

Greenview Church Is Scene Of Haas-Palmer Nuptial Vows

GREENVIEW—Floral arrangements of spring and pale pink roses decorated the altar of Greenview Methodist Church and lighted candles illuminated the lovely background for the wedding of Lynn Palmer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Palmer of Greenview, to Arvid Duane Haas, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Haas Sr., of Westwood, on Sunday, June 15.

The double-ring service was read by the Rev. Walter Hutching of Fort Jones in the presence of many relatives and friends.

Lynn, given in marriage by her father, wore a ballerina length gown of white Chantilly lace. The billowing skirt was gathered to a snug-fitted bodice, designed with a bateau neckline and bridal pointed sleeves. Her fingertip veil of illusion was held in place with a seed pearl Juliet cap, and her only jewelry was a pearl necklace. She carried a bouquet of stephanotis centered with a single white orchid.

Her maid of honor, Novella Corbett of Etna, wore a deep pink ballerina length gown, similar to the bride's with the exception of cap sleeves. She carried a nosegay of pink rosebuds.

Harlan Haas of Red Bluff was his brother's best man. Guests were seated by Harvey Palmer, a brother of the bride, and William Haas Jr., also brother of the bride. Candlelighters were Judy Palmer, sister of the bride.

Immediately following the ceremony, the wedding party gathered on the lawn of the Harvey Palmer residence in Greenview. Focal point of the refreshment table was the beautifully decorated three-tier wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom. After the initial slice was cut by the newlyweds, the cake was served by Mrs. Clifford Stephens of Etna, an aunt of the bride and Mrs. Sidney Fisher of Westwood, sister of the bridegroom, poured coffee. Presiding at the punch bowl was Mrs. Robert Affleck of Yreka, another aunt of the bride's. Registering the guests was Judy Palmer.

A sheer blue print afternoon frock with white accessories was chosen by Mrs. Palmer for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Haas, mother of the bridegroom, wore a sheer pink afternoon dress, with white accessories. Each mother wore a corsage of white carnations.

The bridal bouquet, thrown as the newlyweds left the church, was caught by Diane Munson of Callahan.

The young couple honeymooned in San Francisco and along the coast of Northern California. They stopped en route to visit with Mr. and Mrs. Chapman of Salyer, brother-in-law and sister of the bridegroom. The newlyweds are now at home in Etna. The bridegroom, a graduate of Westwood High School, is presently employed in construction work on the Etna High School.

The bride was graduated this last June from Etna High School. Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Beecher Harris of Redding; Mr. and Mrs. Eli Klotz and daughter Nancy of Chico; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Lackenmeyer of Eureka; Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Fisher of Susanville; Mr. and Mrs. Har-and Haas of Red Bluff; Peggy Kernohan and daughter, Ethel of Montague. From Yreka were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Affleck, Mrs. Ken Haas and sons, all of Westwood. The bridegroom's father, William Haas Sr., was unable to be present for his son's wedding.

Other out of town guests from Clatsop County included Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Palmer, Mr. and Mrs. van Tucker and daughter, Kaye, of Dunsuir; Keston Roper of McCloud; Mr. and Mrs. Clifford and daughter, Ethel of Montague. From Yreka were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Affleck, Mrs. Ken Haas and sons, all of Westwood. The bridegroom's father, William Haas Sr., was unable to be present for his son's wedding.

Joan Dayley-Gary Cunningham Nuptial Vows In Mt. Laki Church

BONANZA — Joan Dayley became the bride of Gary Cunningham in an evening wedding on Sunday, June 22, in Mt. Laki Community Church. The Rev. Andrew Jarvis officiated at the 8 o'clock double-ring candlelight service.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Dayley of Bonanza, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Cunningham, Lakeview Highway, Klamath Falls.

Lighted tapers and baskets of yellow and white gladioli decorated the church. Candelighters were the bride's cousin, Diane Schwaegler of Malta, Idaho, and Mrs. Ronald Worden of Klamath Falls. Both girls wore yellow brocade taffeta dresses with headpieces of yellow carnations.

Organist Susan Williams accompanied Charlene Finchum, vocal soloist. The bride, who was given in marriage by her parents wore a white gown with a ballerina skirt of ruffled net and capped sleeves and lace bodice. Her fingertip veil was of illusion net, and she carried a bouquet of yellow rosebuds on a white Bible that was given to her by her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Schwaegler, when she was 10 years old.

Verona Dayley, bridesmaid for her sister, wore yellow brocade taffeta and her bouquet was of yellow and white carnations.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Dayley wore a blue sheath with white accessories. The mother of the bridegroom wore a blue lace dress with matching accessories. Their corsages were of pink rosebuds.

Attending the bridegroom as best man was Lee Campbell, and ushers were Gerald Arrant and Lee Kester.

The reception was in the church parlors where the four-tiered wedding cake, baked and decorated by Mrs. Howard Schmidt, was served with coffee and punch. The cake was topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom. Yellow candles and yellow and white gladioli completed the bride's table. Mrs. Richard Fleming served the cake after the first slice was cut by the nuptial couple. Diane Schwaegler and Mrs. Ronald Worden served the punch and coffee. Mrs. Lee Campbell presided at the guest book and gift table.

