

'They Fly For God' Story To Be Related Tomorrow

Mrs. Mamie Brown, home missionary leader for the Seventh Day Adventist Church will tell the story, "They Fly For God," during the missionary period, Sabbath Day service, Saturday, July 19.

A minister, several doctors, and a hospital administrator are the heroes of a story of modern missionary adventures that has brought physical and spiritual blessing to thousands of villagers in remote areas of northern Mexico.

REV. C. O. TREMAIN has just returned from Portland, where he attended the annual Oregon Conference of the Free Methodist Church. The conference appointed the Rev. Tremain as pastor of the Klamath Falls Free Methodist Church for the coming conference year of 1958-59.

Dr. David Zinke, who served for four years at the hospital and sanitarium in that town; G. H. Fleener, hospital administrator; Dr. D. B. Miller, and numerous nurses. Dr. Zinke has logged 81,000 air miles in carrying on the work.

Airstrips are inadequate to handle even small planes. Winds are treacherous in the canyons. The plane personnel fly into almost inaccessible outpost villages to bring in the ill and wounded to the hospital. In the past decade 4,200 operations have been performed and more than 142,000 outpatients treated in this hospital operated by the Seventh Day Adventist churches.

Flying hazards in the mountainous country are terrific. Elder Baxter's first air-ambulance service work was begun on inspiration and continued he says, "on a thread and a prayer." He and his fellow flying missionaries have flown under conditions that others would never attempt. There are few airstrips in the remote back country, but natives have been so eager for help that seemingly insurmountable obstacles have been overcome. Literally mountains have been moved by hand labor to construct a landing strip. But without a plane it takes days to trek into the interior.

Planes have been wrecked and money raised to buy others. During Dr. Zinke's period of service at Montemorelos, 15 mountain airstrips were completed.

The medical service also proved itself "a true right arm of the message of faith," for many young people from Montemorelos were airlifted into the villages to hold Bible studies and meetings with interested persons. Dr. Zinke flew scores of hours to air-ferry these eager messengers of the gospel into these far away sections of Mexico.

One nearly inaccessible village, Lampacinos, now has an adobe Seventh Day Adventist Church because of the interest of the flying missionaries.

Cleric Lists School Plans

MERRILL — The Rev. Lloyd Henderson, pastor of the Merrill Presbyterian Church, has announced that Vacation Church School will begin Monday, July 28, for a two weeks session. All children from 3 years old and up are invited to attend the Monday through Friday classes held 9 a.m. until 12 noon each day.

An opportunity to pre-register the children will be given before Sunday School on Sunday, July 27. Also on that date, during the regular morning worship service, there will be a dedication service for the staff of the vacation school.

Mrs. William Kurtz, director of the school, has asked that anyone who will be able to donate milk or cookies for the mid-morning snacks this year to please contact her.

In charge of the nursery department will be Shirley Haskins, Marge Newham, Margie Qualls and Shirley Moore. Assisting with the kindergarten children will be Donna Drago, Agnes Keck, Donna Conner and Janice Link.

Teachers for the primary department, which includes the first, second and third grades, are Mary Lou Swisher, Blanche Maxwell, Carol Merrillees and Sherry Keck.

Working in the junior department of fourth, fifth and sixth grades will be Mary Haskins, Rosemary Crawford and Dorothy Daneky.

Teaching the junior high department will be the Rev. Lloyd Henderson and Lois Lea Serence. The music department will be attended by Wilma Burleigh, Georgia Moore, Marge Stewart and Kathy Moore.

The school will end on Friday, August 8, with a program at 7:30 p.m. to which the parents and friends of the children are invited to attend.

School To House Sunday Services

Beginning July 27 the American Baptist Church will start Sunday evening services at the music room of the Altamont Junior High School at 7:30. The services will feature showings of the finest Christian films available for the next several months. On the Sunday evening of July 27, the 75-minute color film, "Souls in Conflict," produced by World Wide Pictures, which is the exclusive distributor of the Billy Graham films, will be shown.

The American Baptist Church in several weeks also is to start a young married couples Sunday School class. The programs will be centered about the Christian home and family. Such topics as the home and entertainment for children, the home and juvenile delinquency, and the home and civil responsibilities will be discussed and authorities on the respective topics will speak. Coffee and doughnuts and a nursery will be provided during this hour. For information call TU 2-4293.

CIVIL DEFENSE CALL
WASHINGTON, D.C. (AP)—It's a Christian duty to take an active role in civil defense, says the Rev. Dr. H. Conrad Hoyer, head of the National Lutheran Council's division of American missions. "Religion," he adds, "is of primary concern in event of disaster."
