

IN WHITE LACE AND NET, the former Susan Lee Bretches, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Duane Konopasek, became the bride of Argle Lee Hobbs, in the presence of some 80 guests.—All Hobbs-Bretches Photos by Guderian

A "GOOD LUCK AND HAPPINESS" shower of rice falls on the new Mr. and Mrs. Hobbs, as they leave the reception for their wedding trip along the Northern California coast.

Susan Bretches Weds A. Hobbs in KF Church

Pink and white gladioli with dyed blue carnations carried out the color theme chosen by Susan Lee Bretches for her wedding on Saturday, July 5, at 2 p.m., when she and Argle Lee Hobbs exchanged nuptial vows before the flower-banked altar in Peace Memorial Presbyterian Church.

The Rev. Lloyd O. Henderson of Merrill Presbyterian Church read the candlelight service in the presence of some 80 relatives and friends.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Duane Konopasek, 703 Wocus Street, and her father gave her in marriage.

The bride's dress of white lace over net and tulle was designed with a fitted bodice, long pointed sleeves, a Sabrina neckline and a full ballerina length skirt.

Traditional trousseau items included a blue garter, an heirloom handkerchief belonging to Mrs. Henry Waldrip; and in Susan's slipper was a penny dated the year of her birth, 1940.

The bride's attendants wore "dotted Swiss" dresses of dacron, made with full ballerina length skirts—the maid of honor wore blue and her flowers were pink carnations.

The reception was in the church parlor immediately following the ceremony. Mrs. Harry Martin cut the cake; Mrs. Robert Konopasek presided at the coffee urn; and

Jerry Warrington Is Bride Of Wayne Kohal

Basket bouquets of pink gladioli with white stock, potted palms and lighted tapers in twin floor candelabra decorated Klamath Falls Immanuel Baptist Church for the wedding of Jerry Jewell Warrington to Rolla Wayne Kohal Jr., on June 22. The Rev. Charles W. Myers officiated at the 2:30 p.m. ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dwight L. Warrington, 2522 Montellus Street, and her father gave her in marriage. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Kohal Sr., Empire, Oregon.

Maid of honor was Ruth McKinnie; and bridesmaids were Florence Warrington, the bride's sister, and Arlene Foltz. Candles for the ceremony were lighted by Shirley O'Brien and Ann Rexford; and flower girl was Shirley Phillips, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cleo Phillips, this city.

The bride's brother, James Welch, served as best man, and guests were seated by Joe Fitzwater and Gene Ross.

Dorothy McKinnie, organist, accompanied vocal soloists, James Phillips and Mrs. C. W. Myers. The reception was in the social room of the church, decorated for the occasion in the bride's wedding colors, pink and white.

The pink and white tiered cake was encircled at the base with pink and white peonies and topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom.

Assisting with the 150 guests were Mrs. James McDonald, Roseburg, aunt of the bride; Mrs. Richard Biss, Gold Hill; and Mrs. Robert Pyle, Klamath Falls, both cousins of the bride.

For her wedding, the bride wore a princess style white nylon lace over tulle dress, ballerina length. Her fingertip veil was of silk illusion, and her flowers were white carnations and pink roses carried on a white Bible. She wore pearl earrings borrowed from her grandmother.

The maid of honor wore a white sheath of brocade tulle with a pink satin cummerbund with matching accessories. Her bouquet was a cascade of pink daisies.

Bridesmaids were dressed exactly as the maid of honor—except that their dresses were pink with white and their bouquets were white daisies.

The bride's mother wore a beige sheath with white accessories and her corsage was a white gardenia. The bridegroom's mother wore a navy blue accented with pink dress topped with a blue duster, beige accessories and a white gardenia corsage.

The bride was graduated from KUHS this year, and the bridegroom attended schools in North Bend. They are living at 419 North Tenth Street, and the bridegroom is employed by a local lumber company.

Out of town guests were the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. R. W. Kohal Sr., Mr. and Mrs. James McDonald, Roseburg; Mr. and Mrs. George Biss, James and George Jr., Mr. and Mrs. John Weaver, Tri-City, Oregon; Mrs. Jennie Haynes, Sacramento; and Mrs. Richard Biss, Gold Hill.

