified to approximate the body lines.

Presentations of Italian high fashion for autumn get underway Thursday at such houses of female finery as Eleonora Garnett, Fontana, Gattinoni, Mongolini-Gugenaheim, Giovanelli and Gregoriana. Accessories, children's and men's styles also will be shown.

After four days in Rome, the fashion scene shifts to Florence where G. B. Giorgini, the founding father of Italy's Alta Moda, has once again centralized activity.

From July 21 to 25, Carosa, Capucci, Simonetta, Schubert and other members of the Florence faction of Italy's divided fashion industry will present their collections to an assemblage of buyers, reporters and retinue who later will continue to Paris.

The designers are now in the final phases of frantic preparation.

Princess Giovanna Carraciola (Carosa), couturiere of ambassadors' wives and an original member of the Florence group, is enscathed in soft wools and brilliant colors.

"We Italians," the princess says, "are improvisors rather than organizers. We prefer to make miracles! Above all we are individualists and it is almost impossible to get us all to agree."

But one common protest seems to unite all the designers. It's that the so-called sack has been overdone and used to cover an assortment of ills.

It won't be entirely abandoned, but it will have some drastic changes.