After the reception the newlyweds left for a honeymoon trip to the Oregon Coast. They are now at home on the Cunningham ranch on the Lakeview Highway where the bridegroom is associated with his father in ranching.

For her wedding trip Joan wore a gray suit with white accessories and a corsage of yellow roses. Joan and Gary both attended Bonanza High School. She was graduated from Bonanza in 1956, and Gary was graduated from Henley the same year and from OTI in 1958.

Out of town guests at the wedding were the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Dayley, and Mrs. Ben Schwaegler all of Burley, Idaho; Diane Schwaegler of Malta, Idaho; and the bridegroom's sisters and their families, Mr. and Mrs. William Hayes of Redmond, and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Herringshaw of Oakridge.

Former Chiloquin Girl Weds In Central Valley

CHILOQUIN—A June bride was former Chiloquin resident, Judy Collins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Collins. The Collins family have been residents of Lakehead, California, for several years but have moved this past month to Likely, California.

Stanley H. Steele Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Steele Sr., of Pasadena, and Judy were married in a double-ring ceremony June 7 at noon in the Community Methodist Church in Central Valley. Her uncle, the Rev. Edmond T. Burton, St. Helens, Oregon, officiated.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a princess style white nylon organdy over taffeta ballerina length dress. Her bouquet was centered with a large purple orchid. The fingertip length veil was borrowed from a cousin.

Maid of honor for her sister was Mary Lee Collins who wore a blue nylon organdy frock with a full skirt and long sash. She carried yellow daisies and wore a headpiece of blue flowers and netting.

Adele Steele, the bridegroom's sister, was bridesmaid. She was dressed in yellow and carried blue daisies.

Best man was Walter Throop of Central Valley; usher was Donald Rendahl; and the bride's small cousin from Klamath Falls, Dale Barrett, was ringbearer. Her aunt, also from Klamath Falls, Mrs. Marvin Barrett, was pianist. She played the marches and accompanied vocal soloist, Kay Gibbons of Anderson, California.

Carmen Hill, Fort Klamath, assisted at the reception which was held in the church following the ceremony.

The young couple traveled south after the wedding and will make their home near Pasadena. He is employed by Western Electric in Los Angeles. Judy attended the Chiloquin schools for many years and was graduated from Shasta Union High School in Redding this spring.

Good posture can be relaxed. Many pull themselves up tightly with a resulting pompous or swayed-back look. Stand straight, but relax and lift your head so your gaze is level. Pull out the small of the back and tuck hips under. Relax knees slightly and hold hands gracefully at the side.

Foundation makeup will show up in wrinkles and blemishes if applied carelessly. When applying makeup always smooth the skin so these areas are properly filled. A soft brush may be used to whisk away excessive amounts. It also is good to brush powder from the hairline.

Summer heat may show up in woolsens if you aren't careful. Hang garments on metal or wood hangers, not plastic, at this time. Plastic may melt when the temperature soars and go into the fabric.

Scott-Yates Vows Said In Atwater Church Rites

McCLOUD — Bouquets of pastel shaded gladioli were the floral background for the June 22 wedding of Audrey Gwynne Yates, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gwynne V. Yates of Winton, and David W. Scott, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Scott of LaCrosse, Wisconsin. The Rev. Richard Benson of Atwater, California, performed the nuptial rites in the First Methodist Church at Atwater.

Tweed Takes To The Campus For Fall

The world of the college girl, bounded by campus and classroom, date time and parties, will be invaded this fall by the trapeze, the empire line, giant plaids and glowing autumn colors.

The trapeze silhouette looks most promising for college wear in well-cut suits with skirts nicely stiffened and lined. These will probably compete with the gray flannel or tweed suit cut with eased jacket and straight skirt.

For college girls tend to like the classic in clothes and the changes that come to the campus are slow ones, evolving through the seasons rather than overnight. For date wear and parties, teases and dinners, the empire line looks to be a natural for college life. It is essentially a youthful line, well-suited to a slender, willowy figure.

Knowing that no one is going to pry a college girl out of her skirts and sweaters, designers have given them exactly what they want in quantity. Skirts show lots of pleating, from accordion to the very wide, and cotton shirts are done up in stripes, four-band prints and plaids.

The jumper will lead a double life on the campus this fall since it can go to class over a blouse and out on dates on its own. It's done in velveteen and printed corduroy as well as in wool.

Whitfield of Oakland, California, a friend of the bridegroom, performed the best man duties. Willis and Miles Yates, brothers of the bride, seated the guests. The bride's mother chose a sheath dress of white lace over aqua taffeta with which she wore white orchids. The mother of the bridegroom chose a dress of pale green embroidered cotton worn with white accessories and an orchid corsage.

Pink rosebuds, pink candles and white milk glass on a white lace cloth formed the setting for the bride's cake at the reception in the Atwater Women's clubhouse.

Mrs. R. D. Burnett and Mrs. Melvin Blauw, aunts of the bride, served the cake after the first piece had been cut by the bride and bridegroom. Nancy Lynn Burnett, cousin of the bride, registered the guests.

The bride was graduated from the University of California School of Nursing and is employed as school nurse in McCloud. The bridegroom is a forestry major from the University of Idaho and is employed as assistant district ranger for the U.S. Forest Service in McCloud.

After a wedding trip to Yosemite National Park, the young couple is now at home in McCloud.