Pint-sized cowboys will get a bang out of their own brands. Turn an old piece of wood about a foot square into a plaque for his bunkhouse. Paint his own brand or copy those of famous cattle ranches on the wood. When dry, shellac the plaque to preserve the design and also bring out the wood's beauty.

The liner, Britannia, which began service between England and Boston in 1840, carried one cow to provide fresh milk for the passengers.

Beauty Briefs

Parents are on the hook again. This time it is mother and neatness. It seems being a chip off the old block may mean that if mother isn't neat in her appearance and conscientious about grooming habits, daughter may follow her example. So, mother not only needs to seek mature beauty for herself but for the watchful children around her.

Despite warnings and news stories about small children poisoning themselves, the medicine chest is still open wide. A child's climbing may be cute, but it means he can reach into the chest and swallow a variety of harmful pills and liquids. Protect your children by locking all medicines in a chest.

Also Orville Pitts, USMC, Camp Pendleton, San Diego, whose presence at her wedding was planned, and came as a complete surprise to his cousin, Susan.

The couple honeymooned along the California coast and have been at home, 319 East Main, since their return.

Just after the newlyweds got home, a surprise shower was given for Susan by Stephanie Bonitto, Helen Waldrip and Joyce Baldwin.

Here's Easy Way To Keep Leftovers

All leftovers should be assembled in bowls with covers and other suitable refrigerator containers at the table. Then place them in the refrigerator at the same time. This procedure eliminates unnecessary steps and keeps the refrigerator at a more constant temperature.

ALTURAS

REBEKAH LODGE NO. 208

Northern Rebekah Lodge No. 208, Alturas, was hostess to a large number of members from Adin, Beiber and Cedarville on Friday night, July 18, when Mrs. Franze Speckert, president of the Rebekah Assembly of California, made her official visit to Lodge 208. She was accompanied from her home in Marysville by assembly officers, Mrs. Vivian Kara of Florin, chaplain; Mrs. Elise Knowles of Stockton, musician; and Mrs. Jane Jensen of Sacramento, member of the credentials committee.

Other appointive officers represented were Mrs. Alice Criss of Adin, area press chairman; Mrs. Elise Jurasevich, area chairman of organizing Rebekah lodges; and Mrs. Ora Demick, area chairman of Heart Sunday fund campaign, both of Alturas. Archie Close, deputy grand master of the northern district was also introduced.

Mrs. Meera Pratt was installed as color bearer by Mrs. Criss, assisted by her marshal, Mrs. Edna Kresge of Adin.

Mrs. Ginevra Wylie was elected to membership by initiation.

Mrs. Speckert spoke of her project for the year—the development of a youth camp in Tuolumne County to be located on 25 acres of land in the high Sierra. The land was recently donated to the Odd Fellow and Rebekah lodges in California. The coin collection for the evening was designated for this youth project.

Mrs. Peggy Jones, chairman of the refreshment committee, was assisted by Mrs. Elise Jurasevich, Mrs. Yvette Clark and Mrs. Mildred Smith.

Mrs. Speckert and a group of Pocatontos Theta Rho girls and Rebekahs went to Beiber on Saturday afternoon to attend a reception for Pat Bernard, president of the Theta Rho Assembly of California.

Take It Easy In The Hot Months

Both work and play should be taken in small doses during the summer to avoid fatigue. Homemakers should schedule their heavier work for the cooler early morning hours, and plan lighter tasks during the afternoon.

Boy Gets Red Data But No Translator

PEORIA, Ill. (UPI)—A Peoria high school junior received a letter from the Kremlin in reply to his request for information on Russian earth satellites.

The youth, James Allenspach, got a packet containing two pamphlets about Sputnik I and II, along with the letter.

The letter, signed by N. P. Slovkhopova, scientific collaborator of the Astronomical Council, U.S.S.R. Academy of Science, expressed regret that a booklet dealing with Sputnik III was not yet available.

Only one thing troubled James. The letter was in English, all right. But the pamphlets were in Russian.
