HAVERTOWN, Pa. (AP)—Dow Finsterwald, a thoughtful and articulate young golf champion, doesn't think he's a great golfer or even an unusually good one.

As a result, he doesn't let it get him down when he finishes second or even lower in a tournament. He's probably the most relaxed player on the pro circuit.

"It feels very strange to be first," he said after winning the 40th Professional Golfers Assn. championship with four superb rounds of 67-72-70-67—276 over the

Tennis Vets Show Youths How To Do It

CHICAGO (AP)—Two master tennis strategists gave their opponents a few lessons yesterday in winning the National Clay Court singles championships.

Mrs. Dorothy Head Knode, seeking an unprecedented third singles title to go with those she won in 1931 and 1933, administered the first lesson in the 48th annual tournament in suburban River Forest. Her pupil was Karl Fageros of Miami.

The 33-year-old Forest Hills, N.Y., veteran showed Miss Fageros how to overcome a hampering injury by varying one's game. Miss Fageros played her usual running defensive game, and the top-seeded star, nursing a pulled tendon in her playing arm, adopted similar tactics.

Mrs. Knode retreated to the baseline and offered soft, tantalizing lob shots to the golden panties girl, who either netted them or erred by setting up point-winning ground strokes. The younger player fired first, and Mrs. Knode won 6-3, 6-2.

Bernard (Butte) Bartzon, left-handed Dallas baseline specialist, gave the second lesson.

Bartzon, who won the singles title in 1934, picked up another by showing Sam Giammalva he should never change his style to that of his opponent when his opponent has been using the style successfully on clay courts for a couple decades.

The 23-year-old Houston slugger took the first set 6-3 by charging the net and overpowering Bartzon. Giammalva then began spending more and more time at the baseline. But he learned that few men in the nation can outolley Bartzon on clay.

Perfectly intermixing drop shots and sideline placements, the second-seeded Texan won the next three sets 7-5, 6-2, 6-2.

Giammalva teamed with Barry MacKay of Dayton, Ohio, top-seeded singles player who was beaten by Sammy in the quarter-finals, to whip Bartzon and Chicago's Grant Gordon for the doubles title 6-2, 6-4, 5-7, 3-6, 6-0.
