

Man Bruised In Accident

Charles Miller, telephone repairman for the Citizens Utilities Company in Alturas, luckily received only bruises after being thrown through the windshield of his company truck Friday afternoon.

Miller said he was traveling north on a county road five miles north of Cedarville, and put on his brakes when the car ahead, driven by Mrs. Sweet of Cedarville, started to make a left turn. He believes his brakes locked on him, throwing his truck sideways and causing it to roll over two or three times.

Investigating officers of the highway patrol believe the truck hit the car driven by Mrs. Sweet after it had already rolled over once. Miller says he remembers the first roll, but nothing else until he awoke a few minutes later, lying on his back on the ground. It was theorized by officers that Miller was thrown through the windshield of his truck after the first roll.

Miller's company reports that he appears to be all right, except for cuts and bruises, and is up and about.

Mrs. Sweet was not injured in the accident and damage to her automobile was minor.

Goldfine Goes Home; New Adams Investigation Set

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bernard Goldfine left Washington Friday in the same manner in which he arrived — on a note of controversy.

And, as with his coming, it involved Presidential Aide Sherman Adams.

As the millionaire industrialist and his wife were taking off by plane for Boston, a reporter asked Mrs. Goldfine whether they had visited their old friends, the Adamses for dinner.

But at the White House, Press Secretary James Hagerly said there was some misunderstanding.

"Mr. Goldfine was not at Gov. Adams' home last (Thursday) night," said Hagerly.

Hagerly said Adams had stopped by Goldfine's hotel to tell him goodbye Friday morning. And he said Mrs. Goldfine had seen Mrs. Adams on several occasions during the Goldfine's stay in Washington for the congressional hearings.

Goldfine, on reaching Boston, was unavailable for comment by reporters seeking to clarify the conflicting statements.

Goldfine returned home after completing eight stormy days of testimony before a House commerce subcommittee seeking to determine whether Adams had pulled federal strings in behalf of the New England textile manufacturer.

Adams admitted he accepted gifts and favors from Goldfine but denied doing anything to influence federal agencies looking into Goldfine's business affairs. Goldfine also emphatically denied favored treatment.

Meanwhile, the House armed services investigations subcommittee announced it will begin hearings Monday on a second case involving alleged intervention by Adams in a government case against a business firm.

Chairman F. Edward Hebert (D-La.) said witnesses have been subpoenaed to give closed door testimony about a contract penalty settlement with the defunct Raylaine Worsted Co. of Manchester, N.H.

The firm was given a contract Dec. 17, 1946, to furnish 250,000 yards of serge to the Philadelphia Army quartermaster. Because of late deliveries the government assessed a $49,783 penalty against the firm.

After extensive negotiations, the penalty was reduced to $8,487 last year. Hebert's group wants to find out why.

The name of Adams has repeatedly popped up in the case and a former member of the Armed Forces Board of Contract Appeals, Roswell M. Austin, has said there were indications of White House pressure.

The White House has admitted Adams received queries about the case, but said he did no more than pass them on to the Army as a matter of routine.

FUNERAL SERVICES for Fred P. Ervin, who died July 17 in Hillside Hospital, will be held from Sacred Heart Church at 9:30 a.m. Monday, July 21. Final rites and interment will be in Mt. Calvary Cemetery. Recitation of the Holy Rosary will be Sunday, July 20, at 8 p.m. at Ward's Klamath Funeral Home.

Nixon Calls War Danger In Middle East 'Remote'

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Vice President Nixon said Saturday the possibility of a shooting war in the Middle East now appears "somewhat remote."

Nixon, arriving here by plane for a brief visit to the Aquatennial

Minneapolis Summer Festival, said an airport news conference that if there was to have been reaction to the U.S. troop movement into Lebanon it would have occurred at the time the Marines were going into that country.

The vice president said the chance of a shooting war was one of many factors weighed when this country decided to send troops to aid Lebanon's government in its current crisis.

"While some of the opposition to President Chamoun of Lebanon, and King Hussein of Jordan was fanatical nationalism, it also was instigated and fomented by the Soviet Union," Nixon said.

"Had it not been for the Soviet Union giving military aid to Nassar and Syria, there would not have been instantaneous coup in Iraq and the unsettled situations in Jordan and Lebanon."

He said the quick overthrow of Iraq's monarchy was a clear indication that outside forces had been at work.

Nixon said there is "a clear distinction" between American forces going into Lebanon and the British-French invasion of the Suez Canal zone. He said the Suez invasion violated the United Nations charter because it was a cause of aggression.

But now, he said, both the United States and Britain have been invited into Lebanon and Jordan, respectively. As of right now, Nixon said, the Marines will stay in Lebanon until some other stabilizing force has replaced them.

Nixon was grand marshal in a parade Saturday afternoon and after several other appearances, flew back to Washington last night.

Senate Holds Up Trade Bill Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate is delaying final voting on the administration's reciprocal trade bill until late Tuesday or Wednesday.

Advocates of the bill had hoped to pass it Friday night. But a compromise was worked out to lay aside the trade legislation to take up the defense reorganization measure, which passed 80-0. Under the compromise, the trade bill will be taken up again Tuesday under a limitation of debate arrangement.

UC, Stanford To Pool Facilities

BERKELEY (AP) — University of California regents Friday announced plans to expand UC's La Jolla campus to make it the nucleus of a new university branch in the San Diego area.

Regents also announced they were seeking new campus sites in the Central Valley area and in the region south of San Francisco to the Monterey Peninsula.

They also reported agreement with Stanford University for the two schools to pool their graduate school facilities.

Graduate students and professors in each university may take courses in the others under the plan.

The exchange program, altogether new in the West, is similar to that used by Harvard and Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

The regents said that while continuing undergraduate instruction on a "substantial scale," the Berkeley campus will place "primary emphasis" on graduate studies.

All former queens of the Klamath Basin Roundup are urged to get in touch with Roundup Headquarters in the Willard Hotel, phone TU 2-3991, immediately.

Darlene Blackman, Roundup secretary with headquarters at the Willard, is anxious to learn the present whereabouts of all the former queens, as her records are incomplete.

Man Charged With Embezzling Cattle

Roy G. Lambert, 49, originally accused on two counts of livestock stealing, has had those charges dropped and has been recharged with embezzling livestock, one count.

Appearing in district court Friday afternoon, he waived a preliminary hearing and was held for the grand jury which will investigate his case for possible indictment.

Lambert was first accused of stealing eight white-face heifers near Kirk, from rancher J. C. Miller for whom he had been foreman. The alleged thefts occurred on June 8 and June 29.

Lambert Thursday also waived preliminary hearing on these charges and had been bound over to the grand jury on livestock stealing charges.

The man is in county jail, in lieu of $5,000 bail.
